CREW SAVED FROM BURNING SCHOONER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Sandy Hook, N. J., Feb. 11.—Captain John Cressy, of the four-masted schooner John Bossert, and his crew of seven men, were rescued by coast guards off Atlantic Highlands early today from their ship which was on fire.

Three of the sailors were so badly burned they had to be taken to the hospital.

The seas were running so high that the coast guards could not use their regular lifeboats and the rescue was made with a motor boat of high power.

When last seen the John Bossert was being blown to open sea, her flames lighting up the waters for miles around. The schooner was from Georgetown, S. C., with a cargo of yellow pine.

TO TREAT ALL ARMED SHIPS AS WAR SHIPS

Germany Will No Longer Permit Merchant Ships That Are Armed to Have Opportunity to Destroy Submarines.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Feb. 11.—Germany is determined to stop the destruction of its submarines by hostile merchant ships equipped with guns and in reality serving as auxiliary cruisers. With this purpose it will, after March 1, claim the right to torpedo without notice all armed merchant vessels. The ships armed "for defense only" will be regarded as warships and neutral citizens taking passge on such vessels will do so at their own peril.

This action was decided on by the Admiralty after it had received definite evidence that the British government has instructed masters of such armed steamers to fire upon German U-boats.

Due notice of the policy to be adopted—a policy that is expected to reopen the submarine campaign with full strength—has been given to neutral diplomats resident in Berlin. Germany and Austria-Hungary are in full accord on the measures to be taken.

In the notice sent to foreign envoys the government says:

"The German government hereby gives neutral powers cognizance of this situation that they may warn their citizens against further entrusting their lives or property to armed merchant ships of the powers at war with Germany."

In explaining the stand that it has taken the Admiralty cites nineteen cases in which British merchant vessels attacked German submarines and quotes Winston Spencer Churchill, then First Lord of the British Admiralty, as stating in parliament on March 26, 1915.

"British merchantmen are to be armed in their own defense; the government will land the necessary guns, supply ammunition, and provide for the training of members of the ship's company to form gun crews."

To establish its claim that the armed merchant vessels are in reality auxiliary cruisers the admiralty says:

"The British ambassador at Washington on August 25, 1914, declared to the American secretary of state that 'the arming of British merchantmen is solely a precautionary measure, adopted for the purpose of defense against attack from hostile craft.' And in the same letter assurances were given that 'British merchant vessels will never be used for purposes of attack; that they are merely peaceful traders, armed only for defense; that they will never fire unless first fired upon and that they will never under any circumstances attack any vessel.'

"The British government therefore claimed that these armed merchantmen, because they were never to open fire, were different in their legal status from auxiliary cruisers. This, however, is incompatible with British prize court rules and the Order in Council of August 5, 1914, when it was expressly stated, about ships of other nations, that ships of war shall include an armed merchant ship.'

"In fact it was soon proved by the actual conduct of such armed merchantmen that they attacked without being attacked and that they flew foreign flags.

"These incidents are not casual, but simply the consequence of a secret order given by the British Admiralty, as proven by official documents found on board British armed merchantmen."

SECRETARY OF WAR GARRISON RESIGNS

Could Not Agree With the President on Questions Relating to Preparedness and Attitude Toward the Philippines.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Successors to Lindley M. Garrison, resigned secretary of war, and his assistant, Henry Breckenridge, will be chosen by President Wilson not later than next Tuesday. Up to the present time the president has paid little attention to individuals. Officials closest to the administration insisted today that the president was determined to handle the placing of the army on a proper footing for national defence personally. The new war secretary, they say, must therefore be in entire sympathy and accord with the president's plans.

While the attitude toward the Philippines and the Garrison continental army plan was the rock upon which the break between the president and Secretary Garrison finally came, it was accepted in official circles today that behind it all lay the advocacy of compulsory military service by the secretary and many of the higher officers of the army. The president took the position that no scheme of compulsory service should be advocated; that this was a country which had developed the voluntary system to the limit and that acceptance of compulsory service as a necessity was a violation of democratic principles.

Because of this belief officials were today inclined to believe that within the very near future "gag rules" would be applied to the army along the lines they have been applied to naval officers.

Naturally the question of Secretary Garrison's successor overshadowed all else today. Among the names under consideration are understood to be the following:

Representative Swager Sherley of Kentucky.

Major General George W. Goethals.

Henry N. Pindell, editor of the Peoria, Ill., Journal.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston.

Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon.

David I. Walsh, former governor of Massachusetts.

In addition, the suggestion has been made that Secretary Lane be transferred from the interior to the war department. The president expected to discuss the matter with the cabinet and also with some of his closest advisers today and tomorrow. He is very anxious to reach an agreement without delay because of the fear that is being expressed that the resignation of Secretary Garrison forecasts a material curtailment of the army defense plans.

Officials at the White House insisted today that the president had hoped to be able to select a successor to Garrison before information regarding the resignation had been made public. This was made impossible, they said, because the secretary, after writing his resignation, left immediately for New York. This gave the president no option, in his opinion, but to accept the resignation of Mr. Garrison and that of his assistant, Mr. Breckenridge, immediately.

Friends of the former secretary emphatically denied today that the question of politics entered into his resignation. They insisted that suggestions that he was desirous of becoming a candidate for governor of New Jersey were entirely wrong. On the contrary, they pointed out, when the proposition was made some months ago that Mr. Garrison be drafted by the New Jersey Democrats he said that he had had all of politics that he wanted and that when he retired from the cabinet he intended going back to the practice of law.

Not a single intimate of either the president or Secretary Garrison had any knowledge that the differences between them were serious. It was known that Garrison was disappointed over the failure of the president to support his continental army against everything else. But, inasmuch as the president had made it very clear that he was going to try to get a free and a full hearing for the Garrison plan it was expected that he would wait until after Congress acted before taking any steps himself. But friends of the resigned official pointed out today that he had spent weeks examining precedents as to the best methods of improving the army and that his recommendations to the president and to congress represented his earnest belief that this was the only plan that promised success. Garrison, his friends insisted, felt that he had fallen victim to the political element interested in the maintenance of the National Guard as the real "first line of reserve defense" and that there was no use in trying to combat this influence which controlled many votes.

The resignation of Garrison therefore was accepted as meaning that the National Guard is to retain its present position. The president has not abandoned the Continental Army plan but he has had it made plain to him that it hardly can expect to go through congress and it is believed that the final plan will be a Federalized National Guard which will make it responsive to the orders of the president at all times.

GREAT PROPHET VISITS RED MEN

Big Union Meeting of Ulster County Tribes Held Thursday Evening to Compare Notes and Plan Membership Campaign.

A big union meeting of the tribes of Red Men of Ulster county was held Thursday evening in the wigwam of Minnewaska Tribe, No. 130, Improved Order of Red Men, at 635 Broadway, with delegations from the various lodges throughout the county. This meeting was one in a state-wide campaign now being inaugurated to have some prominent Red Man address the various tribes throughout the state either through individual meetings to the separate tribes or through union meetings. The meeting Thursday evening was attended by a large delegation from Wawarsing Tribe of Kingston, the tribes of St. Remy, Saugerties, Ellenville and Esopus.

GREAT PROPHET CHENEY.

William D. Cheney, Great Prophet of the state of New York, and a well known Red Man throughout the country, was present and gave a very enthusiasti c talk. Owing to a date previously made Great Sachem Charles H. Smith was unable to be present, having been called to Auburn. Many of the members assembled had never heard the Great Sachem and were somewhat disappointed that he was unable to come. Great Prophet Cheney of Syracuse spoke of the campaign recently started to increase the membership of the organization and from the present outlook the report of the next six months will show an increase. Mr. Cheney urged the members of the several tribes present to go out and secure members; although quantity was not of the greatest importance as quality came first. He said he believed in advertising the order, one of the oldest and strictly American organization of the country.

After hearing the Great Prophet a number of the brothers were moved to express their views on the membership campaign, both agreeing and disagreeing with the first speaker. This is one of the purposes of the meetings, to get the views of the brothers and exchange ideas.

District Deputy Charles H. Edwards, in a brief talk, spoke of the work being done and to be done throughout his district during the next few months. During District Deputy Edwards's term Ulster county will probably see two new tribes instituted.

Past District Deputy Williams of Saugerties probably told the most interesting story of the evening. Some four years ago a tribe was instituted in Saugerties and has grown to be one of the most prosperous and active tribes in the state. The membership of the Saugerties tribe now numbers over 200 and every person in Saugerties has either become a Red Man or has ben asked to become one. Mr. Williams spoke on other matters of great interest to the members of the organization and with the adoption of some of his suggestions there is every reason to expect a large and healthy growth throughout the county.

Every visiting tribe was heard and several members of the local tribes spoke. Brother Guy Crosby, a visiting brother from a tribe in the state of Maine, who has been a resident of Kingston for some time and has been adopted into Minnewaska Tribe during his stay in the city, spoke of the work being done in his home state.

After the regular session of the lodge the members were given an opportunity to get together and become acquainted and it was late in the evening when the members departed for their own hunting grounds.

The union meeting, coming as it did on the eve of a great campaign now being inaugurated in Minnewaska Tribe to secure forty new members, instilled a great amount of enthusiasm in the local order and as soon as the required number is secured the members are to be given a pig roast such as was never before given in the city. Already several prospective Red Men have been secured by the members and it is hoped to have a sufficient number of candidates to initiate a class before the beginning of the month of March. At the close of the evening membership blanks were taken by the members and every member of the paleface nation is in danger of being captured and taught the mysteries of the Improved Order of Red Men.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the basketball team of the Girls' Athletic Association will play a game against the girls of Middletown. The visiting girls will no doubt make a brave effort to wipe out the defeat suffered by the boys of their school at the hands of the Kingston varsity recently. For this reason the girls need and request the earnest support of their fellow students, and the athletic enthusiasts of the city. The admission will be 15 cents.

Because of the fast approaching debate with Poughkeepsie there was a trial debate held Thursday afternoon between the members of the debating squad. The subject was of course the trust question as that is the question to be debated with the out of town school. The affirmative was taken by Stelle (leader,) Deyo and Van Winkle, while Greene (leader,) Winston and Hasbrouck developed the negative, the side they will have to defend on the 18th. No particulars can be given regarding the debate, as no one but the members of the club are to know these until after Kingston meets the boys in the Bridge City.

This evening the seniors give the big event of the students' social season, the senior ball, and as they will be using the gymnasium there can be no basketball game played there as is usually the case on Friday evenings.

SEND PETITION TO DUFFEY.

Frank Seaman and Others Believe it Pays to Advertise.

Frank Seaman of the Yama Farms Inn, Napanoch, heads a petition which has been signed by nearly every resident of the Napanoch-Lackawack-Montela road and which asks Highway Commissioner Duffey to award the contract for construction of same. In the event that the highway department cannot act because of the recent action of the board of supervisors in voting down this road, the petitioners plan to center their fire on the county legislature.

SCHUHLE PASSED WURTTEMBERG TEST

Remained Awake All Night, Didn't Look Sleepy Next Day and Showed Sense by Selling a Lot of Grape Juice.

John Schuhle, the Highland Grape Juice King, made a rapid recovery from the effects of his birthday party, as is shown in the picture herewith printed. Mr. Schuhle says that in Wurttemberg, where he was born, people believe that when a person is 40 years of age he has either got sense or is a hopeless fool and that it is customary to remain awake all night on the fortieth birthday. Modesty forbids Mr. Schuhle to state what his fortieth birthday brought him in the way of sense, but the recent shipment of two carloads of grape juice to China, a carload to Japan, 500 cases to the Philippines and the filling of orders from Norway and Porto Rico, added to the fact that he has 250,000 gallons in storage and is planning to double the capacity of the plant next summer, seems to show pretty conclusively that Mr. Schuhle must have attained a considerable degree of sense by the time he was 40 years of age.

The general agency for the sale of Schuhle's grape juice has been taken by A. R. Rodway, Inc., 100 Hudson street, New York city, who has the general selling agency for such concerns as Washington Crisps, Carnation Milk, Hawaiian Pineapple and Lowney's Cocoa, and an extensive advertising and selling campaign will be begun.

At the birthday party Mr. Schuhle was the recipient of many gifts, among them a mahogany table and mahogany chimes clock from people of Highland, a pinochle table from Mr. and Mrs. Austin Merritt of Highland, a silver tea service and tray from employes, a Thermos Carafe from A. R. Rodway of New York, a silk scarf from Dr. Terwilliger and family of Highland, a silk scarf from Miss Maud Rowe of Greenfield, Mass., a bill fold from Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Covert of Clintondale, a smoking set from Mr. and Mrs. I. Aldrich of Highland, pinochle cards from J. P. Reid of New York, a folding silk umbrella from Schantz Brothers of Highland, a leather sofa pillow from Sahler art room from Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Sahler of Kingston, cut flowers from A. W. Williams and family of Highland, a basket of daffodils from H. T. & W. H. Frost of Poughkeepsie, carnations from MacDonnell Brothers and S. E. Castonquay of Poughkeepsie, a basket of red carnations from Messrs. Palmer, Lake, Mund, Seaman and Sorg of Poughkeepsie Odd Fellows, a large fern from Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler of Walden and a gold watch and diamond stick pin from relatives.

Red Men's Dance at St. Remy.

Pokonoie Tribe, No. 344, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold the first of a series of dances in their hall at St. Remy Friday, February 18th. These dances have always been very popular with the young people in that vicinity and they are looking forward to another big time on that date as they know that the brothers of Pokonoie Tribe, under the able guidance of their Past District Deputy Burton G. Shultis, are royal entertainers.

Bulletins on Newburgh Races.

West Shore railroad ticket agents will receive bulletins tomorrow as to whether or not the championship skating races will be held at Newburgh. Latest reports said that conditions at Downing Park were satisfactory for the big sporting event.

Hudson River Captain Dead.

Captain William Gardner, aged 66 years, for some years captain of the steamer Isabella plying between Catskill and Hudson, died Wednesday night in the latter city.

MOTHER ABSENT DAUGHTER ELOPES

News of the elopement of Miss Emma J. Hall, 22 years old and pretty, and Allen Clearwater of Walden, N. Y., was a sensation in the newspapers of the bride's home in Bridgeport, Conn., this week when the news became known. Clearwater was a boarder in the Hall home and on Monday afternoon in the absence of the bride's mother the young couple departed for New York and matrimony.

Miss Hall and Clearwater became acquainted about two years ago, it is declared. Their friendship grew in the meantime. About five or six weeks ago Clearwater went to the Hall home in Beechwood avenue to board. No one suspected that Cupid's dart had gotten such a firm hold on the hearts of the couple that they would plan elopement.

Cupid Works Hard.

Cupid was harder at work than given credit for, however, as the outcome shows. Monday afternoon Mrs. A. E. Hall, mother of the young woman, was absent from the house. That was the time selected for the elopement.

It was when Mrs. Hall returned to the house and discovered a note written by her daughter, that she realized the situation. The note phrased in endearing terms that she and Allen had gone away to be married. Miss Hall told her mother in the note that she might not hear from her in a long time but not to worry about her because she would be all right.

Mrs. Hall is much wrought up over the elopement and is very anxious to locate the elopers. The matter caused considerable of a sensation in Bridgeport.

ANOTHER DAIRY IS QUARANTINED

One new case of typhoid fever has been reported to Health Officer Frank A. Johnston making making six positive cases that have been reported since Tuesday among families purchasing milk from the dairy farm which is suspected of having a typhoid carrier in its employ. No report has been received as yet from Dr. Raymond Sanderson who is making a thorough examination in order to ascertain if any of the three milkers employed on the farm is a typhoid carrier.

No milk from the suspected farm has been allowed to be delivered in the city since Tuesday and Health Officer Johnston is using every effort to prevent the fever from spreading. The new case reported today was one of the six suspected cases that were found by the health officer.

The health officer of the town of Saugerties reported Thursday afternoon to Dr. Johnston that there was a scarlet fever case on the farm of Clinton Finger at Mt. Marion and no milk from that farm will be allowed to come into the city for thirty days.

Saturday at Y. M. C. A.

Saturday will prove a busy day at the local Y. M. C. A. with a big swimming meet in the afternoon and three games of basketball in the evening. The swimming meet will be staged at 2 o'clock that afternoon when a team of boys under 16 years of age will attend from the Poughkeepsie Y. M. C. A. and contest the seven events on the program with the boys from the local association. In the evening Albany Avenue Baptist Church players will play the Rondout Presbyterian Church team while the First Presbyterian Church will clash with the Trinity M. E. Church. The third game will be between the Employed Boys and the Young Crescents. Admission will be free.

Traffic Blocked 15 Minutes.

A West Shore freight train blocked traffic at the crossing for at least fifteen minutes this morning. It was an unusually long one and when the delayed people were becoming despondent the caboose hove into sight but calmly halted on the trolley tracks when the train came to a stop. It seems that the caboose was being given a fresh coat of paint on the trip during the intervals that the train was at a stop, as the painting crew began to decorate the car as soon as the train was stopped. This peeved everyone and a policeman remedied matters by ordering the engineer to proceed on his journey. A trolley car and a large number of autos and wagons were delayed, beside many pedestrians.

Poor Man Had Big Roll.

Henry Smithmeyer, aged 70 and believed to be a poor man, was taken seriously ill Tuesday night at Hyde Park. When a physician was called $2,600 in $20 bills was found pinned inside his clothing. Smithmeyer is still seriously ill.

"DRIFTING" TOPIC OF REV. A. S. COLE

One of the most magnificent features of the union evangelical services held in the St. James M. E. Church is the delegations. Thursday evening brought seventy-five people from the Rondout Presbyterian Church; fifty from Port Ewen; fifty Daughters of Rebekah, and a Sunday school class called the Busy Builders, numbering fifteen. Each leader of these delegations had a fine message of encouragement for all present, and selected their favorite hymn.

Dr. Leeper, pastor of the First Reformed Church, presided, announcing the Rev. Mr. Cole, of the First Baptist Church, as the speaker. The text was found in the Book of Hebrews, second chapter, first verse. "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things, which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip." "There are very few people who come out boldly against God, and gradually drift away. These meetings we are holding here are coming to a close. How many are there who have not accepted Him, the Lord Jesus Christ? Things which cause us to drift are: First, 'putting off.' Some say 'no, I will not come tonight.' It means a loss to your own soul. There are marks of sin in our hearts which cannot be taken away from us at once. When we come to the Lord Jesus Christ we make a begining, and if we put off coming to Him, and start a little later, it takes a little longer for us to grow in Christian character. Delay means continued bad influence. Your influence is against Christ, and no matter how good or bad it is some other life. Second, delay means lost opportunity. Opportunity means, who will do or dare for the Master. I known some people in the world who say, if I can only have a good time for a while I will be a help in lifting up men for Him: A life of sin can never lead men to Jesus Christ. Third, we find it hard to make a change. If we had only come to Jesus while younger. You will never be any younger than you are tonight. The apparent changeableness of the world. Life is a continuous change. This world always changes. We change spiritually; we can never be the same after this meeting that we were before. Our bodies change; our minds change; we will be nearer to God; you will want to lay hold on Him. He is the same yesterday, today and forever. His life is the same; His salvation is the same. Do not get into the wrong current of life. Bend to the oar; set the sails for God's usefulness. Then Anchor your souls to Jesus Christ, and you will not get away from Him."

At this time Mr. Meridith, accompanied by W. W. Fredenburgh, sang a very beautiful song, adding not an artistic finish to the stirring sermon, but filling the hearts of those present with encouragement, "How Long Will You Keep Jesus Waiting?"

"The only thing," said Mr. Tullar, "you need to do to be lost is to do nothing. Men are lost just as easily by doing nothing as they can by doing other crimes we know of. The fellow who never makes a mistake, never makes anything else. The easiest thing I know of in the world is to get lost. It is not an easy thing to be a Christian; that means work. It does not mean to have prayer meetings in the usual way, but in the 'unusual way.' The Kingdom of God is our country; in order to save it, you have to fight; not do nothing."

Bible Study Meetings Have Big Attendance.

The Wednesday and Thursday afternoon attendance at the meetings for Bible study in the Fair Street Reformed Church showed a marked increase over the meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Grant Tullar has charge of these meetings, which have been so interesting that another will be held on Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock. Every one is invited.

Notices.

At the service tonight in the St. James M. E. Church there will attend delegations from the following: Washington Camp, No. 2, P. S. of A.; Washington Camp, No. 30, P. D. of A.; Society of the Helping Hand, the Salvation Army, and G. A. Hart & Co.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Tullar is to speak to the general public. The subject is not made known, but will be a surprise for all. There will be a full choir, and three hundred extra chairs to increase the seating capacity.

Sunday evening Mr. Tullar and Mr. Meridith are to have full charge of the service. This is the last evening of these gentlemen in Kingston, and it is assured that the meeting will be most helpful.

May Have Fractured Skull.

Walter O'Donnell of No. 726 Broadway is in the Kingston City Hospital suffering from injuries received on Thursday night while he was running to catch a trolley car on the Kingston city division. He missed the step and was hurled violently to the ground. He was picked up and taken into Hotel Ulster and Dr. Daniel Connelly summoned who attended to him. He was later conveyed to the hospital in the ambulance. He was unconscious when removed and it is thought that he may have sustained a fracture of the skull.

But, inasmuch as the president had made it very clear that he was going to try to get a free and a full hearing for the Garrison plan it was expected that he would wait until after Congress acted before taking any steps himself. But friends of the resigned official pointed out today that he had spent weeks examining precedents as to the best methods of improving the army and that his recommendations to the president and to congress represented his earnest belief that this was the only plan that promised success. Garrison, his friends insisted, felt that he had fallen victim to the political element interested in the maintenance of the National Guard as the real "first line of reserve defense" and that there was no use in trying to combat this influence which controlled many votes.

The resignation of Garrison therefore was accepted as meaning that the National Guard is to retain its present position. The president has not abandoned the Continental Army plan but he has had it made plain to him that it hardly can expect to go through congress and it is believed that the final plan will be a Federalized National Guard which will make it responsive to the orders of the president at all times.

GREAT PROPHET VISITS RED MEN

A big union meeting of the tribes of Red Men of Ulster county was held Thursday evening in the wigwam of Minnewaska Tribe, No. 130, Improved Order of Red Men, at 635 Broadway, with delegations from the various lodges throughout the county. This meeting was one in a state-wide campaign now being inaugurated to have some prominent Red Man address the tribes throughout the state either through individual meetings to the separate tribes or through union meetings. The meeting Thursday evening was attended by a large delegation from Wawarsing Tribe of Kingston, the tribes of St. Remy, Saugerties, Ellenville and Esopus.

GREAT PROPHET CHENEY.

William D. Cheney, Great Prophet of the state of New York, and a well known Red Man throughout the country, was present and gave a very enthusiastic talk. Owing to a date previously made Great Sachem Charles H. Smith was unable to be present, having been called to Auburn. Many of the members assembled had never heard the Great Sachem and were somewhat disappointed that he was unable to come. Great Prophet Cheney of Syracuse spoke of the campaign recently started to increase the membership of the organization and from the present outlook the report of the next six months will show an increase. Mr. Cheney urged the members of the several tribes present to go out and secure members; although quantity was not of the greatest importance as quality came first. He said he believed in advertising the order, one of the oldest and strictly American organization of the country.

After hearing the Great Prophet a number of the brothers were moved to express their views on the membership campaign, both agreeing and disagreeing with the first speaker. This is one of the purposes of the meetings, to get the views of the brothers and exchange ideas.

District Deputy Charles H. Edwards, in a brief talk, spoke of the work being done and to be done throughout his district during the next few months. During District Deputy Edwards's term Ulster county will probably see two new tribes instituted.

Past District Deputy Williams of Saugerties probably told the most interesting story of the evening. Some four years ago a tribe was instituted in Saugerties and has grown to be one of the most prosperous and active tribes in the state. The membership of the Saugerties tribe now numbers over 200 and every person in Saugerties has either become a Red Man or has been asked to become one. Mr. Williams spoke on other matters of great interest to the members of the organization and with the adoption of some of his suggestions there is every reason to expect a large and healthy growth throughout the county.

Every visiting tribe was heard and several members of the local tribes spoke. Brother Guy Crosby, a visiting brother from a tribe in the state of Maine, who has been a resident of Kingston for some time and has been adopted into Minnewaska Tribe during his stay in the city, spoke of the work being done in his home state.

After the regular session of the lodge the members were given an opportunity to get together and become acquainted and it was late in the evening when the members departed for their own hunting grounds.

The union meeting, coming as it did on the eve of a great campaign now being inaugurated in Minnewaska Tribe to secure forty new members, instilled a great amount of enthusiasm in the local order and as soon as the required number is secured the members are to be given a pig roast such as was never before given in the city. Already several prospective Red Men have been secured by the members and it is hoped to have a sufficient number of candidates to initiate a class before the beginning of the month of March. At the close of the evening membership blanks were taken by the members and every member of the paleface nation is in danger of being captured and taught the mysteries of the Improved Order of Red Men.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the basketball team of the Girls' Athletic Association will play a game against the girls of Middletown. The visiting girls will no doubt make a brave effort to wipe out the defeat suffered by the boys of their school at the hands of the Kingston varsity recently. For this reason the girls need and request the earnest support of their fellow students, and the athletic enthusiasts of the city. The admission will be 15 cents.

Because of the fast approaching debate with Poughkeepsie there was a trial debate held Thursday afternoon between the members of the debating squad. The subject was of course the trust question as that is the question to be debated with the out of town school. The affirmative was taken by Stelle (leader,) Deyo and Van Winkle, while Greene (leader,) Winston and Hasbrouck developed the negative, the side they will have to defend on the 18th. No particulars can be given regarding the debate, as no one but the members of the club are to know these until after Kingston meets the boys in the Bridge City.

This evening the seniors give the big event of the students' social season, the senior ball, and as they will be using the gymnasium there can be no basketball game played there as is usually the case on Friday evenings.

SEND PETITION TO DUFFEY.

Frank Seaman and Others Believe it Pays to Advertise.

Frank Seaman of the Yama Farms inn, Napanoch, heads a petition which has been signed by nearly every resident of the Napanoch-Lackawack-Montela road and which asks Highway Commissioner Duffey to award the contract for construction of same. In the event that the highway department cannot act because of the recent action of the board of supervisors in voting down this road, the petitioners plan to center their fire on the county legislature.

John Schuhle, the Highland Grape Juice King, made a rapid recovery from the effects of his birthday party, as is shown in the picture herewith printed. Mr. Schuhle says that in Wurttemberg, where he was born, people believe that when a person is 40 years of age he has either got sense or is a hopeless fool and that it is customary to remain awake all night on the fortieth birthday. Modesty forbids Mr. Schuhle to state what his fortieth birthday brought him in the way of sense, but the recent shipment of two carloads of grape juice to China, a carload to Japan, 500 cases to the Philippines and the filling of orders from Norway and Porto Rico, added to the fact that he has 250,000 gallons in storage and is planning to double the capacity of the plant next summer, seems to show pretty conclusively that Mr. Schuhle must have attained a considerable degree of sense by the time he was 40 years of age.

The general agency for the sale of Schuhle's grape juice has been taken by A. R. Rodway, Inc., 100 Hudson street, New York city, who has the general selling agency for such concerns as Washington Crisps, Carnation Milk, Hawaiian Pineapple and Lowney's Cocoa, and an extensive advertising and selling campaign will be begun.

At the birthday party Mr. Schuhle was the recipient of many gifts, among them a mahogany table and mahogany chimes clock from people of Highland, a pinochle table from Mr. and Mrs. Austin Merritt of Highland, a silver tea service and tray from employes, a Thermos Carafe from A. R. Rodway of New York, a silk scarf from Dr. Terwilliger and family of Highland, a silk scarf from Miss Maud Rowe of Greenfield, Mass., a bill fold from Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Covert of Clintondale, a smoking set from Mr. and Mrs. I. Aldrich of Highland, pinochle cards from J. P. Reid of New York, a folding silk umbrella from Schantz Brothers of Highland, a leather sofa pillow from Sahler art room from Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Sahler of Kingston, cut flowers from A. W. Williams and family of Highland, a basket of daffodils from H. T. & W. H. Frost of Poughkeepsie, carnations from MacDonnell Brothers and S. E. Castonquay of Poughkeepsie, a basket of red carnations from Messrs. Palmer, Lake, Mund, Seaman and Sorg of Poughkeepsie Odd Fellows, a large fern from Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler of Walden and a gold watch and diamond stick pin from relatives.

Red Men's Dance at St. Remy.

Pokonoie Tribe, No. 344, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold the first of a series of dances in their hall at St. Remy Friday, February 18th. These dances have always been very popular with the young people in that vicinity and they are looking forward to another big time on that date as they know that the brothers of Pokonoie Tribe, under the able guidance of their Past District Deputy Burton G. Shultis, are royal entertainers.

Bulletins on Newburgh Races.

West Shore railroad ticket agents will receive bulletins tomorrow as to whether or not the championship skating races will be held at Newburgh. Latest reports said that conditions at Downing Park were satisfactory for the big sporting event.

Hudson River Captain Dead.

Captain William Gardner, aged 65 years, for some years captain of the steamer Isabella plying between Catskill and Hudson, died Wednesday night in the latter city.

MOTHER ABSENT DAUGHTER ELOPES

News of the elopement of Miss Emma J. Hall, 22 years old and pretty, and Allen Clearwater of Walden, N. Y., was a sensation in the newspapers of the bride's home in Bridgeport, Conn., this week when the news beame known. Clearwater was a boarder in the Hall home and on Monday afternoon in the absence of the bride's mother the young couple departed for New York and matrimony.

Miss Hall and Clearwater became acquainted about two years ago, it is declared. Their friendship grew in the meantime. About five or six weeks ago Clearwater went to the Hall home in Beechwood avenue to board. No one suspected that Cupid's dart had gotten such a firm hold on the hearts of the couple that they would plan elopement.

Cupid Works Hard.

Cupid was harder at work than given credit for, however, as the outcome shows. Monday afternoon Mrs. A. E. Hall, mother of the young woman, was absent from the house. That was the time selected for the elopement.

It was when Mrs. Hall returned to the house and discovered a note written by her daughter, that she realized the situation. The note phrased in endearing terms that she and Allen had gone away to be married. Miss Hall told her mother in the note that she might not hear from her in a long time but not to worry about her because she would be all right.

Mrs. Hall is much wrought up over the elopement and is very anxious to locate the elopers. The matter caused considerable of a sensation in Bridgeport.

ANOTHER DAIRY IS QUARANTINED

One new case of typhoid fever has been reported to Health Officer Frank A. Johnston making making six positive cases that have been reported since Tuesday among families purchasing milk from the dairy farm which is suspected of having a typhoid carrier in its employ. No report has been received as yet from Dr. Raymond Sanderson who is making a thorough examination in order to ascertain if any of the three milkers employed on the farm is a typhoid carrier.

No milk from the suspected farm has been allowed to be delivered in the city since Tuesday and Health Officer Johnston is using every effort to prevent the fever from spreading. The new case reported today was one of the six suspected cases that were found by the health officer.

The health officer of the town of Saugerties reported Thursday afternoon to Dr. Johnston that there was a scarlet fever case on the farm of Clinton Finger at Mt. Marion and no milk from that farm will be allowed to come into the city for thirty days.

Saturday at Y. M. C. A.

Saturday will prove a busy day at the local Y. M. C. A. with a big swimming meet in the afternoon and three games of basketball in the evening. The swimming meet will be staged at 2 o'clock that afternoon when a team of boys under 16 years of age will attend from the Poughkeepsie Y. M. C. A. and contest the seven events on the program with the boys from the local association. In the evening Albany Avenue Baptist Church players will play the Rondout Presbyterian Church team while the First Presbyterian Church will clash with the Trinity M. E. Church. The third game will be between the Employed Boys and the Young Crescents. Admission will be free.

Traffic Blocked 15 Minutes.

A West Shore freight train blocked traffic at the crossing for at least fifteen minutes this morning. It was an unusually long one and when the delayed people were becoming despondent the caboose hove into sight but calmly halted on the trolley tracks when the train came to a stop. It seems that the caboose was being given a fresh coat of paint on the trip during the intervals that the train was at a stop, as the painting crew began to decorate the car as soon as the train was stopped. This peeved everyone and a policeman remedied matters by ordering the engineer to proceed on his journey. A trolley car and a large number of autos and wagons were delayed, beside many pedestrians.

Poor Man Had Big Roll.

Henry Smithmeyer, aged 70 and believed to be a poor man, was taken seriously ill Tuesday night at Hyde Park. When a physician was called $2,600 in $20 bills was found pinned inside his clothing. Smithmeyer is still seriously ill.

"DRIFTING" TOPIC OF REV. A. S. COLE

One of the most magnificent features of the union evangelical services held in the St. James M. E. Church is the delegations. Thursday evening brought seventy-five people from the Rondout Presbyterian Church; fifty from Port Ewen; fifty Daughters of Rebekah, and a Sunday school class called the Busy Builders, numbering fifteen. Each leader of these delegations had a fine message of encouragement for all present, and selected their favorite hymn.

Dr. Leeper, pastor of the First Reformed Church, presided, announcing the Rev. Mr. Cole, of the First Baptist Church, as the speaker. The text was found in the Book of Hebrews, second chapter, first verse. "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things, which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip." "There are very few people who come out boldly against God, and gradually drift away. These meetings we are holding here are coming to a close. How many are there who have not accepted Him, the Lord Jesus Christ? Things which cause us to drift are: First, 'putting off.' Some say 'no, I will not come tonight.' It means a loss to your own soul. There are marks of sin in our hearts which cannot be taken away from us at once. When we come to the Lord Jesus Christ we make a begining, and if we put off coming to Him, and start a little later, it takes a little longer for us to grow in Christian character. Delay means continued bad influence. Your influence is against Christ, and no matter how good or bad it is some other life. Second, delay means lost opportunity. Opportunity means, who will do or dare for the Master. I known some people in the world who say, if I can only have a good time for a while I will be a help in lifting up men for Him: A life of sin can never lead men to Jesus Christ. Third, we find it hard to make a change. If we had only come to Jesus while younger. You will never be any younger than you are tonight. The apparent changeableness of the world. Life is a continuous change. We change spiritually; we can never be the same after this meeting that we were before. Our bodies change; our minds change; we will be nearer to God; you will want to lay hold on Him. He is the same yesterday, today and forever. His life is the same; His salvation is the same. Do not get into the wrong current of life. Bend to the oar; set the sails for God's usefulness. Then Anchor your souls to Jesus Christ, and you will not get away from Him."

At this time Mr. Meridith, accompanied by W. W. Fredenburgh, sang a very beautiful song, adding not an artistic finish to the stirring sermon, but filling the hearts of those present with encouragement, "How Long Will You Keep Jesus Waiting?"

"The only thing," said Mr. Tullar, "you need to do to be lost is to do nothing. Men are lost just as easily by doing nothing as they can by doing other crimes we know of. The fellow who never makes a mistake, never makes anything else. The easiest thing I know of in the world is to get lost. It is not an easy thing to be a Christian; that means work. It does not mean to have prayer meetings in the usual way, but in the 'unusual way.' The Kingdom of God is our country; in order to save it, you have to fight; not do nothing."

Bible Study Meetings Have Big Attendance.

The Wednesday and Thursday afternoon attendance at the meetings for Bible study in the Fair Street Reformed Church showed a marked increase over the meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Grant Tullar has charge of these meetings, which have been so interesting that another will be held on Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock. Every one is invited.

Notices.

At the service tonight in the St. James M. E. Church there will attend delegations from the following: Washington Camp, No. 2, P. S. of A.; Washington Camp, No. 30, P. D. of A.; Society of the Helping Hand, the Salvation Army, and G. A. Hart & Co.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Tullar is to speak to the general public. The subject is not made known, but will be a surprise for all. There will be a full choir, and three hundred extra chairs to increase the seating capacity.

Sunday evening Mr. Tullar and Mr. Meridith are to have full charge of the service. This is the last evening of these gentlemen in Kingston, and it is assured that the meeting will be most helpful.

May Have Fractured Skull.

Walter O'Donnell of No. 726 Broadway is in the Kingston City Hospital suffering from injuries received on Thursday night while he was running to catch a trolley car on the Kingston city division. He missed the step and was hurled violently to the ground. He was picked up and taken into Hotel Ulster and Dr. Daniel Connelly summoned who attended to him. He was later conveyed to the hospital in the ambulance. He was unconscious when removed and it is thought that he may have sustained a fracture of the skull.

MORE ABOUT SOUPS.

A nice hot dish of soup is most sustaining and soothing on a cold night.

Sheep's Tail Soup (Armenian).—Cut in small pieces eight sheep's tails. Soak in cold water for an hour, then parboil, drain and fry in butter. Cover with mutton stock and add a bunch of parsley, two leeks, two cloves, an onion and a stalk of celery tied in a muslin bag. Cover and boil until the meat is tender. Add three quarts of mutton stock, simmer for an hour and remove the muslin bag. Season with curry powder and thicken with the yolks of four eggs, beaten smooth in a cupful of cream. Serve with boiled rice on a separate dish.

Puree of Parsnip Soup.—Fry in butter one quart of tender parsnips, cut in dice. Cover with beef stock and cook until tender, press through a sieve and return to the fire. Add enough beef stock to make the desired quantity of soup and thicken with a tablespoonful each of flour and butter. Reheat, season and serve hot.

Italian Chestnut Soup.—Shell and blanch 50 large chestnuts, cover with veal stock, add two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, salt, pepper and nutmeg to season, and simmer for two hours or more. Press through a sieve, measure the quantity of soup and add half as much boiling milk. Thicken with the yolk of an egg beaten with a little cold milk and serve with croutons.

Mock Turtle Soup.—Clean a calf's head thoroughly, split the head, take out the eyes and cover with salted water, bring to a boil, cook for half an hour, take out the head, remove the bones, peel the tongue and cut up the rest of the meat in small pieces, strain the liquor and return it to the pot with the meat, adding more water if necessary. Chop fine one small onion and a head of celery and add to the soup.

The grandest of all human sentiments—what is that? It is that man should forget his anger before he lies down to sleep.

Crockery and Glassware

Visitors to this store this week will find a multitude of articles displayed on the first floor that will prove of considerably more than ordinary interest. We have gone over our Glassware and Crockery stocks and gathered together all the odd pieces and left-overs in decorated goods and plain and white hotel ware. These have been placed upon special tables and marked at prices below original cost. In fact some of the pieces could not be obtained at double the sale prices ordinarily, and to say that women are greatly pleased with these splendid bargain opportunities is stating the truth without embellishment. To illustrate how eagerly the goods on the tables are snapped up by thrifty shoppers we mention the fact that one day last week we delivered twelve clothes baskets filled with such purchases.

This Crockery and Glassware clean-up is an annunl event with us. Those who have attended former similar sales come again each succeeding year, for they have learned that it pays them to do so.

Painless Extractions

During the year 1915 the Cady Dental Offices in Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown performed over ten thousand extractions. These operations were painless. Local Anaesthetics were used in the majority of cases but nitrous-oxide gas in a few. This wonderful record should make a deep impression on those who have teeth which require extraction and desire to have the operation done painlessly.

"KID" MILLS THINKS HE IS A FIGHTER

Sergeant Hanley Can Certify That He Is and Also That He Is Some Sprinter, Having Chased Him For Two Miles.

After an exciting chase of two miles from Hudson street over the golf links, which ended in John Mills, 19 years old, attempting to whip Sergeant Hanley, the sergeant placed the youth under arrest on a charge of assault in the third degree which had been preferred against Mills by Anthony DeCicco, a young lad from East Kingston. This morning Mills was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail and after his release he was to report to the probation officer once a week for six months. Sentence, however, was suspended on condition that the youth get out of town and he was placed on a train by his uncle, and sent back to his home in New York city. The probation sentence was transferred to New York county.

Young DeCicco, who lives at East Kingston and who attends St. Mary's parochial school in this city, appeared in recorder's court on Thursday and lodged a complaint against Mills. The DeCicco boy said that the Mills youth had struck him in the jaw and showed the wound to the recorder. He did not know who the youth was that had assaulted him but said he could be able to identify him. The matter was placed in the hands of Sergeant Hanley who learned that the Mills youth was the one wanted.

The Mills youth likes to be known, the police say, as "Kid" Mills and thinks that he is a fighter. He came up from New York a short time ago and was stopping at the home of his grandmother. Thursday afternoon Sergeant Hanley paid a visit to the house and found Mills in and told him he was under arrest and to come with him to the city hall.

Mills replied "All right, wait until I get my coat" and he walked into a rear room.

Sergeant Hanley became suspicious, followed and saw the youth leap through a window and dash away. The sergeant started in pursuit and the youth led him a chase up over the hills onto the golf links but the sergeant is no slouch as a runner and caught up with Mills near the West Shore tunnel.

Mills when he saw that he could not escape turned and put up a fight He used his finger nails to advantage and dug a slice of flesh from the cheek bone of the sergeant and also a piece of flesh from Hanley's ear, but the sergeant is not an athlete for nothing and he subdued the youth and brought his prisoner back to police headquarters.

This morning Mills was arraigned before Recorder Lang and pleaded guilty to hitting young DeCicco. He said that a group of lads on the corner snowballed him and he retaliated by hitting some of them.

Young DeCicco said that he did not throw any snowballs and was shooting marbles when Mill hit him.

His uncle was present in the court room and said that Mills had proved so unruly that he was not going to let him remain any longer in Kingston and expected to send the youth back to his parents in New York city.

BEARSVILLE.

Bearsville, Feb. 10.—Miss Edythe Shultis, who is employed in Kingston, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shultis.

Mrs. Ralph Sahler and son, Reigh Deroy, are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lasher.

The Misses Edythe, Genevieve and Beatrice Shultis called on Leslie Elwyn Sunday evening.

Miss Gladys Short spent Tuesday night and Wednesday night with Genevieve Shultis.

Mrs. M. J. Shultis of this place and her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Cunningham, and husband of Hackensack, N. J., are spending some time in sunny Florida.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Woodstock took a sleigh ride Thursday of last week to Mrs. Lester Sagendorf's, where they held a meeting. Lewis Reynolds of this place took one of the loads.

A jolly crowd of about twenty young people gave Beatrice Shultis a surprise party on Tuesday evening. During the evening games were played and a dainty lunch served. At an early hour they departed, thanking their hostess for the enjoyable evening spent.

Chicken Pie Supper.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. Glee Club are making arrangements to attend the chicken pie supper to be served at the association next Wednesday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Seats will be reserved for the club and their lady friends and they will sit down to eat at 6:30 o'clock. At 8:15 o'clock that evening the last number of the Star Course will be given by Laurant, the magician.

ACCORD.

Accord, Feb. 11.—John M. Schoonmaker and D. E. Schoonmaker were the fortunate ones from this place to have the privilege of attending the banquet in honor of Judge Cunningham at Ellenville Saturday evening. They both report having the time of their lives.

Another family have moved into the Accord House.

Fred Van Wagonen has returned from a visit to New Paltz.

H. E. Schoonmaker is spending some time with relatives in New York city, enjoying real life.

Miss Orpha Silkworth and Friend Bush were quietly married on Wednesday, immediately departing on their honeymoon. We extend congratulations.

LATTINGTOWN.

Lattingtown, Feb. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Craft, who went to Brooklyn last Saturday, have not returned at the present writing.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Craft of Marlborugh are attending to affairs at the old homestead, while their son is away to Brooklyn.

W. L. Mackey has cut down a large tree for wood on the north end of his fruit farm.

H. V. Mackey is thinning out the pine trees near his residence, which improves the appearance of his home.

Mrs. Charles Best has returned from Newark, N. J.

William Woolsey, who has been away for a short time, is now home.

Mrs. S. B. Wygant, who has been sick for some time, is now much better.

It is stated that a new church will be erected on the old Methodist site in Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. William Woolsey of Highland have visited their daughter, Mrs. Odell, recently.

MILTON.

Milton, Feb. 11.—Our Camp Fire Girls are drilling under the direction of Miss Adelaide Hallock, for their entertainment to be given next Monday evening at the M. E. Church. Prof. Ludwig Deimer, the noted pipe organist of Newburgh, is expected to be present and entertain lovers of good music. Admission 15 cents.

Mrs. James Coe of Newburgh visited her mother, Mrs. Patrick Glancy, on Wednesday.

F. C. Wood visited his son, Clifford, at Dr. Sadlier's Sanitarium, Poughkeepsie, on Wednesday, and the report is that Clifford is improving.

Henry LeRoy, who visited in Centerville several days, has returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt of Vermont visited Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rhoades, over Sunday. Mrs. Hewitt was Mrs. Cora Lawrence of Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Absolem Brewster and daughter of Newburgh visited Mrs. Caroline Brewster on Sunday.

Mr. Strickland of Poughkeepsie visited his mother, Mrs. George Strickland, on Sunday.

On Monday about 7 p. m. H. V. Briscoe had a narrow escape from being killed. He was walking toward the village and when passing along by Coffin's land a bullet came hissing and went through the crown of his hat. Though somewhat dazed he saw a large man run on up the hill. Briscoe picked up his hat, which had been knocked off, and went on to the village, notified the deputy sheriff and he with others armed themselves and went in search of the offender, but could find no suspicious person about. Some think Briscoe was not the man they intended the bullet for, as Briscoe could not imagine any reason for being thus treated. The hole through his hat is the size of a lead pencil. The case proves to be a mystery so far.

Mrs. Solomon Taber entertained the W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon.

Steam Fire Pumps.

The first fire engine in which steam was used to drive the pumps was that of Braithwaite in 1829.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

We must do our own duty, but it is the part of wisdom to allow our neighbor to attend to his without too much oversight and direction. It is a natural trait of human nature to refuse to see what is too officiously pointed out.

MORE ABOUT SOUPS.

A nice hot dish of soup is most sustaining and soothing on a cold night.

Sheep's Tail Soup (Armenian).—Cut in small pieces eight sheep's tails. Soak in cold water for an hour, then parboil, drain and fry in butter. Cover with mutton stock and add a bunch of parsley, two leeks, two cloves, an onion and a stalk of celery tied in a muslin bag. Cover and boil until the meat is tender. Add three quarts of mutton stock, simmer for an hour and remove the muslin bag. Season with curry powder and thicken with the yolks of four eggs, beaten smooth in a cupful of cream. Serve with boiled rice on a separate dish.

Puree of Parsnip Soup.—Fry in butter one quart of tender parsnips, cut in dice. Cover with beef stock and cook until tender, press through a sieve and return to the fire. Add enough beef stock to make the desired quantity of soup and thicken with a tablespoonful each of flour and butter. Reheat, season and serve hot.

Italian Chestnut Soup.—Shell and blanch 50 large chestnuts, cover with veal stock, add two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, salt, pepper and nutmeg to season, and simmer for two hours or more. Press through a sieve, measure the quantity of soup and add half as much boiling milk. Thicken with the yolk of an egg beaten with a little cold milk and serve with croutons.

Mock Turtle Soup.—Clean a calf's head thoroughly, split the head, take out the eyes and cover with salted water, bring to a boil, cook for half an hour, take out the head, remove the bones, peel the tongue and cut up the rest of the meat in small pieces, strain the liquor and return it to the pot with the meat, adding more water if necessary. Chop fine one small onion and a head of celery and add to the soup.

MOMBACCUS HEIGHTS.

Mombaccus Heights, Feb. 10.—Lawrence McGrath, a surveyor from Livingston Manor, while here for a few days last week on business for the state, made his headquarters at Leonard Van Etten's.

F. P. Smith and daughter, Miss Edna, enjoyed a sleigh ride to Ellenville Friday.

Jesse McDonald and family entertained callers on Saturday evening.

Ralph Smith and family, who moved to Greene county last fall, have returned and will reside at Ellenville for the present.

William Kimbark, Harold Van Etten and Miss Alice Green spent Sunday evening at A. M. Green's.

Mrs. Harry Smith and little daughter are visiting relatives this week.

Harold Smith has gone to Walden, where he has obtained a position.

F. P. Smith drove to Leibhardt on business Saturday.

Business is booming at the Sherman steam saw mill plant. There is plenty of snow in the woods and back roads for logging.

Mrs. F. P. Smith and daughter, Olive, called on her brother, Frank Green, and family Sunday afternoon.

The grandest of all human sentiments—what is that? It is that man should forget his anger before he lies down to sleep.

Visitors to this store this week will find a multitude of articles displayed on the first floor that will prove of considerably more than ordinary interest. We have gone over our Glassware and Crockery stocks and gathered together all the odd pieces and left-overs in decorated goods and plain and white hotel ware. These have been placed upon special tables and marked at prices below original cost. In fact some of the pieces could not be obtained at double the sale prices ordinarily, and to say that women are greatly pleased with these splendid bargain opportunities is stating the truth without embellishment. To illustrate how eagerly the goods on the tables are snapped up by thrifty shoppers we mention the fact that one day last week we delivered twelve clothes baskets filled with such purchases.

This Crockery and Glassware clean-up is an annunl event with us. Those who have attended former similar sales come again each succeeding year, for they have learned that it pays them to do so.

Painless Extractions

During the year 1915 the Cady Dental Offices in Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown performed over ten thousand extractions. These operations were painless. Local Anaesthetics were used in the majority of cases but nitrous-oxide gas in a few. This wonderful record should make a deep impression on those who have teeth which require extraction and desire to have the operation done painlessly.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 11, 1916.

If two men can plant 1,000 trees in a day and the cost of the trees is but a few dollars, reforestation of waste land is plainly the practical proposition that its promoters have claimed. Lands otherwise useless would thus be in service, producing timber at small expense. It is a slow process but plenty of land is now idle so far as any useful purpose is concerned. The advantage of a forest crop is that Dame Nature looks after the cultivation and the only labor required is a thinning out process about every fifteen years. Many amateur gardeners of our acquaintance might enjoy some such occupation as this but, seriously, plantations of shade trees can be made most valuable in the educational field. School children could be interested in the setting out of trees and much useful knowledge thus obtained. Incidentally waste land spaces could be converted into forests and by means of scientific lumbering, could be made perpetual assets to any territory.

There are plenty of sound arguments to be advanced against government ownership of armor plate factories without resort to any such threat as that made before the Senate Naval Committee by Senator Penrose. The Pennsylvania Senator told the committee that the Bethlehem and Midvale companies were among those manufacturers who had agreed to advance the prices for armor plate $200 a ton immediately on passage of such legislation. If there were any more ill-timed threat than this ultimatum of the armor plate combination we have yet to hear of it. A very natural resentment is thus aroused and people are given the impression that the steel manufacturers consider themselves as a bigger proposition in the aggregate than the government of the United States. The argument that government competition would mean harm and possible ruin to their enterprises and make necessary the jumping of present prices to cover future losses is lost sight of in view of the Penrose threat. It is such absurd statements at this that makes Senator Tillman's retort as to government confiscation of steel industries seem like the last word in conservatism by contrast.

Those of our citizens who are wildly enthusiastic over the prospect of having a Tariff Commission and who threw up their hats when they heard that the President had changed his mind and had come out in favor of the proposition can find reason for moderation in the remarks of that same President in one of his St. Louis speeches, to wit: "I look forward to the establishment of a tariff board with some misgivings myself, because I will have to choose the men who make it; and I tell you that men with pre-possessions are hard to find, and when you find them they are generally empty of everything else." That is as true as anything can be. It is an old saying that figures don't lie but that liars make figures. A tariff board can produce plausible proof to back almost any theory. Its findings are sure to reflect the prejudices of its members, and since the pending bill is so phrased that the board will be under Democratic control, it will doubtless become a mere bureau for the promulgation of anti-protection arguments. We can see how a tariff board might be useful to a Congress bent upon guarding the interests of American manufacturers and workingmen, but it seems to have no place in an administration pledged to a tariff for revenue only. The only excuse for the President's change of mind is that he has come to believe that a certain degree of protection is advisable, but he has made no announcement to that effect.

State Engineer Frank M. Williams holds out hope for the opening of the barge canal from the Hudson to the Niagara rivers in 1918. There have been so many dates set for completion of the waterway system that the purely perfunctory attention greeting Mr. Williams's prophecy need surprise no one, even when the prophet is an official of the standing and experience of the present State Engineer. The barge canal was first voted in 1908 and for nearly a dozen years we have been engaged in actual construction work, to say nothing of voting further appropriations for terminals and deficits. At this day no one can say positively whether transportation on these internal waterways will revive on anything like the scale so confidently predicted at the outset. The temper of the people in this connection is shown conclusively in the decreasing majorities returned for canal propositions. Hence, before we are asked to vote more money for freight bureaus and equipment for terminals, time should be given for demonstration of transportation possibilities of the present canal system when completed. The tremendous subsidy already given to encourage water carriers ought to produce beneficial results under conditions as now planned if such results are ever to be produced.

Not content with its action specifying the number of men that the railroads shall employ on a train the legislature is now importuned to limit the length of freight trains to sixty cars, in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Mead, of Erie County. This bill is an accurate index of the average legislative comprehension of railroad progress. It is argued that doctors, school children and traffic are held up at crossings by unduly long trains, but it would seem that the State's grade crossing elimination policy is a more effective remedy than this bill. Just now when the railroads are seeking increased revenues and when locomotives have been developed that can haul twice as many cars of twice the capacity of those used a score of years ago, it would be a mistake to cut down the number of cars merely because the larger trains make more work for employes or hold up crossings a few moments longer. Bills of this ill-advised type are all too frequent at Albany. Some of them illuminate the point of view of that eminent statesman who a few years ago, in the face of some radical railroad legislation, declared his intention of fighting to the last ditch "to reserve to the railroads the right to choose the color their freight cars should be painted!" That man is dead now, but legislation of the type he criticised still lives though fortunately, it does not always find a place on the statute books.

GAVE LECTURE BEFORE CLUB.

Dr. Mary Gage-Day on "Health and Efficiency" at Hudson.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon in Hudson, Dr. Mary Gage-Day of Kingston gave a most interesting talk on "Health and Efficiency." It was indeed a treat for Hudson women to have the opportunity of hearing such a fine talk. In her talk Dr. Day said that health is sacred and that it was the duty o. every one to care for his or her own health.

Dr. Day then gave some effects of alcohol upon the health. She said that when the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was first organized that people were inclined to and did laugh at it, but since then they had learned to a great extent the harm of alcohol on the health and so were advocating the W. C. T. U. movement very strongly.

"The laws have never been better," said Mary Gage-Day but they need enforcing and so it is the duty of all to help enforce the laws of health in the state.

"People should live to be 80 or 90 years old," said Dr. Day, "if they don't die a violent, unnatural death. By living right people would avoid this."

After the talk several women asked questions which Dr. Day answered.

During the afternoon the Woman's Club chorus sang in a very charming manner "Would that My Love" and "Greetings," both by Mendelssohn.

Tea was served down stairs by Mrs. H. S. Duncan and Mrs. Cora Lawther.

In the evening Dr. Mary Gage-Day gave a most interesting and helpful talk to the members of the Girls' Society. She spoke to them about points of health as to sleeping, eating and caring for their health and she touched upon the adolescent period and gave them many good things to think about.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Mother, where are Helicon and Parnassus?" "Ask your father, Johnnie. He keeps up with the war news."—Life.

"Penley used to think his poems were immortal." "What changed his opinion?" "The editors 'killed' so many of them."—Boston Transcript.

"Where did you go in the theater, Mrs. Comeup?" We sat in the mezzotint boxes, but the girls preferred seats in the parokeet."—Baltimore American.

"This war is a terrible thing; isn't it?" "Perfectly dreadful. Still, you don't have to keep explaining to people of your set why you are not in Paris."—Puck.

"I made a lot of resolutions last year." "And kept 'em all?" "Every one of them. The only thing I can do now is to think up resolutions for other people and try to have them enacted into laws."—Washington Star.

"Sometimes," said Mr. Growcher, "I wish I were a boy again." "You wish to share in the innocent pastimes of youth?" "Not exactly. I'd like to be able to go out and handle some of these youngsters who throw snowballs, without looking so undignified."—Washington Star.

True Optimist.

Among the passengers on a train on a one track road in the middle west was a talkative jewelry drummer. Presently the train stopped to take on water, and the conductor neglected to send back a flagman. An express came along and, before it could be stopped, bumped the rear end of the first train. The drummer was lifted from his seat and pitched head first into the seat ahead. His silk hat was jammed clear down over his ears. He picked himself up and settled back in his seat. No bones had been broken. He drew a long breath, straightened up and said: "Well, they didn't get by us, anyway."—Argonaut.

His by Right.

An Irish chauffeur in San Francisco, who had been having trouble with numerous small boys in the neighborhood of his stand, discovered one day on examining his car that there was a dead cat on one of the seats. In his anger he was about to throw the carcass into the street, when he espied a policeman.

Holding up the carcass, he exclaimed: "This is how I am insulted. What am I to do with it?"

"Well, don't you know? Take it straight to headquarters, and if it is not claimed within a month it becomes your property."—Harper's Magazine.

Pat Did as Told.

A gentleman in want of a coachman had an Irishman apply for the situation, when the following conversation took place between them:

"You know, Pat, if I engage you I shall expect you to do things by combination. For instance, if I tell you to bring the carriage around at a given time I shall expect the horses with it and driving gloves, etc."

"Yes, sorr," said Pat.

He was duly engaged, and gave satisfaction. One day his master came to him in a hurry, telling him to look sharp and go for a doctor, as his mistress was ill. Pat was gone for a long time and on his master grumbling at him for his delay, he said:

"Sure, they're all here, sorr."

"All here," said the master. "What do you mean?"

"Didn't you tell me to do things by combination?"

"What's that got to do with it?" said the master.

What's Keeping 'em Out.

A Philadelphia editor says that Charles Frohman, before setting off on the Lusitania's last voyage, joked a good deal about London's theaters in war time.

"The London revues," he said one day, "have funny names—'Come Over Here' and 'Stop Your Fooling,' and 'Ok, be Careful.' A good title for one of these thinly attended revues would be 'What's Keeping 'em Out?'

"The last revue I visited the audience hardly numbered a hundred. I said to the manager consolingly:

"'What's keeping them out? I guess it's the war, eh?'

Should Remember Soft Pedal.

The New Yorker who has had an old grand piano transformed into a spacious writing desk may properly be expected to keep his foot on the soft pedal if he finds it urgent to compose letters of the sort that so often get into court when that contraption is not firmly pressed.

GEN. SCOTT ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Major General Scott, chief of the army general staff, has been designated by an executive order signed by the president to become acting secretary "for 30 days." This was necessary because of doubt regarding his right to act as secretary of war when the post is vacant by resignation. Under the law a temporary appointment of this character can be issued only for ten days and the White House said that as soon as the new secretary has qualified the temporary appointment will of necessity expire.

WALTHER LEAGUE DAY.

Exercises at Livingston Street Lutheran Church This Evening.

The meeting of the Immanuel Young People's Society and the Immanuel Young Men's Society of the Livingston Street Lutheran Church will be held this evening, the eve of Lincoln's birthday, and not Saturday evening as stated yesterday. Tonight Walther League Day will be observed by the societies with a sermon in German in the church at 8 o'clock. All members in both societies are requested to meet in the school rooms at 7:45. After the services a social evening will be held in the basement of the church, to which all members and friends of the congregation are invited to attend.

WALKER VALLEY.

Walker Valley, Feb. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mack and son of Wallkill spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Mack's mother, Mrs. E. E. Morrow.

A donation will be given the pastor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Evans on Wednesday evening, February 16. Supper will be served early in the evening when an entertainment will follow.

The Ladies' Aid met Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Griffin. The afternoon was spent in sewing and sociability. When a large U. S. flag, purchased by the ladies, was exhibited each lady held a portion of the flag while the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung.

Mrs. E. E. Morrow is entertaining a few guests from the city.

Mrs. Henry Polhamus is suffering with lumbago.

Mrs. J. C. Depew has gone to Brown's Station for a few weeks.

Mrs. Charles Gran Slimmer entertained a couple of friends over Sunday.

Threatened to "Stomp."

Walter Banks of No. 22 Hurley avenue was arrested on Thursday on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Carrie Dougherty who lodged a complaint with Recorder Lang, accusing Mr. Banks of being a disorderly person in threatening "to stomp on her if she did not keep out of the hall." Both families live in a large apartment house on Hurley avenue. Mr. Banks when arraigned this morning entered a plea of not guilty and the case was adjourned until Saturday morning to give both sides a chance to have their witnesses present. The case promises to be a lively one.

A Lincoln Campaign Flag.

Burgevin's Sons are exhibiting an attractive display in their window on the corner of Fair and John streets. In the center is a large wreath containing an old flag used in Lincoln's presidential campaign and the exhibit also contains an edition of the New York Times of April 15, 1865 in which is an account of the assassination of the President. The old paper and flag were loaned by Everett Fowler.

Woman's World

QUEEN WILHELMINA.

Queen Wilhelmina has occupied the throne of the Netherlands for twenty-five years from the 23d of last November, celebrating the event very quietly with her husband, Prince Henry; their little daughter, Princess Juliana, and her mother, dowager Queen Emma.

She would not allow her subjects to spend any money on festivities in her honor, stipulating that the appropriation made by the state for this occasion should be donated to the fund for the war sufferers in Holland. The newspapers, in recently noting this kindly act of charity, brought to the minds of people in other countries the first remembrance that the young queen had actually passed a quarter of a century upon the throne. She will be thirty-six next August and was a very plump and dimpled little girl of ten when her father, King William III., died and she became queen. She was under the guardianship of her mother until she reached the age of eighteen, since which time she has been very much of a sovereign.

Her position is not an easy one these days, at the head of a nation of 6,000,000 people crowded into an area of 12,000 square miles, less than the states of Massachusetts and Connecticut put together, with about half a million Belgian refugees and 2,000 interned British soldiers and sailors as uninvited guests.

THE CLOSET DOOR.

The possibilities of the small clothes closet are often underestimated by many women. The narrowest wall closet, measuring at the most only a foot in depth and two yards in length, will hold more clothes than one would imagine if proper hanging apparatus is used. There are rods now that come for the closet door which stand out at angles to the door and to which may be attached many coat and skirt hangers. These rods may be had in nickel plate in all lengths, or they may come in white enameled wood, with hooks attached for holding the clothes hangers. Some are made with a hinge, so that they can be let down when not required for use.

The service these rods render for small space is easily seen when you realize that layers and layers of clothes on hangers may be slipped over them or over the hooks and when the closet door is opened may be easily selected without disturbing half a dozen other coats and frocks to find the garment wanted.

A similar arrangement for the sides of a small closet was tried by one ingenious girl. Instead of trying to hang several hangers on one hook, she stretched across the width of her closet from one hook to the outside wall a bit of stout picture wire. Over this she was able to slip any number of clothes hangers with large hooks and could select one garment without disturbing the others. If the width of the closet permits, it is a good plan to stretch a rod the length of the closet and hang the hangers crosswise across this, like the large cases in the suit or dress department in the shops.

One end of a closet may be shelved to hold a girl's hats if she is limited for space. It is to be preferred to the bandbox under the bed, especially if a cretonne bag made sufficiently large is at hand to cover the best bonnet as it reposes on the shelf.

Personal Appearance.

While clothes are an important factor in one's appearance it is not the only one to be considered. So many busy housekeepers neglect to pay sufficient attention to their own personal appearance. We are not all born beauties, neither are we born homely, unless the case be abnormal. A clean, healthy woman who carries herself erect and dresses herself properly is never homely, while, on the other hand, a slovenly, sickly, cranky person is never pretty. However our features may differ, if we are normal we all have hands, feet, hair, complexions and figures that need attention to keep them in good order.

Mighty Glacier Caverns.

It has long ago been discovered that water produced by the melting of glacier ice in summer flows down through crevasses to the bottom of the glacier and, forming a channel by erosion, emerges often as a large stream. In the arctic region these phenomena take place on a very large scale. The Danish expedition to the northeast of Greenland, conducted by Mylius and Erichsen, discovered and explored vast caverns thus formed by glacial streams. Some of these caves are sixty to seventy feet in height and more than a mile long. In winter the streams cease flowing, but the caverns or tunnels remain ready to receive the streams of the following summer.

Mighty Nimrod.

A reputation for being the mightiest hunter the West has ever known is one of the legacies of A. H. Huston, pioneer ranchman of the Saratoga valley in Wyoming, who died not long ago. No man ever saw him miss a shot, and Jim Baker, famous frontiersman, and Jim Slade, a noted outlaw, have both declared him the most unerring marksman and quickest man with a gun they ever saw.

PROCLAMATION.

The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent: To the Sheriff of the county of Ulster, Greeting:—We command you that you summon to be and appear at a term of the supreme court of the state of New York, to be held by a justice of the supreme court, at the court house, in Kingston, in and for the county of Ulster, on the 1st Monday of March, 1916, the several persons who shall have been drawn to serve as grand and petit jurors at the said court. And we further command you to bring before the said court all prisoners then being in the jail of the said county of Ulster, together with all the processes and proceedings any way concerning them in your hands. And we further command you to make proclamation in the manner prescribed by law, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all justices of the peace, coroners and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations, to the said court on the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting, and have then and there this precept.

Witness, Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, one of the Justices of our Supreme Court, at the Court House, in Kingston, in said County, the 7th day of February, 1916.

F. G. THAYER, District Attorney.

In pursuance to the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of the supreme court of the state of New York and jail delivery, will be held at the court house in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, on the 1st Monday of March next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day; and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the jail of said county are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat; and all justices of the peace, coroners or other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizance, inquisition and examination, to the said court, at the opening thereof, and on the first day of the sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances, to do those things which to their offices pertain.

Kingston, February 7, 1916.

EDGAR T. SHULTIS, Sheriff of Ulster County.

"KID" MILLS THINKS HE IS A FIGHTER

Sergeant Hanley Can Certify That He Is and Also That He Is Some Sprinter, Having Chased Him For Two Miles.

After an exciting chase of two miles from Hudson street over the golf links, which ended in John Mills, 19 years old, attempting to whip Sergeant Hanley, the sergeant placed the youth under arrest on a charge of assault in the third degree which had been preferred against Mills by Anthony DeCicco, a young lad from East Kingston. This morning Mills was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail and after his release he was to report to the probation officer once a week for six months. Sentence, however, was suspended on condition that the youth get out of town and he was placed on a train by his uncle, and sent back to his home in New York city. The probation sentence was transferred to New York county.

Young DeCicco, who lives at East Kingston and who attends St. Mary's parochial school in this city, appeared in recorder's court on Thursday and lodged a complaint against Mills. The DeCicco boy said that the Mills youth had struck him in the jaw and showed the wound to the recorder. He did not know who the youth was that had assaulted him but said he could be able to identify him. The matter was placed in the hands of Sergeant Hanley who learned that the Mills youth was the one wanted.

The Mills youth likes to be known, the police say, as "Kid" Mills and thinks that he is a fighter. He came up from New York a short time ago and was stopping at the home of his grandmother. Thursday afternoon Sergeant Hanley paid a visit to the house and found Mills in and told him he was under arrest and to come with him to the city hall.

Mills replied "All right, wait until I get my coat" and he walked into a rear room.

Sergeant Hanley became suspicious, followed and saw the youth leap through a window and dash away. The sergeant started in pursuit and the youth led him a chase up over the hills onto the golf links but the sergeant is no slouch as a runner and caught up with Mills near the West Shore tunnel.

Mills when he saw that he could not escape turned and put up a fight. He used his finger nails to advantage and dug a slice of flesh from the cheek bone of the sergeant and also a piece of flesh from Hanley's ear, but the sergeant is not an athlete for nothing and he subdued the youth and brought his prisoner back to police headquarters.

This morning Mills was arraigned before Recorder Lang and pleaded guilty to hitting young DeCicco. He said that a group of lads on the corner snowballed him and he retaliated by hitting some of them.

Young DeCicco said that he did not throw any snowballs and was shooting marbles when Mill hit him.

His uncle was present in the court room and said that Mills had proved so unruly that he was not going to let him remain any longer in Kingston and expected to send the youth back to his parents in New York city.

BEARSVILLE.

Bearsville, Feb. 10.—Miss Edythe Shultis, who is employed in Kingston, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Shultis.

Mrs. Ralph Sahler and son, Reigh Deroy, are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lasher.

The Misses Edythe, Genevieve and Beatrice Shultis called on Leslie Elwyn Sunday evening.

Miss Gladys Short spent Tuesday night and Wednesday night with Genevieve Shultis.

Mrs. M. J. Shultis of this place and her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Cunningham, and husband of Hackensack, N. J., are spending some time in sunny Florida.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Woodstock took a sleigh ride Thursday of last week to Mrs. Lester Sagendorf's, where they held a meeting. Lewis Reynolds of this place took one of the loads.

A jolly crowd of about twenty young people gave Beatrice Shultis a surprise party on Tuesday evening. During the evening games were played and a dainty lunch served. At an early hour they departed, thanking their hostess for the enjoyable evening spent.

Chicken Pie Supper.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. Glee Club are making arrangements to attend the chicken pie supper to be served at the association next Wednesday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Seats will be reserved for the club and their lady friends and they will sit down to eat at 6:30 o'clock. At 8:15 o'clock that evening the last number of the Star Course will be given by Laurant, the magician.

ACCORD.

Accord, Feb. 11.—John M. Schoonmaker and D. E. Schoonmaker were the fortunate ones from this place to have the privilege of attending the banquet in honor of Judge Cunningham at Ellenville Saturday evening. They both report having the time of their lives.

Another family have moved into the Accord House.

Fred Van Wagonen has returned from a visit to New Paltz.

H. E. Schoonmaker is spending some time with relatives in New York city, enjoying real life.

Mrs. George Frost is ill with the grip.

Miss Orpha Silkworth and Friend Rush were quietly married on Wednesday, immediately departing on their honeymoon. We extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Absolem Brewster and daughter of Newburgh visited Mrs. Caroline Brewster on Sunday.

Mr. Strickland of Poughkeepsie visited his mother, Mrs. George Strickland, on Sunday.

On Monday about 7 p. m. H. V. Briscoe had a narrow escape from being killed. He was walking toward the village and when passing along by Coffin's land a bullet came hissing and went through the crown of his hat. Though somewhat dazed he saw a large man run on up the hill. Briscoe picked up his hat, which had been knocked off, and went on to the village, notified the deputy sheriff and he with others armed themselves and went in search of the offender, but could find no suspicious person about. Some think Briscoe was not the man they intended the bullet for, as Briscoe could not imagine any reason for being thus treated. The hole through his hat is the size of a lead pencil. The case proves to be a mystery so far.

Mrs. Solomon Taber entertained the W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon.

Supply Table Needs at Planthaber's Saturday

Every Saturday we make it possible for home-keepers and others to be extra judicious and economical with the moneys set aside for table needs. Live, wide-awake, energetic people find pleasure and profit in shopping at our weekly events. We enjoy the confidence of patrons who make it a point to be certain of the quality and wholesomeness of the Groceries and Meats they buy and we hold their trade by reason of our square treatment. Of course, we occasionally lose a customer who is attracted elsewhere by the lure of ridiculous prices and inferior qualities; but he or she comes back after having learned a lesson in false economy. Let us fill your market basket Saturday!

Barrington's Convert

By JOHN Y. LARNED

Bob Barrington was one of those youngsters who are dead set against a humdrum life. Bob's father, when the boy was fifteen years of age, secured him a position in a friend's counting room, but the friend soon told Mr. Barrington that Bob was not fitted for a commercial life.

"What's the trouble?" asked the parent.

"Well, the life's too cramped. What we want are young fellows for cogwheels. They should go through the same routine every day; never ask questions or make suggestions, but do what they are told to do and no more. If they see anything that looks to them a bit—well, shrewd, they're not to flare up and call it dishonest. Our business is a machine, and every part must fit into every other part."

"I see," said Mr. Barrington. "Bob is not in your line."

Bob was withdrawn and asked what he wished to do. He said he thought he would like to get a breath of fresh air, which, being explained, meant that he would like to go where natural instincts had a fuller play. To state the case more definitely, he proposed to go west and be a cowboy. His father, thinking that if his son had some experience in herding sheep during a blizzard he would be glad to come home and go to work in a civilized way, assented. Bob was well outfitted, being given a thousand dollars, which he was told must last him a year. He told his father that he didn't want any more than enough to take him to his destination and he wouldn't call on him for any more. So he handed back all but $200 and started on his journey.

The new life suited him exactly. He made a cowboy of himself for awhile, but, having displayed considerable nerve in several fracases, he was elected sheriff, at which calling he made a success.

One of his exploits during his term of office was the hunting down of a notorious desperado named Donohue. The outlaw came into the region over which Sheriff Barrington had jurisdiction and commenced a series of robberies that terrorized every one. Barrington made it his business to capture the man without killing him. Not that such a kindly act was obligatory on him. Indeed, his constituents would have much preferred that Donohue should be taken dead, for, in that case, the territory would be spared the expense of a trial. The truth was, Barrington never quite succeeded in eradicating civilization from his system and felt a repugnance against making an executioner of himself.

One day the sheriff was missed, and nothing was heard of him till one day he reappeared, with Mr. Donohue in a wagon, bound hand and foot. A meeting of citizens was called and, after a vote of thanks to Sheriff Barrington, decreed that a committee be appointed to hang the prisoner. Bob claimed the captive as his own and insisted that he be turned over to a court for trial. This excited much opposition, on the ground that there was no evidence that Donohue had murdered any one. Consequently he could never be hanged.

However, it could not be denied that the prisoner belonged to Barrington, and, since he would not consent to the hanging, the man must be sent to a place where there was a court. Here, too, Barrington stood in the way of justice. Certain persons who knew of murders committed by the accused of which there were no eyewitnesses kindly consented to perjure themselves that a proper punishment might be inflicted. The sheriff would not consent to this, and when the judge proposed to give the convict all the imprisonment the law allowed Barrington stood out for two years. The judge, being a stanch supporter of the sheriff, acceded to his wishes.

One would suppose that saving a man's life and cutting down a term of ten years at hard labor to two would touch the heart of the subject of this magnanimity. Instead, when Donohue was taken away to serve his term he said:

"Sheriff, ef ye hadn't sneaked up on me and got the drop when I wasn't lookin' for you you wouldn't 'a' got me. Howsomever, I'll git out o' jail in two years from this yere present time, and it'll be you as'll have to look out fur me."

"Thank you kindly for mentioning your benevolent intentions," replied Bob. "I'll try and be in a position to congratulate you on having attained your freedom and keep from getting holed at the same time."

When Bob had been in the west a year his father asked him if he didn't wish to return and take up civilization again. Bob wrote that there was too much of a mixture between the good and the bad in civilization; he preferred the two separate, as they were in the west. The better class of people in the west made no pretense to culture, but they treated one another like Christians. When a man was bad he was bad all over and didn't pretend to be anything else. The consequence was that there was no mistaking either the good or the bad.

When Donohue had served some eighteen months of his term Bob's mother wrote her son that his father was ill and begged him to come home. Bob sighed, tumbled into the fine clothes he had worn when he reached the west and started for home. He had not worn a boiled shirt for a long time and felt in one now as if he were being garroted. He found his father in very bad health, and his continued presence at home was necessary. He therefore yielded to his parents' request and determined to remain with them.

When Donohue was released to recommence his preying upon the world the first person he proposed to prey upon was ex-Sheriff Barrington. Bob during the administration of the duties of his office had received a great many threats, none of which had materialized. When the two years of Donohue's term had rolled around Bob had forgotten all about it. Besides, he had left his old stamping ground and did not conceive it possible that a desperado in the west would take the trouble or have the means to travel a couple of thousand miles to hunt him up.

Donohue was a man with considerable pride, which had it not been misdirected might have been of advantage to him. He had made a statement at the time of his conviction and he proposed to carry it out at any cost. He had not been out of jail long when he had accumulated sufficient valuables and cash to pay his expenses east, and having obtained Barrington's address set out to find him and take his threatened revenge.

On reaching the city of his destination he realized that he would not have the same advantages in killing a man as in the west. It was possible there to do the deed, light out, seek other fields, and there was a chance of never being called to account for his crime. Not so in a city. To start gun play on a street would be to collect a crowd, followed by an officer, and there was no chance of escape except by the law's delays, and even then funds were required for the purpose. These imperfections in legal justice did not make it less desirable for honest persons than the code of the revolver or Judge Lynch.

Donohue therefore decided to steal up on his enemy as his enemy had stolen up on him. But this was not so easy in civilization as in a new country. Bolts separated him from the man he wanted, and he was not used to this way of getting at a man. However, he saw no other way and resolved to effect an entrance into Barrington's home at night and do the job there when Bob was asleep.

When Barrington had returned to his home he had tossed his revolver into a bureau drawer, and there it remained. One night Bob awoke suddenly. He did not know what it was that awakened him. During his term of service as sheriff, when he had many enemies, he had been a light sleeper, and the slightest sound would rouse him. Believing now that there was some cause for his broken sleep he listened and soon heard what turned out to be the raising of a sash on the main floor with a jimmy. Springing out of bed he seized an electric light he kept in his room and remembering the revolver in the drawer took it in his other hand. It had not been reloaded since his homecoming.

Going out into the hall he heard a sound as of some one lighting on a floor after getting in a window. Stepping in his stocking feet down the stairway he went into the living room and ensconced himself behind the door. His position was admirable. He could shoot through the crack made by the door and the wall. He had not been there long before by the dim light coming from the street lamps without he saw a figure coming through the hall. When it was about to turn to go upstairs Bob flashed his electric light with his left hand while with his right he thrust the muzzle of his revolver through the crack of the door.

"Hello, Donohue!" he said. "Is that you? Hands up! Quick, or I'll fire!"

Donohue, blinded by the bright light, was completely at his enemy's mercy. He raised both hands at once. In his right hand was a revolver.

"Put your weapon on the stairs," said Bob. "Be quick about it, but don't make a noise."

Donohue had no choice but to do as he was told. He laid his revolver on a stair about as high as his head.

"Now back away from it. That'll do. Stay where you are till I come."

Leaving his fortification, Bob went into the hall and drove his man into the dining room. There he turned on a light.

"I saved your life," he said, "and cut your time down to two years. This is your gratitude. I'm going to give you what you deserve. It won't be less than ten years."

The man looked the picture of despair. Ten more years in stripes! The prospect was too much for him.

"I'd rather have you settle me with a little lead!" he groaned. "You must at least give me credit for sayin' that I was goin' to do it."

"That's something in your favor, and you have shown a perseverance in following me up which if exerted in a better cause would have brought you comfort. Have you ever been married?"

"Yes; to a woman I don't deserve. She left me long ago, takin' the kids with her."

Donohue's voice trembled.

"Suppose I help you to retrieve your past."

"You couldn't do that."

"I can, with your help."

An hour later a plan was arranged by which Donohue should start afresh. He made good, with Barrington's assistance, and a time came when he was reunited to his wife and children.

He and they worship the ground Bob Barrington treads.

Dodging.

"If I had my way," said the positive woman, "I'd make every unmarried man pay a special tax."

"What would be the use?" rejoined Miss Cayenne. "Any man who can successfully dodge matrimony would surely succeed in dodging his taxes."—Washington Star.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PEOPLE OF KINGSTON

We believe we should publicly express our appreciation of the prompt and flattering response of many of our citizens and business men of this city, to our efforts in producing a pure and higher grade of milk, cream, butter, ice cream and cheese. We are already assured that our generous expenditure in enlarging our plant and installing the latest and best purifying and pasteurizing apparatus that can be obtained, will be justified by the new business that is already coming to us.

There is no better argument for the pasteurizing of milk in this city than the present epidemic of typhoid fever that our health officer reports he has traced to the raw milk supplied by one of the local milk dealers.

Dr. Herman N. Biggs, State Commissioner of Health, has declared over and over again that raw milk is not safe to consume, and that all milk should be properly pasteurized before it is sold.

Not only milk, but our other products, such as cream, butter, ice cream, etc., are to be properly pasteurized, a better grade made, with its purity guaranteed, and no increase in price. We wish the consumer to fully understand he is dealing directly with the producer.

Twice a week we are shipping to New York city a large consignment of sweet, unsalted butter, that stands next to Borden's pasteurized butter, now selling for 47 cents a pound. When ours is pasteuried, we believe it will be better than the Borden product.

The sale of our butter (both sweet and salted,) our health-giving buttermilk and cream cheese has increased over 100 per cent in the past two weeks. Nearly every grocery store handles our products. If you cannot secure them of your grocer call "The Creamery" on the telephone, 788, and we will promptly deliver to you absolutely pure, fresh, sweet food products by special delivery.

Our regular milk and cream routes cover all parts of the city. We will be pleased to deliver to you every day.

Insist on Teichler's Bread

In the grains that are minted by the wheat plants from the soil is almost every needful constituent of human food—food that builds muscle and brain—and all these nourishing qualities are concentrated in

TEICHLER'S STEAMED WHEAT BREAD

In these days of food adulteration, the head of every Kingston family should see to it that the bread placed on the table is free from plaster of paris, or "A. B. C. flour," as certain unscrupulous bakers call it. The president of an outside-of-Kingston baking concern which sells bread here admitted recently that plaster of paris was used in its bread because it "made the loaves look larger." Ask for and insist on getting Teichler's Bread.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Feb. 10.—The Auxiliary Club was most delightfully entertained last Friday at the M. E. Church parlors when Mrs. George Coutant, Mrs. Robert Cummings, Mrs. George Cornell and Mrs. DeWitt Clearwater acted the part of hostesses of the afternoon and everything possible was done for the comfort of the members and visitors by these ladies. The weather was favorable and the attendance large and enthusiastic, and every one was cordial and hospitable. Mrs. R. H. Decker, the president, welcomed the members and visitors in her usual courteous manner and the pleasant and profitable exchange of ideas was commenced and gone through with as a unit. The women of this club possess the spirit of the pioneer and are and have been in front ranks as church workers for years. The session, after the reports of various committees, was devoted to the consideration of subjects thoroughly presented by the president and profitable discussions followed in which many members took part. Enthusiasm was contagious and any who were in doubt were soon ready to enter in the topics. The vote was taken in regard to the annual supper and sale and it was decided to have it in April. It is to take on the air of Easter. This club continues to grow in membersihp and all are loyal and devoted to its every interest. They received into membership three ladies, namely, Mrs. Uriah Decker, Mrs. Charles DuBois and Mrs. Lloyd Plass, who are good workers, and they entertained three guests, Mrs. Atkins, Miss Atkins and Mrs. Linson of Kingston. It is the desire of the president that every member of the club do her best in making articles and soliciting from friends to make the Easter sale a success and all will feel a thrill of enthusiasm as they work earnestly and unweariedly for the church and hope one and all will respond with every influence in their power. The social hour was unusually interesting and the luncheon most inviting, consisting of sandwiches, salad, jelly, pickles, several varieties of cake and coffee, and all were united in their expressions of enjoyment, knowing the outstretched hand of fellowship and encouragement always receives the clasp of gratitude and appreciation. If we would gather flowers, we must plant the seed. Service is the great undying principle of life and the universe. All women of the club are doing a notable work and all know how to entertain in a whole-souled manner. It was late when all left the church for their homes, waiting anxiously for the first Friday in March for the next meeting.

G. Bradshaw of Montreal was here for a short stay last week at his home on Milton avenue.

Dr. Freston of Milton was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Martin have had guests from Milton the past week.

Monday evening friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Batt gave them a surprise and all had a most enjoyable time.

The Presbyterian Missionary Circle met at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. Quite a large attendance and interesting meeting.

Richard Lent, wh is working out at White Plains, Dutchess county, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lent, on Grand street.

Miss Leroy of Lakehurst, N. J., has been visiting relatives here a few days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith are being congratulated upon the arrival of a young daughter, which arrived to brighten their home Monday evening. Louie is wearing a very broad smile at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Griffin of Vineyard avenue have been entertaining guests from out of town.

Mrs. Harry Schumacher of Brooklyn has spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hopper, on Vineyard avenue.

Tuesday evening there was a rehearsal at the home of Mrs. R. H. Decker for the farce, "Dinner at Six." The cast includes these people: Mrs. Charles DuBois, Mrs. Lloyd Plass, Miss Hattie Dickson and Miss Bessie Dickson, little Ruby Cornell, George Canfield and William Maynard, and also on the program, Mrs. E. A. Marsh will give tow recitations, Miss Ethel Wilcox, two vocal selections and music by the orchestra, consisting of Mrs. Kelsey Staples, Miss Bessie Dickson, Charles DuBois, Hubert Elting, George Canfield and William Maynard. This will give all a full evening's pleasure. Then there will be on sale fine sherbet and cake, so just go to the M. E. Church February 25 and help the club out for you certainly will be pleased.

The Epworth League Colonial Fete which was held last Friday evening in the M. E. Church parlors proved to be very successful. There were 13 colonies represented with people in costume and from these places one was expected to purchase their supper, and everything was first class. There was music by the orchestra and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. V. A. Reed entertained the P. E. O. Society Thursday afternoon.

The cottage prayer meeting was well attended Tuesday evening at the home of Lorin OsterLoudt on North Road.

Several of the young boys from here were in New Paltz Saturday evening last to witness the basketball game. After the game all had a grand time dancing. They speak very highly of this sport.

John Redding from Milton was in this place Thursday last and attended the Odd Fellows' public installation of officers.

John C. Feeter was in town last week. He is looking fine. He is very much taken with New Rochelle, where his daughter and husband reside. He and Mrs. Feeter have been visiting them for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Kniffin had as their guest recently Mrs. Lydia Terwilliger of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lane of Poughkeepsie spent last Sunday in this place with Mrs. Isaac Hammond an aunt of Mr. Lane.

Josiah Schoonmaker and son, George, were in New Paltz on Sunday visiting the parents of Mr. Schoonmaker.

George Mingey of Cobleskill, Schoharie county, was a guest this week of Captain and Mrs. R. H. Decker. It is about 10 years since he has been in Highland. He found many changes in that time. He is a prominent business man at Cobleskill and a great church worker. His mother and one sister reside in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jere Miller were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Clearwater of this place have with them for a short time their son, Victor, who was recently united in marriage to Miss Mabel Eden of Irvington. They will remain here until the opening of the famous Mohonk House, where Mr. Clearwater has a very fine position. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Harry Dobbs is quite ill at his home here with the grip. It seems new cases are developing daily. We hope to see Harry out soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Zophar Aldrich will soon leav here for Putnam county. They are going to move about March 1.

George Huson and family are going to move in Putnam county on a farm. There seems to be quite a number of changes around here.

Last Saturday evening a meeting as called at the hose house of three firemen, three citizens and the three fire inspectors to discuss plans for better fire equipment. A very important thing that should be gotten is a fire signal, something that can be heard for a long distance, for church bells are not satisfactory in case of a fire. It was decided to install a compressed air signal, which they will have placed in the Highland garage building, as there is always some one there to look after affairs, and this thing is one great need in our village.

Word has been received from Harry W. Maynard that he is enjoying every moment of warm weather in the south. His sister, Mrs. W. Howell, of Bogota, N. J., went with him, and they are eating fresh strawberries, grape fruit, oranges and other grand things, which are so much better than we poor mortals can get here.

Mrs. R. H. Decker has received a special invitation to visit Catskill Chapter, O. E. S., Tuesday evening, February 15, at which time the newly appointed D. D. G. M., Mrs. Elizabeth, Freer, of Ellenville makes her official visit with the A. G. L., Mr. Magee, at his home chapter in Catskill. Mrs. Decker frequently visits the many chapters through the 9th, 10th and 11th districts. She has some invitations for city visits also.

Uriah Decker, our efficient mail carrier, has had a siege of grip. Glad to report he is out now and expects soon to be upon the route again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Decker had guests this week from Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Chester Atkins and daughter have been visiting her people in New York city.

Mrs. Vincent Jordan is around again after being confined to her home with a severe attack of the grip and jaundice.

Flossie Davis, who has been ill, is better at present so she goes out.

Andrew Upright is improving slowly. He has a trained nurse in attendance and friends are hoping to hear of his speedy recovery.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, Feb. 10.—The play entitled "The Holy Terrors," given by members of the Boy Scouts in All Saint's parish house on Tuesday evening, was a grand success. Much credit is due those who acted their respective parts, which were loudly applauded. After the entertainment dancing was indulged in. Music was furnished by Koenan's orchestra. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and soft drinks were served. Proceeds for the benefit of the Scouts.

Mrs. George Mattman has an attack of grip and tonsilitis. She is under the care of Dr. C. V. Hasbrouck. Mr. Mattman is able to be around the house.

Should Remember Soft Pedal.

The New Yorker who has had an old grand piano transformed into a spacious writing desk may properly be expected to keep his foot on the soft pedal if he finds it urgent to compose letters of the sort that so often get into court when that contraption is not firmly pressed.

GEN. SCOTT ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Major General Scott, chief of the army general staff, has been designated by an executive order signed by the president to become acting secretary "for 30 days." This was necessary because of doubt regarding his right to act as secretary of war when the post is vacant by resignation. Under the law a temporary appointment of this character can be issued only for ten days and the White House said that as soon as the new secretary has qualified the temporary appointment will of necessity expire.

WALTHER LEAGUE DAY.

Exercises at Livingston Street Lutheran Church This Evening.

The meeting of the Immanuel Young People's Society and the Immanuel Young Men's Society of the Livingston Street Lutheran Church will be held this evening, the eve of Lincoln's birthday, and not Saturday evening as stated yesterday. Tonight Walther League Day will be observed by the societies with a sermon in German in the church at 8 o'clock. All members in both societies are requested to meet in the school rooms at 7:45. After the services a social evening will be held in the basement of the church, to which all members and friends of the congregation are invited to attend.

WALKER VALLEY.

Walker Valley, Feb. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mack and son of Wallkill spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Mack's mother, Mrs. E. E. Morrow.

A donation will be given the pastor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Evans on Wednesday evening, February 16. Supper will be served early in the evening when an entertainment will follow.

The Ladies' Aid met Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. B. Griffin. The afternoon was spent in sewing and sociability. When a large U. S. flag, purchased by the ladies, was exhibited each lady held a portion of the flag while the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung.

Mrs. E. E. Morrow is entertaining a few guests from the city.

Mrs. Henry Polhamus is suffering with lumbago.

Mrs. J. C. Depew has gone to Brown's Station for a few weeks.

Mrs. Charles Gran Slimmer entertained a couple of friends over Sunday.

Threatened to "Stomp."

Walter Banks of No. 22 Hurley avenue was arrested on Thursday on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Carrie Dougherty who lodged a complaint with Recorder Lang, accusing Mr. Banks of being a disorderly person in threatening "to stomp on her if she did not keep out of the hall." Both families live in a large apartment house on Hurley avenue. Mr. Banks when arraigned this morning entered a plea of not guilty and the case was adjourned until Saturday morning to give both sides a chance to have their witnesses present. The case promises to be a lively one.

A Lincoln Campaign Flag.

Burgevin's Sons are exhibiting an attractive display in their window on the corner of Fair and John streets. In the center is a large wreath containing an old flag used in Lincoln's presidential campaign and the exhibit also contains an edition of the New York Times of April 15, 1865 in which is an account of the assassination of the President. The old paper and flag were loaned by Everett Fowler.

Woman's World

QUEEN WILHELMINA.

Queen Wilhelmina has occupied the throne of the Netherlands for twenty-five years from the 23d of last November, celebrating the event very quietly with her husband, Prince Henry; their little daughter, Princess Juliana, and her mother, dowager Queen Emma.

She would not allow her subjects to spend any money on festivities in her honor, stipulating that the appropriation made by the state for this occasion should be donated to the fund for the war sufferers in Holland. The newspapers, in recently noting this kindly act of charity, brought to the minds of people in other countries the first remembrance that the young queen had actually passed a quarter of a century upon the throne. She will be thirty-six next August and was a very plump and dimpled little girl of ten when her father, King William III., died and she became queen. She was under the guardianship of her mother until she reached the age of eighteen, since which time she has been very much of a sovereign.

Her position is not an easy one these days, at the head of a nation of 6,000,000 people crowded into an area of 12,000 square miles, less than the states of Massachusetts and Connecticut put together, with about half a million Belgian refugees and 2,000 interned British soldiers and sailors as uninvited guests.

THE CLOSET DOOR.

The possibilities of the small clothes closet are often underestimated by many women. The narrowest wall closet, measuring at the most only a foot in depth and two yards in length, will hold more clothes than one would imagine if proper hanging apparatus is used. There are rods now that come for the closet door which stand out at angles to the door and to which may be attached many coat and skirt hangers. These rods may be had in nickel plate in all lengths, or they may come in white enameled wood, with hooks attached for holding the clothes hangers. Some are made with a hinge, so that they can be let down when not required for use.

The service these rods render for small space is easily seen when you realize that layers and layers of clothes on hangers may be slipped over them or over the hooks and when the closet door is opened may be easily selected without disturbing half a dozen other coats and frocks to find the garment wanted.

A similar arrangement for the sides of a small closet was tried by one ingenious girl. Instead of trying to hang several hangers on one hook, she stretched across the width of her closet from one hook to the outside wall a bit of stout picture wire. Over this she was able to slip any number of clothes hangers with large hooks and could select one garment without disturbing the others. If the width of the closet permits, it is a good plan to stretch a rod the length of the closet and hang the hangers crosswise across this, like the large cases in the suit or dress department in the shops.

One end of a closet may be shelved to hold a girl's hats if she is limited for space. It is to be preferred to the handbox under the bed, especially if a cretonne bag made sufficiently large is at hand to cover the best bonnet as it reposes on the shelf.

Personal Appearance.

While clothes are an important factor in one's appearance it is not the only one to be considered. So many busy housekeepers neglect to pay sufficient attention to their own personal appearance. We are not all born beauties, neither are we born homely, unless the case be abnormal. A clean, healthy woman who carries herself erect and dresses herself properly is never homely, while, on the other hand, a slovenly, sickly, cranky person is never pretty. However our features may differ, if we are normal we all have hands, feet, hair, complexions and figures that need attention to keep them in good order.

Mighty Glacier Caverns.

It has long ago been discovered that water produced by the melting of glacier ice in summer flows down through crevasses to the bottom of the glacier and, forming a channel by erosion, emerges often as a large stream. In the arctic region these phenomena take place on a very large scale. The Danish expedition to the northeast of Greenland, conducted by Mylius and Erichsen, discovered and explored vast caverns thus formed by glacial streams. Some of these caves are sixty to seventy feet in height and more than a mile long. In winter the streams cease flowing, but the caverns or tunnels remain ready to receive the streams of the following summer.

Mighty Nimrod.

A reputation for being the mightiest hunter the West has ever known is one of the legacies of A. H. Huston, pioneer ranchman of the Saratoga valley in Wyoming, who died not long ago. No man ever saw him miss a shot, and Jim Baker, famous frontiersman, and Jim Slade, a noted outlaw, have both declared him the most unerring marksman and quickest man with a gun they ever saw.

A Howling Success.

"A howling success" may be a slang phrase and again it may be a baby show.—Washington Post.

PROCLAMATION.

The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent: To the Sheriff of the county of Ulster, Greeting:—We command you that you summon to be and appear at a term of the supreme court of the state of New York, to be held by a justice of the supreme court, at the court house, in Kingston, in and for the county of Ulster, on the 1st Monday of March, 1916, the several persons who shall have been drawn to serve as grand and petit jurors at the said court. And we further command you to bring before the said court all prisoners then being in the jail of the said county of Ulster, together with all the processes and proceedings any way concerning them in your hands. And we further command you to make proclamation in the manner prescribed by law, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all justices of the peace, coroners and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations, to the said court on the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting, and have them and there this precept.

Witness, Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, one of the Justices of our Supreme Court, at the Court House, in Kingston, in said County, the 7th day of February, 1916.

F. G. TRAVER,
District Attorney.

In pursuance to the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of the supreme court of the State of New York and jail delivery, will be held at the court house in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, on the 1st Monday of March next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day; and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the jail of said county are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat; and all justices of the peace, coroners or other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizance, inquisition and examination, to the said court, at the opening thereof, and on the first day of the sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances, to do those things which to their offices pertain.

Kingston, February 7, 1916.

EDGAR T. SHULTIS,
Sheriff of Ulster County.

Quick and Active

That is the kind of an office boy you want in your establishment and that is the kind that is daily being secured by hundreds of readers and users of the Want Columns.

Scores of such boys in this very vicinity are eagerly looking for that vacant place in your office and you will find their appeals for work in the Want Columns. If you don't see the appeal of the boy you are looking for, run a Want Ad of your own and he will come to you.

PUBLIC TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN.

Civic and Fraternal Bodies to Attend Monday Night's Meeting.

Acceptances have been received by the Chamber of Commerce Committee in charge of the Lincoln anniversary celebration from the Grand Army, the clergy, various civic organizations and municipal bodies who will be represented on the stage of the high school auditorium next Monday night when the Right Rev. Monsignor J. L. Reilly of Schenectady will speak on Lincoln.

It is the intention of the Chamber officials to make this occasion in the nature of a community tribute to the martyred president. Judge A. T. Clearwater will preside and a program of music is being arranged.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Feb. 10.—L. Boice and J. Schoonmaker of Phoenicia called on E. Davis on Sunday last.

The people of this place wish to express their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. V. Crispell of Brodhead's, in the loss of their son, who died after a few days' illness of pneumonia.

Miss Lena Smith spent Friday night at Ashokan and attended the play given there.

C. Hesley can be seen on the Boulevard quite frequently these days breaking his handsome span of colts. Charley says he don't want a Ford now.

We understand there is a case of typhoid fever at the home of James Burger—some relative visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Avery entertained company from Kingston on Sunday.

Mrs. Exenger spent the week end with Mrs. J. G. Eckert.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Winchell are spending a few days in New York city.

Business is very dull in this section. Some are thinking of going on the water wagon. One man says he has a job now.

O. Winchell, the tax collector, was in this place Monday.

The new minister will be with us to preach here the first Sunday in March. Now as we only have one church here let us hope that each and everyone will take an interest to help along God's work here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Merrihew and Miss Edna spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. V. Winchell.

Justin Bell was in Kingston on Tuesday.

Mysterious Aviator's Visit.

Wappingers Falls is agitated because a mysterious aviator landed Wednesday morning in that place. The aviator tinkered with his engine and when asked his business literally went up in the air. He was last seen headed south.

"PEACE AND WAR."

Lecture to be Given Under Auspices of Knights of Columbus.

"Peace and War" is the subject to be discussed under the auspices of Kingston Council, No. 275, of the Knights of Columbus in this city on Tuesday evening, February 22, by the well known orator, debater and author, David Goldstein of Boston. The supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus who are conducting a nation-wide lecture movement in defense of Christian principles against the insidious propagandas of the enemies of God and country, have assigned Mr. Goldstein for a lecture in this city. Great enthusiasm is manifesting itself among the local Knights at the coming of their brother Knight, who is making his third annual tour for the order.

The committee of Kingston Council of the Knights of Columbus announces that Mr. Goldstein will gladly answer all questions related to his subject—Peace and War—at the conclusion of his address. This feature of the speaker's work adds zest to the occasion, for Mr. Goldstein is said to be a past master in meeting friend and foe face to face with a courteous but decisive defense of his convictions. The press near and far have a like story to tell. The Providence Journal says: "The readiness with which Mr. Goldstein handled the queries which were hurled at him, sometimes two and three at a time, indicated his thorough knowledge of his subject, and his ability to discuss it at all angles."

Summer School is Planned.

Poughkeepsie is to have a summer school in connection with its playground work. Summer sessions will enable pupils behind in their work for any reason to regain their places.

DON'T SADDLE THIS HEAVY LOAD ON YOUR NEW FRAME DWELLING

Plaster cannot adapt itself to the swelling and shrinking of the frame work. It cracks, chips, or falls, necessitating expensive patching and resulting in ugly walls.

Cornell-Wood-Board

2½ Per Square Foot

You will save money, in first cost and in upkeep cost by using Cornell-Wood-Board for your walls and ceilings. Its first cost is the last cost. In repairing, put Cornell-Wood-Board right over the dingy, cracked walls, with little muss and very moderate expense. Come in for samples, information, booklet, prices.

ARCHITECT BETZ BUSY.

Plans For Three Buildings, One to be in Syracuse.

John Washburn of Saugerties is to build a $25,000 house in the village on Barclay Heights, according to plans being made by Girard W. Betz, the local architect. The proposed new mansion will adjoin the house occupied by Robert Maines and is to be a magnificent brick residence, the dimensions of which are to be 40 by 80 feet.

Mr. Betz is also the architect for the new W. I. Addis Company of Syracuse, which is remodeling a five story structure on South Salina street. A new front is being built on the building, circassian walnut show cases are being installed, and the building is being remodelled throughout. The contract has been awarded to Heuber and Menekein, Syracuse contractors. As stated a week ago, the new company is owned by W. I. Addis, formerly manager of the L. B. Van Wagenen Company, and Frank Forman, of the Up-to-Date Company.

The Kelder home on Fair street has been bought by S. Weisberg, the ladies' tailor of Fair street, and it will soon be remodelled into a store and office building, Mr. Weisburg occupying the ground floor. Mr. Betz is also architect for this building.

Miss Elthea Lyons and Mrs. B. Davis called at Stephen Davis's Mon-Monday afternoon.

The surprise party held at the home of William Oakley Tuesday evening, February 8, was well attended. The evening was spent by playing games. Lunch of sandwiches, cake and candy was served. The party broke up around one o'clock, all reporting a fine time.

Elmer Carle spent Sunday with Moses Oakley.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Feb. 10.—It was a happy, pleased audience that greeted our Stone Ridge friends, who came in full fettle on Wednesday evening with their clever, bright skit, "Fifteen Miles to Happytown." Besides our own village folk there were some friends from beyond the limits of the village in the audience so that there was a well filled house. The play concerns the troubles, trials and tribulations of an automobile on its initial trip with a party of visitors and delegates to a convention. (The story is especially pertinent at this moment, as a late comer in the village in the line of gas troubles is just tuning up for steady work.) The remarks of the passengers as they talk with the disgusted chauffeur, are especially apt and so comforting while the rules and directions read to him are as everyone knows so clear and explanatory. (Sic.) Interspersed in the dialogue are several catchy songs, (solos and choruses), which were excellently rendered and as thoroughly enjoyed. The dialogue is full of good things and was also much appreciated by the audience. The Missionary Society, under whose auspices the Stone Ridge friends were invited to Hurley, are certainly to be congratulated for their effort, while the thanks of all, both the society and the audience, are most heartily given to the members of the Stone Ridge Church. We had certainly a most pleasant evening. The social hour, with its refreshments, made a happy ending to the whole affair.

The graduation class of our village school, ten in number, have completed an organization and now feel the importance of the approaching cessation of their school life in Hurley. The officers are: Miss Mary Arnst, president; Lawrence Baker, vice president; Miss Julia Lockwood, corresponding secretary; Miss Anna Mueller, recording secretary; John Stauble, treasurer. The class flower is the buttercup. The class colors are yellow and white. The class motto is "Strive and Succeed." A class pin is to be secured and the organization, full fledged, will get ready for the times ahead of it.

Enterprise Feed Mills—The "Jedge" has finally "got 'er a goin," and the mills are now ready for grinding business. In fact, grist has already been delivered for grinding and future deliveries are also assured. This industry adds another to our Hurley occupations and industries and we bespeak for it a hearty response from our neighbors. The outfit is an up-to-date one and has ample capacity to deliver ground feed quickly and efficiently. With the exception of the engineer and consulting engineer, the "Jedge" has, as yet, made no appointments to his force, but qualifications are being carefully considered and soon a complete line up of forces may be expected.

This year the consistory decided to omit the annual donation supper and instead collect a purse for the pastor. The indications are for a hearty response.

An organization of a club of Boy Scouts is being considered by the lads of the village.

MRS. H. G. McNORTH

MOTHER ALARMED OVER RICH WIDOW WHO MARRIED A BRITON.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mrs. G. M. Terwilliger of Brooklyn is anxious about the safety of her daughter, Mrs. Hylton George Morton North, whose husband is the second son of the late Hon. William North, a brother of the sixth Earl of Guilford.

Mrs. North is remembered by theatregoers as Gertrude Reynolds, a Weber and Fields girl, who married James P. McQuaide, a steel millionaire, who died in England. She married North soon after McQuaide's death.

Mrs. Terwilliger depends upon her daughter for support, and since December 1 she had not heard from her. At that time she was living on her English estate.

"I am in want of the actual necessities of life. I am starving," the mother said.

In the last letter from her daughter she said she was going to Italy and would write again when she reached Rome. Mrs. Terwilliger does not know whether North accompanied her daughter to Italy. "There was nothing in the letter to indicate she had trouble of any sort," she added.

ATWOOD.

Atwood, Feb. 10.—A valentine social will be held at the home of William Winchell Monday evening, February 14. A shilling supper will be served. Proceeds for the church. If stormy, next fair evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Markle and son spent Sunday with relatives at West Hurley.

Asa Oakley has returned to Walden after spending a few days at the home of his father.

Friends of Elijah Van Demark of Stone Ridge were shocked to hear of his sudden death on Sunday evening.

Miss Dorothy Markle was the guest of Hazel Hansen on Monday.

The Willing Workers will meet with Mrs. Hannah Bush on Wednesday afternoon, February 16.

Mr. Markle, the truant officer, called at the school on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guttomson are spending some time in the city, Mrs. Guttomson being called there by the illness of her sister.

Mrs. Mabel Osterhoudt spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Scott.

The Band!

JUST as stirring on Columbia Records as it ever was on the street or stage—and you hear it at home in all its vigor, in all its force and dramatic strength!

Band music on Columbia Records is vivid, rich reality—thrilling in marches that quicken the blood—noble and stately in the overtures of the world's master-composers.

Only an actual band performance can equal the power, the martial fire, the surging strength and sparkling brilliance of these Columbia Records:

Supply Table Needs at Planthaber's Saturday

Every Saturday we make it possible for home-keepers and others to be extra judicious and economical with the moneys set aside for table needs. Live, wide-awake, energetic people find pleasure and profit in shopping at our weekly events. We enjoy the confidence of patrons who make it a point to be certain of the quality and wholesomeness of the Groceries and Meats they buy and we hold their trade by reason of our square treatment. Of course, we occasionally lose a customer who is attracted elsewhere by the lure of ridiculous prices and inferior qualities; but he or she comes back after having learned a lesson in false economy. Let us fill your market basket Saturday!

Barrington's Convert

By JOHN Y. LARNED

Bob Barrington was one of those youngsters who are dead set against a humdrum life. Bob's father when the boy was fifteen years of age, secured him a position in a friend's counting room, but the friend soon told Mr. Barrington that Bob was not fitted for a commercial life.

"What's the trouble?" asked the parent.

"Well, the life's too cramped. What we want are young fellows for cog-wheels. They should go through the same routine every day; never ask questions or make suggestions, but do what they are told to do and no more. If they see anything that looks to them a bit—well, shrewd, they're not to flare up and call it dishonest. Our business is a machine, and every part must fit into every other part."

"I see," said Mr Barrington. "Bob is not in your line."

Bob was withdrawn and asked what he wished to do. He said he thought he would like to get a breath of fresh air, which, being explained, meant that he would like to go where natural instincts had a fuller play. To state the case more definitely, he proposed to go west and be a cowboy. His father, thinking that if his son had some experience in herding sheep during a blizzard he would be glad to come home and go to work in a civilized way, assented. Bob was well outfitted, being given a thousand dollars, which he was told must last him a year. He told his father that he didn't want any more than enough to take him to his destination and he wouldn't call on him for any more. So he handed back all but $200 and started on his journey.

The new life suited him exactly. He made a cowboy of himself for awhile, but, having displayed considerable nerve in several fracases, he was elected sheriff, at which calling he made a success.

One of his exploits during his term of office was the hunting down of a notorious desperado named Donohue. The outlaw came into the region over which Sheriff Barrington had jurisdiction and commenced a series of robberies that terrorized every one. Barrington made it his business to capture the man without killing him. Not that such a kindly act was obligatory on him. Indeed, his constituents would have much preferred that Donohue should be taken dead, for, in that case, the territory would be spared the expense of a trial. The truth was, Barrington never quite succeeded in eradicating civilization from his system and felt a repugnance against making an executioner of himself.

One day the sheriff was missed, and nothing was heard of him till one day he reappeared, with Mr. Donohue in a wagon, bound hand and foot. A meeting of citizens was called and, after a vote of thanks to Sheriff Barrington, decreed that a committee be appointed to hang the prisoner. Bob claimed the captive as his own and insisted that he be turned over to a court for trial This excited much opposition, on the ground that there was no evidence that Donohue had murdered any one. Consequently he could never be hanged.

However, it could not be denied that the prisoner belonged to Barrington, and, since he would not consent to the hanging, the man must be sent to a place where there was a court. Here, too, Barrington stood in the way of justice. Certain persons who knew of murders committed by the accused of which there were no eyewitnesses kindly consented to perjure themselves that a proper punishment might be inflicted. The sheriff would not consent to this, and when the judge proposed to give the convict all the imprisonment the law allowed Barrington stood out for two years. The judge, being a stanch supporter of the sheriff, acceded to his wishes.

One would suppose that saving a man's life and cutting down a term of ten years at hard labor to two would touch the heart of the subject of this magnanimity. Instead, when Donohue was taken away to serve his term he said:

"Sheriff, ef ye hadn't sneaked up on me and got the drop when I wasn't lookin' for you you wouldn't 'a' got me. Howsomever, I'll git out o' jail in two years from this yere present time, and it'll be you as'll have to look out fur me."

"Thank you kindly for mentioning your benevolent intentions," replied Bob. "I'll try and be in a position to congratulate you on having attained your freedom and keep from getting holed at the same time."

When Bob had been in the west a year his father asked him if he didn't wish to return and take up civilization again. Bob wrote that there was too much of a mixture between the good and the bad in civilization; he preferred the two separate, as they were in the west. The better class of people in the west made no pretense to culture, but they treated one another like Christians. When a man was bad he was bad all over and didn't pretend to be anything else. The consequence was that there was no mistaking either the good or the bad.

When Donohue had served some eighteen months of his term Bob's mother wrote her son that his father was ill and begged him to come home. Bob sighed, tumbled into the fine clothes he had worn when he reached the west and started for home. He had not worn a boiled shirt for a long time and felt in one now as if he were being garroted. He found his father in very bad health, and his continued presence at home was necessary. He therefore yielded to his parents' request and determined to remain with them.

When Donohue was released to recommence his preying upon the world the first person he proposed to prey upon was ex-Sheriff Barrington. Bob during the administration of the duties of his office had received a great many threats, none of which had materialized. When the two years of Donohue's term had rolled around Bob had forgotten all about it. Besides, he had left his old stamping ground and did not conceive it possible that a desperado in the west would take the trouble or have the means to travel a couple of thousand miles to hunt him up.

Donohue was a man with considerable pride, which had it not been misdirected might have been of advantage to him. He had made a statement at the time of his conviction and he proposed to carry it out at any cost. He had not been out of jail long when he had accumulated sufficient valuables and cash to pay his expenses east, and having obtained Barrington's address set out to find him and take his threatened revenge.

On reaching the city of his destination he realized that he would not have the same advantages in killing a man as in the west. It was possible there to do the deed, light out, seek other fields, and there was a chance of never being called to account for his crime. Not so in a city. To start gun play on a street would be to collect a crowd, followed by an officer, and there was no chance of escape except by the law's delays, and even then funds were required for the purpose. These imperfections in legal justice did not make it less desirable for honest persons than the code of the revolver or Judge Lynch.

Donohue therefore decided to steal up on his enemy as his enemy had stolen up on him. But this was not so easy in civilization as in a new country. Bolts separated him from the man he wanted, and he was not used to this way of getting at a man. However, he saw no other way and resolved to effect an entrance into Barrington's home at night and do the job there when Bob was asleep.

When Barrington had returned to his home he had tossed his revolver into a bureau drawer, and there it remained. One night Bob awoke suddenly. He did not know what it was that awakened him. During his term of service as sheriff, when he had many enemies, he had been a light sleeper, and the slightest sound would rouse him. Believing now that there was some cause for his broken sleep he listened and soon heard what turned out to be the raising of a sash on the main floor with a jimmy. Springing out of bed he seized an electric light he kept in his room and remembering the revolver in the drawer took it in his other hand. It had not been reloaded since his homecoming.

Going out into the hall he heard a sound as of some one lighting on a floor after getting in a window. Stepping in his stocking feet down the stairway he went into the living room and discovered himself behind the door His position was admirable. He could shoot through the crack made by the door and the wall. He had not been there long before by the dim light coming from the street lamps without he saw a figure coming through the hall. When it was about to turn to go upstairs Bob flashed his electric light with his left hand while with his right he thrust the muzzle of his revolver through the crack of the door.

"Hello, Donohue!" he said. "Is that you? Hands up! Quick, or I'll fire!"

Donohue, blinded by the bright light, was completely at his enemy's mercy He raised both hands at once. In his right hand was a revolver.

"Put your weapon on the stairs," said Bob. "Be quick about it, but don't make a noise."

Donohue had no choice but to do as he was told. He laid his revolver on a stair about as high as his head.

"Now back away from it. That'll do Stay where you are till I come."

Leaving his fortification, Bob went into the hall and drove his man into the dining room. There he turned on a light.

"I saved your life," he said, "and cut your time down to two years. This is your gratitude. I'm going to give you what you deserve. It won't be less than ten years."

The man looked the picture of despair. Ten more years in stripes! The prospect was too much for him.

"I'd rather have you settle me with a little lead!" he groaned. "You must at least give me credit for sayin' that I was goin' to do it."

"That's something in your favor, and you have shown a perseverance in following me up which if exerted in a better cause would have brought you comfort. Have you ever been married?"

"Yes; to a woman I don't deserve. She left me long ago, takin' the kids with her."

Donohue's voice trembled.

"You couldn't do that."

"I can, with your help."

An hour later a plan was arranged by which Donohue should start afresh. He made good, with Barrington's assistance, and a time came when he was reunited to his wife and children.

He and they worship the ground Bob Barrington treads.

Dodging.

"If I had my way," said the positive woman, "I'd make every unmarried man pay a special tax."

"What would be the use?" rejoined Miss Cayenne. "Any man who can successfully dodge matrimony would surely succeed in dodging his taxes."—Washington Star.

We believe we should publicly express our appreciation of the prompt and flattering response of many of our citizens and business men of this city, to our efforts in producing a pure and higher grade of milk, cream, butter, ice cream and cheese. We are already assured that our generous expenditure in enlarging our plant and installing the latest and best purifying and pasteurizing apparatus that can be obtained, will be justified by the new business that is already coming to us.

There is no better argument for the pasteurizing of milk in this city than the present epidemic of typhoid fever that our health officer reports he has traced to the raw milk supplied by one of the local milk dealers.

Dr. Herman N. Biggs, State Commissioner of Health, has declared over and over again that raw milk is not safe to consume, and that all milk should be properly pasteurized before it is sold.

Not only milk, but our other products, such as cream, butter, ice cream, etc., are to be properly pasteurized, a better grade made, with its purity guaranteed, and no increase in the price. We wish the consumer to fully understand he is dealing directly with the producer.

Twice a week we are shipping to New York city a large consignment of sweet, unsalted butter, that stands next to Borden's pasteurized butter, now selling for 47 cents a pound. When ours is pasteurized, we believe it will be better than the Borden product.

The sale of our butter (both sweet and salted,) our health-giving buttermilk and cream cheese has increased over 100 per cent in the past two weeks. Nearly every grocery store handles our products. If you cannot secure them of your grocer call "The Creamery" on the telephone, 788, and we will promptly deliver to you absolutely pure, fresh, sweet food products by special delivery.

Our regular milk and cream routes cover all parts of the city. We will be pleased to deliver to you every day.

PAID LARGE SALARIES

Club Owners Surprised at Immense Amount of Money Spent to Secure Stars From Major Leagues—A Few Examples.

The liberality of the Federal league toward its ball players left the club owners of organized ball dumfounded when the Feds showed their salary list at the recent peace meeting. A club owner in one of the major leagues stated that he was surprised when the Federal league officials told of the thousands of dollars they had spent on inflated salaries. In order to lure the players away from the major leagues their salaries were doubled and some of them tripled. According to the officials of organized ball, it was this unusual extravagance of the Federal league which caused its downfall.

A few examples of the increase which the Federal league gave in salaries, shows that it was impossible for the Federal league to ever come out even financially. The following table shows how much salary some of the players received under organized baseball and what the Federal league paid them:

Player	Organized Ball.	Federal League.
Campbell	3,200	8,500
Cooper	2,500	7,500
Falkenberg	4,000	8,500
Kauff	2,000	7,500
Seaton	2,000	8,200
Chase	6,000	9,000

Not only did the Federal league sign these players and many others at these exorbitant salaries for long terms, but it gave them bonuses of from $1,000 to $5,000 advances at the time they signed.

Old, seasoned baseball men state that the most prosperous days that baseball has ever had could not afford such high salaries. When the assembled National and American league officials listened to the Federal league men as they unfolded their tale of woe they looked at each other in surprise.

Joe Tinker.

An official of organized baseball said: "They estimate that the Federal league lost $3,000,000 in this venture. I tell you that $4,500,000 or $5,000,000 would be nearer the mark. It was the biggest piece of folly I ever heard of to imagine that any baseball league could live and pay the players such salaries."

It is estimated that more than seventy-five of the ball players whom the Federal league enticed away from organized ball with the big offer of money received more than twice as much as they received with organized ball. This item alone would represent an annual expenditure of $225,000.

It can readily be seen now why the big issue in the peace negotiations is the seventy or more players whom the Federal league has under iron-bound contracts at these inflated salaries. Organized baseball has told the Federal league club owners that they cannot hope to pay these salaries, even if they take the players back. It is believed that the compromise will be effected by organized ball paying the greater part of the salaries to the players they take, while the Federal league must make up the balance.

Lay's Saturday Sale

Our great Saturday Sales have acquired importance in hundreds of Kingston homes where the advantages of these events are readily recognized and where they were least expected to be enjoyed. These sales with their immense lines of high-grade meats and poultry at liberal special price reductions, are extending their benefits widely in all directions, and we have noted convincing signs that they will reach farther. Those of our patrons who are advocates of "Preparedness" know that economy brings thrift, thrift makes families prosper; prosperous families are the life of a strong nation. A strong nation depends not solely upon armaments of war for protection, but upon men who are healthful and made strong by eating prime, fresh meats, such as we sell. Trade here and you'll always be prepared for eventualities.

Scientific Farming

NEXT SPRING'S BERRY CROP.

Moisture Conditions of the Soil Materially Affect the Yields.

Berries of all kinds, like other cultivated crops, require the right kind of soil and preparation for the best results, says a contributor to the Farm Progress. Big and profitable crops of berries grow from soil that is well fertilized and thoroughly worked before the plants are set out in the hills or rows.

Moisture conditions of the soil affect the yield of all kinds of berries wonderfully. In years when the soil is moist during fruiting season the crops are usually large, while at other seasons when the soil is dry when the fruit is setting and ripening the crops are usually light and often an entire failure. Other things considered, to

The humus supply in the soil determines to a large degree the length of time moisture will be held during a dry spell during the growing season. The more humus the longer moisture will be held; the less humus the quicker the soil will dry out and the plants suffer. One of the best ways to supply humus to the soil and at the same time furnish extra fertility is to apply stable manure. Land that is to be planted to berries this coming spring should be covered heavily with manure this winter, the sooner the better.

If the berry patch soil is covered early in the winter any kind of fresh stable manure may be used liberally with safety. During the winter and early spring it will have time to leach, decompose and become mild, to be turned under when the soil is plowed. It is not safe to apply and plow under fresh manure for berries, because the fresh manure has a tendency through fermentation and decay to dry the soil and injure the roots of the young plants. If berry soil is treated in late winter or early spring the manure should be reasonably well decomposed and mild. That from cow stables is milder than that from horse stables.

For winter treatment of berry soil any kind of manure of home produced fertilizer may be used. A variety is better than a single kind. That from the poultry house is excellent, but must be scattered thinly over the ground, as it is strong. That from hog and sheep houses is good, but is rich and must be used sparingly. The different kinds may be mixed together for use. Wood ashes are excellent fertilizer for all kinds of fruits and especially good for small fruits. They may be applied to the soil any time during the winter and early spring.

One of the best ways to use poultry droppings on small fruit soil is to use coal ashes or dry soil to mix with and to serve as moisture and odor absorbent for the perch droppings. In this way the full value of the droppings is saved, and when the fertilizer is applied with the absorbent it is disintegrated and mild for use. More surface can be covered with the same amount of fertilizer. Do not, however, use wood ashes in the poultry house as an absorbent for poultry droppings, as the ashes decompose the droppings.

Ground rock phosphate, either acidulated or raw, may be applied to the berry soil with good results. If the acidulated is used apply it only just before planting time, or even later, working it into the soil between rows through cultivation, as it acts quickly. Raw rock phosphate may be applied any time before preparing the soil because it dissolves very slowly in the soil, acting slowly, but a longer time. One of the best ways to use raw rock phosphate on berry soil is to sprinkle it in the cow stable as an absorbent, then applying it mixed with the stable manure.

Money in Poultry.

In making up an egg ration do not forget a liberal allowance of sunshine. But remember also that it takes more than sunshine to produce eggs. It needs pure solid grains, and lots of them. The poultryman who can make his hens lay eggs in the winter, when they bring the highest prices, is the one that shows his ability.

New Brand.

Lady (in book department)—Have you "Coffee and Repartee?"

Clerk—Groceries upstairs, madam. I'm not sure that we carry that brand of tea, but you might inquire.—Boston Transcript.

ROCK ROADS—ROCK VALUES.

Kansas City Banker Points Out Money Value of Good Roads.

Kansas and Missouri are very active in building good highways—"rock roads," as they are called in that country, where limestone is the handiest material. One of the good roads boosters is W. S. Webb, a Kansas City banker, and he puts year round highways in terms of banking.

"We bankers will lend $10 to $25 an acre more on a farm situated on a rock road," he says. "Bankers in this neighborhood are keen judges of farm values. Most of them have farms as places for rest and play. Few bankers are good farmers when it comes to making actual profits on crops, but their farming pays handsomely in health and in understanding of the problems confronting farmers, with whom we do much of our business.

"The first thing the banker does when you approach him for a loan on farm property is to determine the selling value of the farm. He will lend you half the selling value, and he arrives at the selling value by ascertaining three things:

"First.—The soil, its character, condition and producing capacity, for a fertile farm in good tilth will grow crops, no matter where located or what the nature of its improvements.

"Second.—Its location, which means convenience to markets, schools, stores and other factors that increase value. Here is where the kind of road running past the farm plays a big part.

"Third.—Buildings and improvements.

"These are all estimated in actual money. The money estimates are added. The total represents the selling value of the farm, and the banker will lend half of that.

"Suppose the land is set down as worth $40 an acre. If it is located on a rock road over which the owner can haul crops any month in the year the banker will add $10 an acre for that item. Probably the buildings will not come to more than $10 an acre, so the hard road is worth as much as the buildings in actual money. The total selling value of that farm is $60 an acre, and the banker will lend $30. On land worth $100 an acre a hard road adds $25."—Country Gentleman.

This Huge Sum Was Spent In 1914 For Roads In United States.

Very nearly a quarter of a billion dollars were spent in highway construction and maintenance in the United States during the year 1914, as shown by statistics issued by the office of public roads and rural engineering. One-fifth of the work was done under the state aid system, the various state highway departments paying $24,220,000 and the counties and townships $25,220,000. State aid laws are in effect in forty-four states, New Jersey having instituted the system in 1891 and Tennessee and Georgia being among the last to adopt it.

Thirteen states spent $25,605,000 during the year in the construction and maintenance of state roads solely at their own expense, making a total of almost $50,000,000 paid directly out of state funds. One-third as much ($12,500,000) was spent for repairs and maintenance as was spent for new construction ($35,500,000). This shows the enormous loss resulting from the building of types of roads whose surfaces are not durable under present traffic conditions. Six eastern states paid two-thirds as much out of the state treasury for maintenance as for new construction.

Maintaining Concrete Roads.

The methods of maintaining the concrete roads of Wayne county, Mich., are set forth in detail in the ninth annual report of the county road commissioners, which has recently been published. For this work the authorities use a crew of seven men, provided with a team, tar kettle, several wire bristle brooms, wheelbarrow, tar bucket and sprinkling cans. The operating cost of this outfit is as follows: Foreman, $5 per day; team and driver, $5 per day; tar man, $3 per day; two laborers at $2.50 per day each and two laborers at $2.25 per day each. All cracks or spalled joints are cleaned with wire brooms and then filled with tar heated to about 225 degrees F. This is allowed to stand for a few minutes to prevent bubbling and is then covered with clean, coarse, dry sand, spread with a shovel, an excess of tar and sand being used and the traffic allowed to smooth it out. Pitholes are treated in a similar manner. The material used is a special mixture of tarvia, which has a melting point of about 85 degrees F. A hole or crack that does not extend through the road, but is over an inch in depth, is cleaned and dried out, painted with hot tar and filled with stone of a suitable size, graded as nearly as possible to fill the voids. This is tamped or rolled in place, after which it is covered with hot tar, enough being used so that most of it will be taken up by the remaining voids. Coarse dry sand is then shoveled over the surface.

Indorse County Road System.

The State Highway Officials' Association of New Mexico has indorsed the state highway commission and the county road board system. It was recommended that where necessary for the sake of harmony a member of the board of county commissioners be appointed on the road board. The United States department of agriculture was requested to make provisions for an advance of $2,000,000 annually for building roads in the national forests of New Mexico. Congress also was urged to pass a joint memorial granting 2,000,000 acres of public lands in New Mexico for highway purposes.

Man's Limitations.

Man has been able to learn some things, but has forgotten many others. He has not added one sense to his senses, one limb to his limbs, one faculty to his soul. He has merely explored another region of the circle in which he is confined. The human mind is always in motion. It runs from one point to another. It exalts what it embraces and forgets what it has abandoned. It never manages to cultivate one part of its domain without leaving the others fallow.—"The Inequality of the Human Races."

Church Steeples.

The church steeple was originally designed as a means of advertising the situation of the church. Among the low buildings which originally prevailed the steeple was an impressive beacon, but under modern conditions it is a failure, as even the most towering steeple is lost among the higher industrial structures reared around it. The steeple is really being replaced by electricity, which answers the purpose much more satisfactorily. Electrically illuminated signs are being introduced quite extensively for this purpose.

Light of the Future.

Professor Ulric Dahlgren of Princeton university predicts that the time will come when the luciferous substance of chemical composition carried by fireflies, certain fish and other animals will be used for illuminating houses and other purposes. He believes that this will come about when the nature and proportions of the chemical constituents of these substances are discovered and says they will give a light having an efficiency of 99 per cent instead of the 15 per cent produced by lights now in use.

Insist on Teichler's Bread

In the grains that are minted by the wheat plants from the soil is almost every needful constituent of human food—food that builds muscle and brain—and all these nourishing qualities are concentrated in

TEICHLER'S STEAMED WHEAT BREAD

In these days of food adulteration, the head of every Kingston family should see to it that the bread placed on the table is free from plaster of paris, or "A. B. C. flour," as certain unscrupulous bakers call it. The president of an outside-of-Kingston baking concern which sells bread here admitted recently that plaster of paris was used in its bread because it "made the loaves look larger." Ask for and insist on getting Teichler's Bread.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Feb. 10.—The Auxiliary Club was most delightfully entertained last Friday at the M. E. Church parlors when Mrs. George Coutant, Mrs. Robert Cummings, Mrs. George Cornell and Mrs. DeWitt Clearwater acted the part of hostesses of the afternoon and everything possible was done for the comfort of the members and visitors by these ladies. The weather was favorable and the attendance large and enthusiastic, and every one was cordial and hospitable. Mrs. R. H. Decker, the president, welcomed the members and visitors in her usual courteous manner and the pleasant and profitable exchange of ideas was commenced and gone through with as a unit. The women of this club possess the spirit of the pioneer and are and have been in front ranks as church workers for years. The session, after the reports of various committees, was devoted to the consideration of subjects thoroughly presented by the president and profitable discussions followed in which many members took part. Enthusiasm was contagious and any who were in doubt were soon ready to enter in the topics. The vote was taken in regard to the annual supper and sale and it was decided to have it in April. It is to take on the air of Easter. This club continues to grow in membership and all are loyal and devoted to its every interest. They received into membership three ladies, namely, Mrs. Uriah Decker, Mrs. Charles DuBois and Mrs. Lloyd Plass, who are good workers, and they entertained three guests, Mrs. Atkins, Miss Atkins and Mrs. Linson of Kingston. It is the desire of the president that every member of the club do her best in making articles and soliciting from friends to make the Easter sale a success and all will feel a thrill of enthusiasm as they work earnestly and unweariedly for the church and hope one and all will respond with every influence in their power. The social hour was unusually interesting and the luncheon most inviting, consisting of sandwiches, salad, jelly, pickles, several varieties of cake and coffee, and all were united in their expressions of enjoyment, knowing the outstretched hand of fellowship and encouragement always receives the clasp of gratitude and appreciation. If we would gather flowers, we must plant the seed. Service is the great undying principle of life and the universe. All women of the club are doing a notable work and all know how to entertain in a whole-souled manner. It was late when all left the church for their homes, waiting anxiously for the first Friday in March for the next meeting.

G. Bradshaw of Montreal was here for a short stay last week at his home on Milton avenue.

Dr. Freston of Milton was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Martin have had guests from Milton the past week.

Monday evening friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Batt gave them a surprise and all had a most enjoyable time.

Richard Lent, who is working out at White Plains, Dutchess county, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lent, on Grand street.

Miss Leroy of Lakehurst, N. J., has been visiting relatives here a few days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith are being congratulated upon the arrival of a young daughter, which arrived to brighten their home Monday evening. Louie is wearing a very broad smile at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Griffin of Vineyard avenue have been entertaining guests from out of town.

Mrs. Harry Schumacher of Brooklyn has spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hopper, on Vineyard avenue.

Tuesday evening there was a rehearsal at the home of Mrs. R. H. Decker for the farce. "Dinner at Six." The cast includes these people: Mrs. Charles DuBois, Mrs. Lloyd Plass, Miss Hattie Dickson and Miss Bessie Dickson, little Ruby Cornell, George Canfield and William Maynard, and also on the program, Mrs. E. A. Marsh will give tow recitations, Miss Ethel Wilcox, two vocal selections and music by the orchestra, consisting of Mrs. Kelsey Staples, Miss Bessie Dickson, Charles DuBois, Hubert Elting, George Canfield and William Maynard. This will give all a full evening's pleasure. Then there will be on sale fine sherbet and cake, so just go to the M. E. Church February 25 and help the club out for you certainly will be pleased.

The Epworth League Colonial Fete which was held last Friday evening in the M. E. Church parlors proved to be very successful. There were 13 colonies represented with people in costume and from these places one was expected to purchase their supper, and everything was first class. There was music by the orchestra and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. V. A. Reed entertained the P. E. O. Society Thursday afternoon.

The cottage prayer meeting was well attended Tuesday evening at the home of Lorin OsterLoudt on North Road.

Several of the young boys from here were in New Paltz Saturday evening last to witness the basketball game. After the game all had a grand time dancing. They speak very highly of this sport.

John Redding from Milton was in this place Thursday last and attended the Odd Fellows' public installation of officers.

John C. Feeter was in town last week. He is looking fine. He is very much taken with New Rochelle, where his daughter and husband reside. He and Mrs. Feeter have been visiting them for a long time.

Miss Ethel Wilcox of New York was a week end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins of North Road have had for a visitor recently, their daughter, Mrs. William Tabor of New Jersey.

Edward Miller was in Poughkeepsie Sunday last, calling on some friends.

Capt. R. H. Decker was among the many from this place who attended the automobile show in Poughkeepsie last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kniffin had as their guest recently Mrs. Lydia Terwilliger of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lane of Poughkeepsie spent last Sunday in this place with Mrs. Isaac Hammond an aunt of Mr. Lane.

George Mingey of Cobleskill, Schoharie county, was a guest this week of Captain and Mrs. R. H. Decker. It is about 10 years since he has been in Highland. He found many changes in that time. He is a prominent business man at Cobleskill and a great church worker. His mother and one sister reside in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jere Miller were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Clearwater of this place have with them for a short time their son, Victor, who was recently united in marriage to Miss Mabel Eden of Irvington. They will remain here until the opening of the famous Mohonk House, where Mr. Clearwater has a very fine position. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Harry Dobbs is quite ill at his home here with the grip. It seems new cases are developing daily. We hope to see Harry out soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Zophar Aldrich will soon leav here for Putnam county. They are going to move about March 1.

George Huson and family are going to move in Putnam county on a farm. There seems to be quite a number of changes around here.

Last Saturday evening a meeting was called at the hose house of three firemen, three citizens and the three fire inspectors to discuss plans for better fire equipment. A very important thing that should be gotten is a fire signal, something that can be heard for a long distance, for church bells are not satisfactory in case of a fire. It was decided to install a compressed air signal, which they will have placed in the Highland garage building, as there is always some one there to look after affairs, and this thing is one great need in our village.

Word has been received from Harry W. Maynard that he is enjoying every moment of warm weather in the south. His sister, Mrs. W. Howell, of Bogota, N. J., went with him, and they are eating fresh strawberries, grape fruit, oranges and other grand things, which are so much better than we poor mortals can get here.

Mrs. R. H. Decker has received a special invitation to visit Catskill Chapter, O. E. S., Tuesday evening, February 15, at which time the newly-appointed D. D. G. M., Mrs. Elizabeth, Freer, of Ellenville makes her official visit with the A. G. L., Mr. Magee, at his home chapter in Catskill. Mrs. Decker frequently visits the many chapters through the 9th, 10th and 11th districts. She has some invitations for city visits also.

Uriah Decker, our efficient mail carrier, has had a siege of grip. Glad to report he is out now and expects soon to be upon the route again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Decker had guests this week from Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Chester Atkins and daughter have been visiting her people in New York city.

Mrs. Vincent Jordan is around again after being confined to her home with a severe attack of the grip and jaundice.

Andrew Upright is improving slowly. He has a trained nurse in attendance and friends are hoping to hear of his speedy recovery.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, Feb. 10.—The play entitled "The Holy Terrors," given by members of the Boy Scouts in All Saint's parish house on Tuesday evening, was a grand success. Much credit is due those, who acted their respective parts, which were loudly applauded. After the entertainment dancing was indulged in. Music was furnished by Roenan's orchestra. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and soft drinks were served. Proceeds for the benefit of the Scouts.

Mrs. George Mattman has an attack of grip and tonsilitis. She is under the care of Dr. C. V. Hasbrouck. Mr. Mattman is able to be around the house.

Mrs. E. A. Conway had one of her attacks of sickness on Monday last. At this writing she is very much improved.

Mrs. Moffatt, who has been stopping at the bake shop, has returned to her home on Depot Hill.

Miss Caroline Anderson and Earl Zugella were visitors to Kingston on Saturday.

Mrs. Laura LeFever celebrated her 88 birthday on Tuesday. Mrs. LeFever is the oldest resident of our village, and until recently has been able to go out to call on the neighbors.

James McAvoy has been suffering with blood poison in his hand the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen attended the birthday party of Jacob A. Lay in Kingston last Thursday.

Alfred Apgar, our village truckman, is about to leave us. It is rumored he will sell out and move to Chicville, where he has secured a lucrative position. Mr. Apgar has a host of friends in this village, who are sorry to see him go, as he was always very kind and obliging, and would do his friends a favor whenever he could. We wish him success.

Mr. Dunnett of Ohio has moved in the building recently vacated by Emzy Lewis.

Miss Lulu Slater of Kingston attended the entertainment in All Saint's parish house on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. William E. Bryan is visiting relatives at Corning.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Davis of Kyserike were at Deputy Davis's on Sunday.

It is rumored that Mr. Minturn has sold his property in this village to city people.

Mrs. William E. Bryan and the Misses Adalaide and Kathryn attended the symphony concert at Kingston High School on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph LeFever were callers at Bloomington on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. James Hasbrouck and daughter, Lavonia, of Tappan, N. J., are guests of relatives in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Freer were week end guests of their daughter, Mrs. Alva Minard, at New Paltz.

Miss Delores Hayden has returned from a visit with relatives in Kingston.

Mrs. William Roper, who formerly resided in this village, was buried in St. Peter's cemetery on Sunday.

Ernest Kelder of Kingston visited his parents, Abram Kelder and wife, the past week.

Mrs. Andrew Smith has returned from a pleasant visit in New York.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church met at the home of Mrs. John Oliy on Thursday afternoon, February 3. A goodly number were present. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

Mrs. Fred Fout of Kingston spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Andrew Smith, the past week.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

Surrogate Gill has granted letters of administration on the estate of Mena Affron of this city to her daughter, Mary Shuman. The value of the estate is $240 personal property. DeWitt Roosa appeared for the administratrix. The administratrix and Bessie Mones, one of the sureties on her bond, signed their names in Yiddish, and the petition and bond are the first documents to be filed in the surrogate's courts in which names have been so signed.

In the matter of the guardianship of Lucy Smith, Celor Smith and Carrie Smith, letters of guardianship were issued to Mamie Smith of the town of Wawarsing. H. Westlake Coons appeared for the petitioners.

HORSE TIES UP TRAFFIC.

Caught Hoof in Crossing and Stopped Cars for 15 Minutes.

Thursday while Abram Adin, the milkman, was driving his horse down Hasbrouck avenue the animal's hoof in some manner became caught on the Ulster & Delaware railroad crossing at Murray street, and the hoof became wedged so tightly that the horse was unable to free it. Policeman O'Neil and several bystanders with the aid of crowbars finally freed the horse. Traffic on the Colonial line was tied up for a quarter of an hour while the men worked to free the animal. When the horse was finally released it was found necessary to remove the iron shoe from the hoof. The horse will be unable to work for several days.

Reopen Washington Hall Bar.

Schuler & Glynn will reopen the bar at Washington Hall, Abeel street, tomorrow morning after nearly three weeks suspension following the fire. The hall proper has not yet been restored but the bar room and living rooms have been improved by the owners, the Hauck Brewing Company. A summer garden will be added the coming season.

Post Office Hours Saturday.

Holiday hours will be observed Saturday at the post office. The stamp windows at both the central and sub stations will be open until 10 o'clock in the morning and the lobbies will be open until 9 o'clock at night for the convenience of box holders. There will be one delivery and one collection of mail that day.

Fell 100 Feet and Lives.

Patrick Lannigan, a section foreman on the West Shore railroad, fell nearly 100 feet Tuesday night down an embankment near the Bellevue Villa site. He was badly cut about the head and taken to St. Luke's hospital, Newburgh, for treatment.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, Feb. 11.—Over two hundred members and friends of the Saugerties Business Men's Association attended the banquet held Thursday evening in the Orpheum Theater. FROM PRIZE RING TO PULPIT.

Atlantic City, Feb. 11.—Billy Sunday went from the baseball diamond to the evangelist's platform and his record is being duplicated by Jack Cardiff, who is one of Dr. Stough's assistants in the evengelical campaign in Atlantic City, where more than 3,000 persons have "hit the trial."

Jack Cardiff was a professional fighter and had 297 ring battles to his credit when he hit the trail in one of Billy Sunday's meetings at Canton, Ohio, in 1912. After his conversion he became trainer for the athletic evangelist and was with him for a couple of years. Cardiff says that during his prize ring career he never drank or smoked and has always kept in perfect physical condition.

The former pugilist announces that next year he will conduct his own campaign making a strong fight "against the devil and booze." His wife and two daughters are preparing to help him in this work and are now studying at the Moody Institute in Chicago.

The Specter Of Goruckpoor

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The garrison of Goruckpoor, in the province of Oudh, India, in the year 1862 consisted of 4,000 men, and about half of these were split up into small detachments and stationed here and there in the north to keep order among the hillmen and punish raiding dacoits. Dacoits are bands of robbers under command of a chief who holds a religious influence over them, and they are yet the pests of India along the foothills of the Himalayas. They are daring men and hard fighters, and very few British soldiers who fall into their hands are spared.

We were in the midst of what seemed to be peace when the government dispatched a large train of treasure and military supplies from Goruckpoor for Ghoorka. Colonel Kemble, who had been ordered to take command of the garrison at the latter place, being just back from a year's leave of absence in England, was with the train, and the whole was escorted by 250 cavalrymen. The route for the train brought it past our station, where it rested for a day and then moved on. In a defile fifteen miles to the north of us it was ambushed by over a thousand dacoits and suffered a severe misfortune. There was not only a heavy loss in killed and wounded, but the treasure and a portion of the supplies were captured and run off by the dacoits.

The remnant of the train returned to us and went into camp until re-enforcements could come up, and the bullet headed, tyrannical Colonel Kemble, whose obstinacy and recklessness had brought about the disaster, proceeded to make it red hot for everybody. It was a well populated country, with hundreds of loyal natives to be picked up, but the colonel proceeded to look upon each and every one as guilty of having had a hand in the attack on the train. More than a score were shot or hanged offhand, while many were whipped at the post or ordered out of the district. It was a reign of terror for three weeks, and the end was a fitting one.

My own detachment one day brought in a mere boy whom we had found cowering in a thicket. The colonel bulldozed and browbeat him and finally ordered his execution on the ground that he was a spy. It was only when he knew that he must die that the young fellow braced up and showed his courage, and as he was being led away to execution he said to the colonel:

"Sahib Colonel, I am innocent, and you will be punished for my death. You may shoot me and bury my body, but my spirit will follow you to the grave."

Half an hour later he was dead, but he was the last one to be executed. At midnight that night the colonel called the sentinel into his tent, and, with white face and trembling voice and the perspiration standing out on his forehead, he said:

"I see nobody, sir," replied the sentinel.

"He is there, I tell you! He followed me to mess and back, and he has been here in plain sight all the evening. Take him away!"

"But there's nobody here, sir."

And there wasn't. The sentinel called in two officers, who looked and searched in vain and assured Colonel Kemble that no boy was present. He tried to turn it off with a laugh, but in less than twenty-four hours every man in camp knew that the colonel was haunted by a specter. He made a brave effort to bluff it out, but it was useless. The specter followed at his heels by day and sat by his bedside at night, and in a week the strong, aggressive man was becoming a mental wreck. He turned to us for pity and sympathy, but we had little to give. He had been brutal and without mercy in his vengeance.

The surgeon looked upon the case at first as some disorder of the brain, but later on acknowledged that it was something beyond his medicine. No one else could see the specter. The colonel would say that it sat beside him or stood in the door, but there was nothing for the eyes to rest upon. He would draw his sword and cut and slash and thrust at the specter, but he could not harm it. By the surgeon's advice the colonel returned to Goruckpoor. It was reported as a case of breaking down over mental anxiety, but hundreds of people came to know better. The specter followed him back, followed him to the house of a friend, sat with him through every night and dogged at his heels through every hour of the day. He could no more shake it off than he could change the color of his eyes. He made the gamest sort of fight, knowing that his future career was at stake, and at length all men came to pity him—pity him and avoid him as one accursed. He was medically treated, given brief furloughs and every effort made to build him up, but at the end of eight months, every day and every night of which had been a terror to him, he ended by blowing out his brains.

Was it a case of a man haunted by a spirit seeking revenge? It was not so reported officially, but from first to last and from the highest to the lowest, and this includes two surgeons, it was fully and firmly believed that it was, and the uncanny affair had a great influence over other officers in their future treatment of the natives.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our dear mother.

HOW TO MANAGE YOUR COLD WEATHER VENTILATION.

It is easy enough to ventilate the house in warm weather. One simply leaves most of the windows open most of the time. To be sure, we are often assured by scientists that this method does not ventilate. We are even told that the air out of doors is not always ventilated. But we manage to thrive in the closeness of the outdoor atmosphere, and we manage to feel comfortable if we get a good deal of this atmosphere into our houses.

However, unless our houses are equipped with a system of artificial ventilating, open windows form the best means of ventilating. It is, of course, a matter settled nowadays that we sleep with open windows, one open at the top, one at the bottom. In this way we keep our bedrooms well aired. And in the house where the bedrooms serve only for sleeping rooms the windows should be left open as much as possible during the day. Children especially should sleep in rooms that have been well ventilated throughout the day.

In the case of stormy weather too much of the outdoors sometimes comes into the windows, even of our bedrooms. There are various methods of keeping this weather out. In case of too strong winds cheesecloth screens answer the purpose. For these just cover a regular screen frame with a couple of thicknesses of cheesecloth. Then put it in place.

Weatherboards to put in partly open windows are also admirable. These make ventilation possible without creating a very big draft.

DENTAL HYGIENE.

How to Have Well Kept Teeth That Last a Lifetime.

We cannot all have small, even, white teeth, but we can all have perfectly kept teeth. A careful mother begins the attention to her children's teeth as soon as they push through the gums. She cleans them with a bit of absorbent cotton on the end of her scrubbed finger, and as the child grows older she brushes them. Nowadays all the teeth of all school children are inspected, which will result in better teeth, with no false teeth before the age of fifty, except under unusual conditions.

The teeth should be brushed after every meal and cleaned with a paste at least every other day. Do not use any of the powders that are gritty, however cleansing they may be. Teeth cannot be treated the same as a bathtub. Always after eating anything every particle of food should be removed from between the teeth with dental floss. This is really the only safe means of dislodging foodstuff. Brush up and down on the surface of the teeth, not across. Gritty powders in time destroy the enamel, and brushing across the grain has the same effect. Brush the inner side of the teeth as thoroughly as the outer, being careful to cleanse the mouth well. Now, the average woman is apt to feel she has done her duty when the teeth are brushed. This is not true. A mouth wash is just as necessary. Rinse the mouth daily with any good alkali wash.

How to Cover Buttons to Match Your Frock.

Do you cover your own buttons? It means a saving and gives variety to a costume. It can be done by crochet stitches or by needlework as well as by bits of fancy silk, too insignificant for any other use. Objections have been heard on the score that the result is not as satisfactory as professional work, but the answer to that is the injunction to do all the work neatly. Slipshod methods are to be condemned everywhere, although, to be sure, time is wasted in the inside finish of frocks. Even expensive dressmakers have taken a hint from Paris and concentrated on externals.

To get the greatest amount of heat from a gas range and not waste gas the gas should not be turned any higher than will give a perfect blue flame. When the flame becomes a yellowish red the gas is being wasted and giving a heat that smokes and smudges cooking utensils and shortens their period of usefulness about one-half. In cooking have the flame about one-half inch of clear blue and after the article being cooked reaches the boiling point reduce the flame to only such a height as will keep it boiling. This also applies to oven jets.

How to Make Beauty Bags For Your Daily Bath.

Make the bags of cheesecloth about four inches square or a little larger and fill them loosely with the following mixture: Oatmeal (not rolled oats), a pound; powdered orris root, a quarter of a pound; almond meal, a quarter of a pound; powdered castile soap, four ounces. A few drops of oil of verbena may be added if liked.

How to Wash Pongee So That It Looks Like New.

Wash a pongee garment or material in a warm suds of white soap and hang it out until bone dry. Under no consideration ever sprinkle it. Iron it on the wrong side, and you will find it retains its luster and looks like new.

Served Its Purpose.

Kathryn—I noticed you're not doing your complexion as carefully as you used to.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mollie Fancher is dead. The most remarkable invalid the world has ever known—the courageous little woman who was bedridden for fifty years, passed away in her sleep in the rosewood bed in which she lay for half a century. A complication of diseases, aggravated by a severe cold, which she contracted a few days ago, caused her death in her Brooklyn home today. Mollie Fancher was 66 years old. She was 16 when she was rendered a cripple as the result of a street car accident.

Poughkeepsie Milkmen to Fight.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The repeal of the free sugar clause of the Underwood tariff law was decided upon today by Democratic members of the House ways and means committee. After a meeting of the Democrats, Chairman Kitchin announced that the repeal bill would be favorably reported by the committee within a week and would be laid before a Democratic house caucus as soon as possible.

Garrison is Through.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 11.—Ex-Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison announced today that he was through with public life forever and that he would take up private practice of law. He declined to discuss his resignation from the cabinet or any political questions.

Annapolis Cadets Dismissed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today approved the report of the academy board of the Annapolis Naval Academy which recommended the dismissal of 82 cadets because of poor work in their stduies. This action closes the case. The cadets will be dismissed at once.

Independent to Succeed Garrison.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson wants an independent in politics, who has accurate knowledge of military affairs to succeed Secretary of War Garrison, resigned. If man of this type can be secured he will be appointed. If not then either Secretary of the Interior Lane or Secretary of Agriculture Houston probably will be transferred to the vacancy and the new cabinet member given that vacancy. The president has a man under consideration who he believes fits the bill.

The Important Thing.

They were speaking about looking on the practical side of things, and this incident was recalled:

One afternoon late in the fall Uncle Josh was driving slowly toward the town when an acquaintance excitedly rushed out to the road and hailed him.

"Say, Josh," he exclaimed in a palpitating voice, "have ye heard the news?"

Cutting Up Old Furs.

There is a knack of cutting up old furs with which all women are not familiar. The pelt should be turned wrong side up and the skin slowly and carefully cut with a sharp penknife, the blade penetrating the skin only and not touching the long hairs. Cutting fur with scissors destroys the beauty of the hair and wastes much of the pelt that might be saved by the penknife process.

Not All For Love.

Little Florrie—Oh, aunty, dear, don't you go yet, please. Aunt—But I must, darling. I should like to stay longer, and it is sweet of you to love your aunty so. Florrie—Oh, please, aunty, don't go yet. Mamma said she'd whip me as soon as you went.

Meteors.

Swift meteors become visible at an average height of eighty-four miles and disappear at fifty-six miles, while the very slow meteors come in sight at about sixty-five miles and fade away at thirty-eight miles. Of the very slow meteors those that become visible at the greatest heights come twenty miles nearer the earth than those of very low radiant.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Mary Houilhan died this morning at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Thomas J. Harmon, No. 114 Foxhall avenue. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the late residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Church.

The funeral of Bernard Dolan, who died Sunday in the town of Newburgh, was held Wednesday morning and largely attended by friends from Haverstraw, Milton, Kingston and New York. High requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Roseton, by the Rev. James F. Hanley.

John Joseph Murphy, aged 38 years, died today at his residence in Port Ewen. Mr. Murphy is a son of Patrick J. Murphy and is survived by his wife and four children, three daughters, Mrs. Peter J. Needham, Mrs. James Henry and Hannah, and one son, Stephen. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

News of the death of Mrs. Anna Post, which occurred at 2 o'clock this morning in Shamokin, Pa., was received by her son, Harry Post, of Kingston. Deceased was a native of this city and resided at 666 Broadway. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Charles Durnning of Shamokin, and four sons, Harry of Kingston and George, William and Luther Post. Notice of funeral arrangements will be made later.

Frederick E. Pester, son of the late Ernest and Amelia Pester, died this morning at his home, No. 11 Foxhall avenue, aged 26 years. Beside his mother he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alva Bruce and Mrs. Almen Scott, both of this city. The funeral will be held from the late residence on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with interment in Montrepose cemetery. Mr. Pester was a member of the Loyal Order of Mose who will attend the funeral in a body.

SOCIETY NOTES.

On Monday evening a social was held at the home of Miss Mayme Kidney. The evening was enjoyed by many appropriate games and also a solo was rendered by Miss Margaret Scherer, accompanied by Miss Jeannette Grimes. Later refreshments were served and the company left at a late hour for their homes, voting Miss Kidney a royal entertainer. Those present were the Misses Frances Legg, Mary Dunn, Rose Mulbert, Florence Van Wagenen, Jeannette Grimes, Margaret Scherer, Mayme Kidney, Ethel Arnold, Pearl Smedes, Messrs. Earl Marshall, Charles Maines, Joseph Jordan, Gus Radel, Alvin Jones, Philip Gunther, Edward Kidney, George Roche.

The Thursday Evening Pinochle Club, who on other nights bowl at the local Y. M. C. A., held a regular session that evening at the home of Louis Beeres on West Chester street. In some manner the other members of the club became aware of the fact that it was also the date of their host's birthday and they presented him with a large humidor filled with cigars that were warranted not to make him ill. Those who attended say that they can vouch for that for by the time the pinochle session adjourned the humidor was filled mostly with air, but still one or two smokes were left for the host. Aside from the fact that it was the host's birthday the session was noteworthy from the standpoint of good pinochle playing. All of the members of the club are first class players and it would not be at all surprising if they decided to select a team from the club and challenged the winning championship team in the Odd Fellows' pinochle tournament now being held. First prize was won by Captain Frank Thompson, whose team won the championship in the recent Y. M. C. A. membership campaign, and the booby prize was won by Henry C. Connelly. The club entertained Henry C. Connelly and Coroner E. A. Kelly as guests, while the members of the club present were Charles R. O'Connor, Grove Webster, Charles DeForest, Theodore Wood, Frank Thompson, Addison D. Pardee, Archibald R. Pardee, Robert H. Payne and Willis Hills.

All in Black and White.

The tickets for the "Black and White" dance to be given on February 25, at St. Mary's Hall, by the members of the Monday Afternoon Sewing Club, are now on sale at Burgevin's Sons, corner Main and Fair streets, at the Connelly Drug Store on the Strand, and of any member of the club. This dance is being given to raise funds for the further maintenance of the Day Nursery, the particular philanthropy engaging the time, attention and personal supervision of these young ladies, and the object is certainly a worthy one. The price of the tickets is one dollar and a half. All persons attending the dance, whether expecting to dance or not, are asked to wear black and white costumes, exclusively. At nine o'clock, an exceedingly clever pantomime, also in black and white, will be presented by members of the club, and promises to offer a delightful surprise.

Griffin-Kirkpatrick.

Miss Ethel Kirkpatrick and Clarence Griffin, both of this city, were quietly united in marriage on Wednesday evening at St. John's rectory, on Green street by the Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, pastor of St. John's Church. The bride is one of Kingston's young ladies who has a charming personality and who had numberless friends. She was attired in a dark traveling suit trimmed with sable fur with hat to match. The groom is a popular member of Wiltwyck Hose Company and several other organizations. The couple were attended by Miss Adelaide Griffin, a sister of the groom who wore a blue traveling suit. The young Newlyweds left this city on Thursday morning on a southern trip with stop-overs at Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Va. Their many friends extend to them all of the joys of married life and wish them a bright and prosperous future.

ST. REMY.

Several from this place have attended the revival meetings at Kingston the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ferguson of Port Ewen, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. Ferguson.

A leap year dance will be held by Pokonoie Tribe, No. 344, I. O. R. M., in the Red Men's Hall, St. Remy, Friday evening, February 18. Music by Rieck's orchestra. Refreshments in abundance. Admission, gents, 35c; ladies, 10 cents.

Mrs. Luther Shultis of Rifton was the week end guest of Mrs. E. M. Durham and Mrs. D. Carney.

Mrs. Howard Durham of Newburgh spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lawrence.

John Ryan, Sr., Philip Ryan, William Ryan and John Ryan, Jr., have gone to work on the ice at Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Harry DeWitt of Wallkill is visiting her mother, Mrs. Rachel Frost.

Through the kindness of Walter May with his large sleigh a number from this place attended the entertainment at Eddyville last Friday night and were well pleased. S.

ERROR.

Ignorance has no light, but Error follows a false one. The consequence is that Error, when she retraces her steps, has farther to go before she can arrive at truth than Ignorance.—Colton.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 11.—The importance of the morning's news in connection with the changes in the cabinet and the announcement of Germany's submarine policy caused irregularities in the early trading on the stock exchange today with the majority of stocks reflecting hurried selling. Advances were made in a number of issues but in most cases initial gains were quickly lost and at the end of the first fifteen minutes prices generally ranged below yesterday's final figures. Steel common yielded ⅝ to 84⅝, Colorado Fuel a point to 47⅛, and Studebaker and Crucible both lost a point, while a similar decline was noted in Mexican Petroleum. New York Central opened ⅝ higher at 107⅝ but quickly reacted to 107⅛. Union Pacific yielded ⅝ to 134⅝. At the end of thirty minutes there was renewed buying of the copper issues and those stocks were again active and strong. Utah, which opened ¼ lower at 83¼, advanced to a new high record of 84⅜, and Anaconda, which opened ⅛ lower at 89⅝, advanced to 90¼. Shattuck Arizona rose ⅞ to 36⅜.

Irregularity was still in evidence in the late forenoon with some issues showing strength while others were in free supply at moderate concessions. The copper issues were again active and strong, Anaconda, American Smelting and Utah all making good gains. Shattuck Arizona held at an advance of a point to 36⅝ and Butte and Superior rose 3½ points to 87. American Zinc was in good demand, advancing 4 points to 74. Steel Comon sold at 84⅛. Money lending at 1¾ per cent.

New Haven attracted most attention in the late afternoon, advancing 4 points to above 71. Reading advanced to 80 and Lehigh Valley to 79 on small transactions. Price movements in the rest of the list were irregular, Anaconda advancing slightly while Tennessee declined fractionally. Steel Common rallied from 84⅜ to 84⅞. Shattuck Arizona continued in good demand, selling at 37⅝, an upturn of over 2 points for the day.

The market closed strong. Price changes in the leading issues were small and unimportant. Steel Common sold at 84⅞ and Anaconda at 91. American Zinc, Butte and Superior, and Shattuck Arizona continued in good demand, showing gains ranging from 2 to 4 points. Government bonds unchanged; others strong.

Fat and Thin.

"How fat you've got to be!" the other cried, and they stood gazing at each other in some dismay.

"Before you come to blows," remarked a mutual friend who stood by, "let's take a vote as to which is worse, to get too fat or to get too thin."—Exchange.

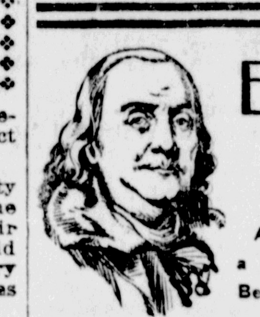
Painting Hooks and Eyes.

There are many methods of mechanical painting, and some of the most extraordinary are described by Arthur Seymour Jennings in his book, "Painting by Immersion and by Compressed Air." One method, for such articles as hooks and eyes, eyelets and very small iron parts generally which cannot be successfully dipped or sprayed, is known as "tumbling." The articles are placed in a machine something like a churn, together with a number of steel balls, usually of very small diameter, and a given quantity of japan. The churn is then closed down and given a dozen or so rapid turns, during which the steel balls carry the japan to every part of the articles. The contents of the churn are then dumped out on to wire trays. These being agitated, the steel balls fall through the meshes, leaving the painted iron parts behind.

Conscience.

"On what grounds do you desire to withdraw the plea of 'not guilty?'"

"On the simple ground that we are guilty. However, we must call the attention of your honor to the regrettable fact that the statute of limitations lets us out. Too bad we were not asked about this matter earlier."—Philadelphia Ledger.



Economy Hints

Although serious, grip is not often fatal, though there may be fatal complications, of which pneumonia is the most frequent. Cold in the head alone is frequently called grip and, although usually only an annoyance to adults, may be serious in young children, causing diseases of the ear and mastoid. Tonsilitis and quinsy sore throat are also erroneously called grip. People catch these diseases by breathing into their noses and mouths the fine spray from the noses and mouths of persons who have the disease. This fine spray is produced by the act of coughing, sneezing and talking and may be carried from the affected person four or five feet through the air.

To avoid grip, colds and tonsilitis (1) keep in good physical condition, (2) get plenty of sleep with windows open, (3) avoid crowded and badly ventilated places, (4) do not get near people who have coughs and colds, (5) do not go close to people while talking, (6) keep your feet dry and (7) don't clothe too warmly and become overheated.

If you get a bad cold, sore throat or have fever (1) send for a reliable physician, (2) turn your head away from people when coughing and sneezing, (3) do not go near children, (4) do not take remedies without competent medical advice and (5) take care of a cold. Many colds develop into bronchitis or pneumonia.

FOR LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING.

There are a number of things which a housewife must keep carefully in mind if she is to have success with her fireless cooker and make it save her time later and expense. One is that if food is left indefinitely in the cooker it will sour. Soups, stews, vegetables and such things must be removed after twenty-four hours and less in hot weather.

Another thing is that some foods require a longer time on the fire before being put in the cooker than others do. Cereals may require only ten minutes and tough meat half an hour. It is best to find out something about the length of the time the different things require before beginning to use the cooker. Generally speaking, all indigestible things require longer cooking than other things. Oatmeal, beef stew, corned beef and beans need more time than steamed puddings, rice and chicken.

A third thing that should never be forgotten is this: Everything that takes a long time to cook is improved and the process hastened if when the time is half up the pail is removed and reheated without opening it and put back again.

How to Make Cutwork, Which Is Coming In Again.

You must have at least one piece showing a cutwork design if you wish to be up to date in the needlework field. This type of fancy work is being revived very strongly and is used for cushions, runners, scarfs, etc. The work is very simply done, as it calls for nothing more than the buttonhole stitch.

Either side of the portion of material that is to be cut out is first outlined with a running stitch. It is then buttonholed, the purled edge facing inward. When you come to a place where a bar is indicated, stitch over to the other side and return on the same thread by wrapping it around and around your needle; then proceed with the over and over stitch until you come to the next bar, when you repeat. Instead of wrapping the thread around the needle many embroiderers make buttonhole stitches across each bridge so that the bridge will be firm.

How to Perfume Handkerchiefs and Lingerie Without Saturating Them.

A very clever way to perfume handkerchiefs and muslin underwear: Supply your washwoman with a good sized piece of orris root, which she is to throw into the water in which your handkerchiefs are boiling. When they come back to you from ironing they will be redolent of the orris root. Then you can slip them between the folds of a sachet filled with violet powder, and they will not lose their fragrance. Violet and orris scent together make a real violet odor.

How to Remove Warts From Children's Hands.

Touch the warts with acetic acid, being very careful not to get the acid on the surrounding skin. Lunar caustic is also recommended as a sure cure for warts. Apply the caustic with a small orange stick. Several applications may be necessary.

How to Clean Leather, Especially a Soiled Handbag.

Now and Then.

"I see. Does he succeed in creating that impression?"

"Only when he pawns his watch."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"Peace and War" is the subject to be discussed under the auspices of Kingston Council, No. 275, of the Knights of Columbus in this city on Tuesday evening, February 22, by the well known orator, debater and author, David Goldstein of Boston. The supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus who are conducting a nation-wide lecture movement in defense of Christian principles against the insidious propagandas of the enemies of God and country, have

The committee of Kingston Council of the Knights of Columbus announces that Mr Goldstein will gladly answer all questions related to his subject—Peace and War—at the conclusion of his address This feature of the speaker s work adds zest to the occasion for Mr Goldstein is said to be a past master in meeting friend and foe face to face with a courteous but decisive defense of his convictions The press near and far have a like story to tell The Providence Journal says "The readiness with which Mr Goldstein handled the queries which were hurled at him sometimes two and three at a time indicated his thorough knowledge of his subject and his ability to discuss it at all angles"

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

Morton H. Bogue, chairman of the committee which conducts the big Poughkeepsie boat race, said today that the efforts of those who seek to reduce the distance will not meet with success.

"It has been proven time and again that the four mile grind does no more harm to an athlete than would a three mile race," said Bogue. "In fact, there are some who are of the opinion that a three miles race would harm the oarsmen the more.

"In a four miles race the oarsmen take it easy until they get near the two and a half mile mork. In some instances they 'lack back' until well along in the third mile. Then they begin to sprint. That means, that the boys are exerting themselves to the utmost only for a mile or so.

"But in a three mile race it would be different. The distance being shorter, there would be a disposition on the part of some of the crews to sprint all the way. The other crews would have to follow. That would mean a race of three miles, each inch of the way rowed at top speed by each crew."

Seven Crews May Race.

There may be six and possibly seven entries in the big rowing classic this year. Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Leland Stanford are certainties. Stanford and Washington, which had an entry in the 1914 regatta, race in April for the Pacific Coast Championship. Should Washington win, it will be invited to enter the Poughkeepsie race, and the chances are that it will accept.

There is a slight chance that Princeton may compete this year. It all depends upon the Tiger rowing authorities. Heretofore, they have refused to enter a crew, claiming their men are not conditioned for a four mile water battle. All the Princeton races are over the Henley regatta distance—a mile and seven-eighths.

However, there is a demand from the undergraduates—and a large portion of the Princeton alumni—for representation in the 1916 blue ribbon aquatic event, and the officials are to make a decision within a month or so.

"If Princeton wants to come in we will be very glad to have them," said Bogue.

Difficulty Over Date.

The Regatta Committee is encountering extreme difficulty in naming a date for the big race. The first choice was Saturday, June 24, the day after the Yale-Harvard race in New London. But it was found that tidal conditions made that date impossible. Saturday, June 17, then was considered until the Pennsylvania authorities made a protest because the Pennsylvania examinations will be held on that day.

Friday, June 30, or Saturday, July 1st, were next considered by the committee, but those dates are objected to by the railroad and steamship officials. They claim that so many of their passenger coaches and steamers will be engaged in Fourth of July excursion service that they could not spare the trains and boats necessary to carry the crowds to Poughkeepsie.

The West Shore railroad further claims that even if it could spare passenger coaches it couldn't conveniently run the observation train because it needs all its tracks for running Fourth of July excursions which begin on June 30.

"Just now we are in a quandary as to the date," said Bogue. "We hope to get the problem solved very soon, but at this time it looks as if a Saturday date is impossible."

The regatta officials have favored Saturdays whenever possible because it brought out bigger crowds.

TO HOLD TRAIN AT KINGSTON.

West Shore and U. & D. Railroads Improve Northern Connections.

Residents of Catskill are pleased at the outcome of correspondence between Former County Clerk George B. Van Valkenburgh and N. A. Sims, general freight and passenger agent of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad Company, by which connections are improved at Kingston. Passengers on U. & D. train No. 18, due in Kingston at 7:25 p. m., have been inconvenienced by the fact that the northbound West Shore train, due at 7:20, pulls out just a few moments before their arrival.

Greene county residents have thus been obliged to wait until the 8:55 train north. As a result of the inquiry, the New York Central railroad has agreed to hold Train 13 for ten minutes upon advices from the conductor of the U. & D. train that he is bringing passengers for points north of Kingston.

HIGH SCHOOL MIDGETS WIN

Those High School Midgets can't be beaten. It matters not how fast the team nor how hard their opponents play. There seems to be only one result and that is a victory for the dwarfs on the high school.

Yesterday afternon the Miami Five entered the court firmly resolved to get sweet revenge for the last drubbing administered by the Midgets. They did worry the high school lads a little but the final score was 36 to 22 with the Midgets on the larger end of the tally. The Miami group of young tossers is a good bunch of players but they were outclassed by the superior team work of their antagonists.

A squint at the score shows that Diamond and Kirchner of the high school team were the best shots while McGrane and Ryan of the nether team starred for their side. The Midget regiment of athletes was reinforced during the encounter by six reserves while the Miamis had one substitute. This fresh supply of players nearly equal to the "varsity" team in calibre greatly aids the Midgets in winning their games. A bright outlook for future big basketball fives at the high school is due to the fast playing of these little 110 pound players. The score:

High School vs. Saugerties.

The big senior ball tonight at the high school cannot prevent the basketball team from taking a little trip to Saugerties tonight to do battle with the high school team of that village. The basketball floor seems to feel a lot better to their feet than waxed dancing boards.

Of course no one is worrying about the outcome of the game because the Saugertiesians were sadly outclassed the last time they bumped against the locals. The home ladies always are happy when their orders are to advance on Saugerties because the feminine population of that pretty little village is much admired by athletic teams hailing from this city. The basketballers solemnly swear that they return no later than Saturday at midnight.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Feb. 11.—The Ever Ready Club enjoyed a delightful sleigh ride to the Red House, Saugerties, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 5, in Jonathan Van Aken's sleigh. The following composed the jolly party: Mrs. Grace Zimmerman, Mrs. Mabel Foote, Mrs. Nettie Zeak, Mrs. Mary Van Leuven, Mrs. Clara Tinnie, the Misses Florence Lapine, Ida Shaw, Wava Stephenson, May Lapine, Mary F. Bishop, Jennie Stephenson, Mary Neal and Lillian Fairbrother. This society is a jolly crowd of ladies and they always have glorious times together. The sleighing was fine and all declare the occasion the event of the season.

A special business meeting of the Dorcas Society will be held on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the Reformed Church. All the members are requested to be present as matters of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Mrs. George Proper and son Robert, who have spent a few days with Mrs. Proper's mother, Mrs. Sarah Schoonmaker in Tillson, have returned to their home on Salem street.

Burns Punched Him.

Hugh Burns of Saugerties was brought to jail Thursday afternoon from Saugerties, where he was found guilty of assault in the third degree by Justice of the Peace William M. Chidester, who committed him to jail for sixty days. Burns engaged in an argument with another man who was accompanying a young woman on the street. When the other man talked back, Burns punched him.

Cordial Invitation.

You are invited to hear and examine the wonderful Mathushek player piano whether you intend to purchase or not. It is different in construction from all others, holds tuning twice as long. Has many important patented features not found in any other instrument, making it the sweetest tone and most durable piano in the world. Sounding board cannot crack, the tuning pins cannot slip. Superfine parlor and baby grands. Invented by Frederick Mathushek in 1849. Piano furnished for the Conservatory of Music. A. E. Thomas, 23 Crown street, Kingston, N. Y. Send for catalogue. 'Phone 1282-M.—Advertisement.

By La Raconteuse.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, Feb. 11.—The entertainment given under the auspices of the social committee of the C. E. Society on Thursday night was well attended and enjoyed by all present. The Scotch songs by Mr. Tinnie of Port Ewen were especially enjoyed, and we hope we may have the pleasure of listening to Mr. Tinnie again. There was a solo by Mildred Olsen, and as it was a Lincoln entertainment Miss Elizabeth Cole gave an appropriate reading. The committee showed great skill in placing the cob webs through the room, and caused much merriment in the tracing of them. Cake and cream was for sale at the close. The proceeds amounted to $11.

At the close of the service on Sunday morning we were pleased to see one of our young men of the Sunday school unite with the church.

There will be a business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society after the prayer meeting on Friday evening.

The Christian Endeavor meeting on Sunday evening was led by Andrew Cockfair.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Haines it was decided to give a supper the first week in March. The date will be given later.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stout attended the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Huber at their home in Rondout on Sunday afternoon.

Frederick Fox and sister, Mrs. Frank Spinneweber, and two children, who were called here on account of the sickness and death of their mother, Mrs. Fox, returned to their home at Hoboken on Sunday.

Mrs. Wallace Boyce, who has been spending the past two weeks at Nyack, N. Y., and Briar Cliff, has returned to her home on Front street.

The members of the Girls' Friendly Society attended the play, "When Dreams Come True," at the Kingston Opera House on Thursday evening.

Frederick Becker, who has been spending a two weeks' vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker, on Second street, has returned to New York.

Margaret Genthner entertained a number of little friends last Saturday evening at her home on Third street in honor of her tenth birthday. The evening was spent playing games. Refreshments were served, after which the little guests left for their homes. She received many pretty presents.

Mrs. George Wolfe and son, Raymond, came from Briar Cliff on Tuesday to see Mrs. Wolfe's mother, Mrs. Stingle, who is critically ill at her home on Front street.

Miss Ruth Marchant was the guest of Mrs. George Shaler at Poughkeepsie on Saturday, and Sunday was the guest of Miss Magdelena Hyde at Kingston.

THE VLY.

The Vly, Feb. 10.—Mrs. T. C. Olsen of the Spring Creek Valley House returned home from the city a few days ago.

Mrs. George Trowbridge has employment at the Olsen house of this place.

Mrs. Sahlbeck of this place is under the care of Dr. Hutchins of High Falls. She is getting along nicely.

We were all shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Margaret Palen. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Plaster cannot adapt itself to the swelling and shrinking of the frame work. It cracks, chips, or falls, necessitating expensive patching and resulting in ugly walls.

Cornell-Wood-Board

You will save money, in first cost and in upkeep cost by using Cornell-Wood-Board for your walls and ceilings. Its first cost is the last cost. In repairing, put Cornell-Wood-Board right over the dingy, cracked walls, with little muss and very moderate expense. Come in for samples, information, booklet, prices.

ARCHITECT BETZ BUSY.

John Washburn of Saugerties is to build a $25,000 house in the village on Barclay Heights, according to plans being made by Girard W. Betz, the local architect. The proposed new mansion will adjoin the house occupied by Robert Maines and is to be a magnificent brick residence, the dimensions of which are to be 40 by 80 feet.

Mr. Betz is also the architect for the new W. I. Addis Company of Syracuse, which is remodeling a five story structure on South Salina street. A new front is being built on the building, circassian walnut show cases are being installed, and the building is being remodelled throughout. The contract has been awarded to Heuber and Menekein, Syracuse contractors. As stated a week ago, the new company is owned by W. I. Addis, formerly manager of the L. B. Van Wagenen Company, and Frank Forman, of the Up-to-Date Company.

The Kelder home on Fair street has been bought by S Weisberg, the ladies' tailor of Fair street, and it will soon be remodelled into a store and office building, Mr. Weisburg occupying the ground floor. Mr. Betz is also architect for this building.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Feb. 10.—It was a happy, pleased audience that greeted our Stone Ridge friends, who came in full fettle on Wednesday evening with their clever, bright skit, "Fifteen Miles to Happytown." Besides our own village folk there were some friends from beyond the limits of the village in the audience so that there was a well filled house. The play concerns the troubles, trials and tribulations of an automobile on its initial trip with a party of visitors and delegates to a convention. (The story is especially pertinent at this moment, as a late comer in the village in the line of gas troubles is just tuning up for steady work.) The remarks of the passengers as they talk with the disgusted chauffeur, are especially apt and so comforting while the rules and directions read to him are as everyone knows so clear and explanatory. (Sic.) Interspersed in the dialogue are several catchy songs, (solos and choruses), which were excellently rendered and as thoroughly enjoyed. The dialogue is full of good things and was also much appreciated by the audience. The Missionary Society, under whose auspices the Stone Ridge friends were invited to Hurley, are certainly to be congratulated for their effort, while the thanks of all, both the society and the audience, are most heartily given to the members of the Stone Ridge Church. We had certainly a most pleasant evening. The social hour, with its refreshments, made a happy ending to the whole affair.

The graduation class of our village school, ten in number, have completed an organization and now feel the importance of the approaching cessation of their school life in Hurley. The officers are: Miss Mary Arnst, president; Lawrence Baker, vice president; Miss Julia Lockwood, corresponding secretary; Miss Anna Mueller, recording secretary, John Stauble, treasurer. The class flower is the buttercup. The class colors are yellow and white. The class motto is "Strive and Succeed." A class pin is to be secured and the organization, full fledged, will get ready for the times ahead of it.

Enterprise Feed Mills—The "Jedge" has finally "got 'er a goin," and the mills are now ready for grinding business. In fact, grist has already been delivered for grinding and future deliveries are also assured. This industry adds another to our Hurley occupations and industries and we bespeak for it a hearty response from our neighbors. The outfit is an up-to-date one and has ample capacity to deliver ground feed quickly and efficiently. With the exception of the engineer and consulting engineer, the "Jedge" has, as yet, made no appointments to his force, but qualifications are being carefully considered and soon a complete line up of forces may be expected.

This year the consistory decided to omit the annual donation supper and instead collect a purse for the pastor. The indications are for a hearty response.

An organization of a club of Boy Scouts is being considered by the lads of the village.

MRS. H. G. KINGSBURY

MOTHER ALARMED OVER RICH WIDOW WHO MARRIED A BRITON.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mrs G M Terwilliger of Brooklyn is anxious about the safety of her daughter, Mrs. Hylton George Morton North, whose husband is the second son of the late Hon. William North, a brother of the sixth Earl of Guilford.

Mrs. North is remembered by theatregoers as Gertrude Reynolds, a Weber and Fields girl, who married James P. McQuaide, a steel millionaire, who died in England. She married North soon after McQuaide's death

Mrs. Terwilliger depends upon her daughter for support, and since December 1 she had not heard from her. At that time she was living on her English estate.

"I am in want of the actual necessities of life I am starving," the mother said

In the last letter from her daughter she said she was going to Italy and would write again when she reached Rome. Mrs. Terwilliger does not know whether North accompanied her daughter to Italy. "There was nothing in the letter to indicate she had trouble of any sort," she added.

ATWOOD.

Atwood, Feb 10.—A valentine social will be held at the home of William Winchell Monday evening, February 14. A shilling supper will be served. Proceeds for the church. If stormy, next fair evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Markle and son spent Sunday with relatives at West Hurley.

Miss Dorothy Markle was the guest of Hazel Hansen on Monday.

The Willing Workers will meet with Mrs. Hannah Bush on Wednesday afternoon, February 16.

Mr. Markle, the truant officer, called at the school on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guttomson are spending some time in the city. Mrs. Guttomson being called there by the illness of her sister.

Mrs. Mabel Osterhoudt spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Scott.

PAID LARGE SALARIES

The liberality of the Federal league toward its ball players left the club owners of organized ball dumfounded when the Feds showed their salary list at the recent peace meeting. A club owner in one of the major leagues stated that he was surprised when the Federal league officials told of the thousands of dollars they had spent on inflated salaries. In order to lure the players away from the major leagues their salaries were doubled and some of them tripled. According to the officials of organized ball, it was this unusual extravagance of the Federal league which caused its downfall.

A few examples of the increase which the Federal league gave in salaries, shows that it was impossible for the Federal league to ever come out even financially. The following table shows how much salary some of the players received under organized baseball and what the Federal league paid them:

Player	Organized Ball.	Federal League.
Campbell	3,200	8,500
Cooper	2,500	7,500
Falkenberg	4,000	8,500
Kauff	2,600	7,500
Seaton	1,000	8,000
Chase	6,000	9,000

Not only did the Federal league sign these players and many others at these exorbitant salaries for long terms, but it gave them bonuses of from $1,000 to $5,000 advances at the time they signed.

Old, seasoned baseball men state that the most prosperous days that baseball has ever had could not afford such high salaries. When the assembled National and American league officials listened to the Federal league men as they unfolded their tale of woe they looked at each other in surprise.

Joe Tinker.

An official of organized baseball said: "They estimate that the Federal league lost $3,000,000 in this venture. I tell you that $4,500,000 or $5,000,000 would be nearer the mark. It was the biggest piece of folly I ever heard of to imagine that any baseball league could live and pay the players such salaries."

It is estimated that more than seventy-five of the ball players whom the Federal league enticed away from organized ball with the big offer of money received more than twice as much as they received with organized ball. This item alone would represent an annual expenditure of $225,000.

It can readily be seen now why the big issue in the peace negotiations is the seventy or more players whom the Federal league has under iron-bound contracts at these inflated salaries. Organized baseball has told the Federal league club owners that they cannot hope to pay these salaries, even if they take the players back. It is believed that the compromise will be effected by organized ball paying the greater part of the salaries to the players they take, while the Federal league must make up the balance.

Lay's Saturday Sale

Our great Saturday sales have acquired importance in hundreds of Kingston homes where the advantages of these events are readily recognized and where they were least expected to be enjoyed. These sales with their immense lines of high-grade meats and poultry at liberal special price reductions, are extending their benefits widely in all directions, and we have noted convincing signs that they will reach farther. Those of our patrons who are advocates of "Preparedness" know that economy brings thrift, thrift makes families prosper; prosperous families are the life of a strong nation. A strong nation depends not solely upon armaments of war for protection, but upon men who are healthful and made strong by eating prime, fresh meats, such as we sell. Trade here and you'll always be prepared for eventualities.

Scientific Farming

Berries of all kinds, like other cultivated crops, require the right kind of soil and preparation for the best results, says a contributor to the Farm Progress. Big and profitable crops of berries grow from soil that is well fertilized and thoroughly worked before the plants are set out in the hills or rows.

Moisture conditions of the soil affect the yield of all kinds of berries wonderfully. In years when the soil is moist during fruiting season the crops are usually large, while at other seasons when the soil is dry when the fruit is setting and ripening the crops are usually light and often an entire failure. Other things considered, to

The humus supply in the soil determines to a large degree the length of time moisture will be held during a dry spell during the growing season. The more humus the longer moisture will be held; the less humus the quicker the soil will dry out and the plants suffer. One of the best ways to supply humus to the soil and at the same time furnish extra fertility is to apply stable manure. Land that is to be planted to berries this coming spring should be covered heavily with manure this winter, the sooner the better.

If the berry patch soil is covered early in the winter any kind of fresh stable manure may be used liberally with safety. During the winter and early spring it will have time to leach, decompose and become mild, to be turned under when the soil is plowed. It is not safe to apply and plow under fresh manure for berries, because the fresh manure has a tendency through fermentation and decay to dry the soil and injure the roots of the young plants. If berry soil is treated in late winter or early spring the manure should be reasonably well decomposed and mild. That from cow stables is milder than that from horse stables.

For winter treatment of berry soil any kind of manure of home produced fertilizer may be used. A variety is better than a single kind. That from the poultry house is excellent, but must be scattered thinly over the ground, as it is strong. That from hog and sheep houses is good, but is rich and must be used sparingly. The different kinds may be mixed together for use. Wood ashes are excellent fertilizer for all kinds of fruits and especially good for small fruits. They may be applied to the soil any time during the winter and early spring.

One of the best ways to use poultry droppings on small fruit soil is to use coal ashes or dry soil to mix with and to serve as moisture and odor absorbent for the perch droppings. In this way the full value of the droppings is saved, and when the fertilizer is applied with the absorbent it is disintegrated and mild for use. More surface can be covered with the same amount of fertilizer. Do not, however, use wood ashes in the poultry house as an absorbent for poultry droppings, as the ashes decompose the droppings.

Ground rock phosphate, either acidulated or raw, may be applied to the berry soil with good results. If the acidulated is used apply it only just before planting time, or even later, working it into the soil between rows through cultivation, as it acts quickly. Raw rock phosphate may be applied any time before preparing the soil because it dissolves very slowly in the soil, acting slowly, but a longer time. One of the best ways to use raw rock phosphate on berry soil is to sprinkle it in the cow stable as an absorbent, then applying it mixed with the stable manure.

Money in Poultry.

In making up an egg ration do not forget a liberal allowance of sunshine. But remember also that it takes more than sunshine to produce eggs. It needs pure solid grains, and lots of them. The poultryman who can make his hens lay eggs in the winter, when they bring the highest prices, is the one that shows his ability.

ROCK ROADS—ROCK VALUES.

Kansas and Missouri are very active in building good highways—"rock roads," as they are called in that country, where limestone is the handiest material. One of the good roads boosters is W. S. Webb, a Kansas City banker, and he puts year round highways in terms of banking.

"We bankers will lend $10 to $25 an acre more on a farm situated on a rock road," he says. "Bankers in this neighborhood are keen judges of farm values. Most of them have farms as places for rest and play. Few bankers are good farmers when it comes to making actual profits on crops, but their farming pays handsomely in health and in understanding of the problems confronting farmers, with whom we do much of our business.

"The first thing the banker does when you approach him for a loan on farm property is to determine the selling value of the farm. He will lend you half the selling value, and he arrives at the selling value by ascertaining three things:

"First.—The soil, its character, condition and producing capacity, for a fertile farm in good tilth will grow crops, no matter where located or what the nature of its improvements.

"Second.—Its location, which means convenience to markets, schools, stores and other factors that increase value. Here is where the kind of road running past the farm plays a big part.

"These are all estimated in actual money. The money estimates are added. The total represents the selling value of the farm, and the banker will lend half of that.

"Suppose the land is set down as worth $40 an acre. If it is located on a rock road over which the owner can haul crops any month in the year the banker will add $10 an acre for that item. Probably the buildings will not come to more than $10 an acre, so the hard road is worth as much as the buildings in actual money. The total selling value of that farm is $60 an acre, and the banker will lend $30. On land worth $100 an acre a hard road adds $25."—Country Gentleman.

This Huge Sum Was Spent In 1914 For Roads In United States.

Very nearly a quarter of a billion dollars were spent in highway construction and maintenance in the United States during the year 1914, as shown by statistics issued by the office of public roads and rural engineering. One-fifth of the work was done under the state aid system, the various state highway departments paying $24,220,000 and the counties and townships $25,220,000. State aid laws are in effect in forty-four states, New Jersey having instituted the system in 1891 and Tennessee and Georgia being among the last to adopt it.

Thirteen states spent $25,605,000 during the year in the construction and maintenance of state roads solely at their own expense making a total of almost $50,000,000 paid directly out of state funds. One-third as much ($12,500,000) was spent for repairs and maintenance as was spent for new construction ($35,500,000). This shows the enormous loss resulting from the building of types of roads whose surfaces are not durable under present traffic conditions. Six eastern states paid two-thirds as much out of the state treasury for maintenance as for new construction.

Maintaining Concrete Roads.

The methods of maintaining the concrete roads of Wayne county, Mich., are set forth in detail in the ninth annual report of the county road commissioners, which has recently been published. For this work the authorities use a crew of seven men, provided with a team, tar kettle, several wire bristle brooms, wheelbarrow, tar bucket and sprinkling cans. The operating cost of this outfit is as follows: Foreman, $5 per day; team and driver, $5 per day; tar man, $3 per day; two laborers at $2.50 per day each and two laborers at $2.25 per day each. All cracks or spalled joints are cleaned with wire brooms and then filled with tar heated to about 225 degrees F. This is allowed to stand for a few minutes to prevent bubbling and is then covered with clean, coarse, dry sand, spread with a shovel, an excess of tar and sand being used and the traffic allowed to smooth it out. Pitholes are treated in a similar manner. The material used is a special mixture of tarvia, which has a melting point of about 85 degrees F. A hole or crack that does not extend through the road, but is over an inch in depth, is cleaned and dried out, painted with hot tar and filled with stone of a suitable size, graded as nearly as possible to fill the voids. This is tamped or rolled in place, after which it is covered with hot tar, enough being used so that most of it will be taken up by the remaining voids. Coarse dry sand is then shoveled over the surface.

Indorse County Road System.

The State Highway Officials' Association of New Mexico has indorsed the state highway commission and the county road board system. It was recommended that where necessary for the sake of harmony a member of the board of county commissioners be appointed on the road board. The United States department of agriculture was requested to make provisions for an advance of $2,000,000 annually for building roads in the national forests of New Mexico. Congress also was urged to pass a joint memorial granting 2,000,000 acres of public lands in New Mexico for highway purposes.

Believes That.

"Do you believe everything you hear?"

"No, but when I come to a railroad crossing and hear a whistle I never doubt that a train is coming."—Detroit Free Press.

Man's Limitations.

Man has been able to learn some things, but has forgotten many others. He has not added one sense to his senses, one limb to his limbs, one faculty to his soul. He has merely explored another region of the circle in which he is confined. The human mind is always in motion. It runs from one point to another. It exalts what it embraces and forgets what it has abandoned. It never manages to cultivate one part of its domain without leaving the others fallow.—"The Inequality of the Human Races."

Church Steeples.

The church steeple was originally designed as a means of advertising the situation of the church. Among the low buildings which originally prevailed the steeple was an impressive beacon, but under modern conditions it is a failure, as even the most towering steeple is lost among the higher industrial structures reared around it. The steeple is really being replaced by electricity, which answers the purpose much more satisfactorily. Electrically illuminated signs are being introduced quite extensively for this purpose.

Professor Ulric Dahlgren of Princeton university predicts that the time will come when the luciferous substance of chemical composition carried by fireflies, certain fish and other animals will be used for illuminating houses and other purposes. He believes that this will come about when the nature and proportions of the chemical constituents of these substances are discovered and says they will give a light having an efficiency of 99 per cent instead of the 15 per cent produced by lights now in use.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

Surrogate Gill has granted letters of administration on the estate of Mena Affron of this city to her daughter, Mary Shuman. The value of the estate is $240 personal property. DeWitt Roosa appeared for the administratrix. The administratrix and Bessie Mones, one of the sureties on her bond, signed their names in Yiddish, and the petition and bond are the first documents to be filed in the surrogate's courts in which names have been so signed.

In the matter of the guardianship of Lucy Smith, Celor Smith and Carrie Smith, letters of guardianship were issued to Mamie Smith of the town of Wawarsing. H. Westlake Coons appeared for the petitioners.

HORSE TIES UP TRAFFIC.

Caught Hoof in Crossing and Stopped Cars for 15 Minutes.

Thursday while Abram Adin, the milkman, was driving his horse down Hasbrouck avenue the animal's hoof in some manner became caught on the Ulster & Delaware railroad crossing at Murray street, and the hoof became wedged so tightly that the horse was unable to free it. Policeman O'Neil and several bystanders with the aid of crowbars finally freed the horse. Traffic on the Colonial line was tied up for a quarter of an hour while the men worked to free the animal. When the horse was finally released it was found necessary to remove the iron shoe from the hoof. The horse will be unable to work for several days.

Reopen Washington Hall Bar.

Schuler & Glynn will reopen the bar at Washington Hall, Abeel street, tomorrow morning after nearly three weeks suspension following the fire. The hall proper has not yet been restored but the bar room and living rooms have been improved by the owners, the Hauck Brewing Company. A summer garden will be added the coming season.

Post Office Hours Saturday.

Holiday hours will be observed Saturday at the post office. The stamp windows at both the central and sub stations will be open until 10 o'clock in the morning and the lobbies will be open until 9 o'clock at night for the convenience of box holders. There will be one delivery and one collection of mail that day.

Fell 100 Feet and Lives.

Patrick Lannigan, a section foreman on the West Shore railroad, fell nearly 100 feet Tuesday night down an embankment near the Bellevue Villa site. He was badly cut about the head and taken to St Luke's hospital, Newburgh, for treatment.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, Feb. 11.—Over two hundred members and friends of the Saugerties Business Men's Association attended the banquet held Thursday evening in the Orpheum Theater. The repast prepared by Landlord Bennett of the Exchange Hotel was excellent and faultlessly served. Addresses were made by State Comptroller E. M. Travis, Judge William D. Cunningham, Mayor Canfield of Kingston and Graham Witschief of Newburgh. Martin's orchestra furnished the music. Frederick E. W. Darrow was the toastmaster. The menu was as follows:

The Specter Of Goruckpoor

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The garrison of Goruckpoor, in the province of Oudh, India, in the year 1862 consisted of 4,000 men, and about half of these were split up into small detachments and stationed here and there in the north to keep order among the hillmen and punish raiding dacoits. Dacoits are bands of robbers under command of a chief who holds a religious influence over them, and they are yet the pests of India along the foothills of the Himalayas. They are daring men and hard fighters, and very few British soldiers who fall into their hands are spared.

We were in the midst of what seemed to be peace when the government dispatched a large train of treasure and military supplies from Goruckpoor for Ghoorka. Colonel Kemble, who had been ordered to take command of the garrison at the latter place, being just back from a year's leave of absence in England, was with the train, and the whole was escorted by 250 cavalrymen. The route for the train brought it past our station, where it rested for a day and then moved on. In a defile fifteen miles to the north of us it was ambushed by over a thousand dacoits and suffered a severe misfortune. There was not only a heavy loss in killed and wounded, but the treasure and a portion of the supplies were captured and run off by the dacoits.

The remnant of the train returned to us and went into camp until reenforcements could come up, and the bullet headed, tyrannical Colonel Kemble whose obstinacy and recklessness had brought about the disaster, proceeded to make it red hot for every body. It was a well populated country, with hundreds of loyal natives to be picked up, but the colonel proceeded to look upon each and every one as guilty of having had a hand in the attack on the train. More than a score were shot or hanged offhand, while many were whipped at the post or ordered out of the district. It was a reign of terror for three weeks, and the end was a fitting one.

My own detachment one day brought in a mere boy whom we had found cowering in a thicket. The colonel bulldozed and browbeat him and finally ordered his execution on the ground that he was a spy. It was only when he knew that he must die that the young fellow braced up and showed his courage, and as he was being led away to execution he said to the colonel:

"Sahib Colonel, I am innocent and you will be punished for my death. You may shoot me and bury my body, but my spirit will follow you to the grave."

Half an hour later he was dead, but he was the last one to be executed. At midnight that night the colonel called the sentinel into his tent, and with white face and trembling voice and the perspiration standing out on his forehead he said:

"I see nobody, sir," replied the sentinel.

"He is there, I tell you! He followed me to mess and back, and he has been here in plain sight all the evening. Take him away!"

And there wasn't. The sentinel called in two officers, who looked and searched in vain and assured Colonel Kemble that no boy was present. He tried to turn it off with a laugh, but in less than twenty-four hours every man in camp knew that the colonel was haunted by a specter. He made a brave effort to bluff it out, but it was useless. The specter followed at his heels by day and sat by his bedside at night and in a week the strong, aggressive man was becoming a mental wreck. He turned to us for pity and sympathy, but we had little to give. He had been brutal and without mercy in his vengeance.

The surgeon looked upon the case at first as some disorder of the brain, but later on acknowledged that it was something beyond his medicine. No one else could see the specter. The colonel would say that it sat beside him or stood in the door, but there was nothing for the eyes to rest upon. He would draw his sword and cut and slash and thrust at the specter, but he could not harm it. By the surgeon's advice the colonel returned to Goruckpoor. It was reported as a case of breaking down over mental anxiety, but hundreds of people came to know better. The specter followed him back, followed him to the house of a friend, sat with him through every night and dogged at his heels through every hour of the day. He could no more shake it off than he could change the color of his eyes. He made the gamest sort of fight, knowing that his future career was at stake, and at length all men came to pity him—pity him and avoid him as one accursed. He was medically treated, given brief furloughs and every effort made to build him up, but at the end of eight months, every day and every night of which had been a terror to him, he ended by blowing out his brains.

Was it a case of a man haunted by a spirit seeking revenge? It was not so reported officially, but from first to last and from the highest to the lowest, and this includes two surgeons, it was fully and firmly believed that it was, and the uncanny affair had a great influence over other officers in their future treatment of the natives.

HOW TO MANAGE YOUR COLD WEATHER VENTILATION.

It is easy enough to ventilate the house in warm weather. One simply leaves most of the windows open most of the time. To be sure, we are often assured by scientists that this method does not ventilate. We are even told that the air out of doors is not always ventilated. But we manage to thrive in the closeness of the outdoor atmosphere, and we manage to feel comfortable if we get a good deal of this atmosphere into our houses.

However, unless our houses are equipped with a system of artificial ventilating, open windows form the best means of ventilating. It is, of course, a matter settled nowadays that we sleep with open windows, one open at the top, one at the bottom. In this way we keep our bedrooms well aired. And in the house where the bedrooms serve only for sleeping rooms the windows should be left open as much as possible during the day. Children especially should sleep in rooms that have been well ventilated throughout the day.

In the case of stormy weather too much of the outdoors sometimes comes into the windows, even of our bedrooms. There are various methods of keeping this weather out. In case of too strong winds cheesecloth screens answer the purpose. For these just cover a regular screen frame with a couple of thicknesses of cheesecloth. Then put it in place.

Weatherboards to put in partly open windows are also admirable. These make ventilation possible without creating a very big draft.

We cannot all have small, even, white teeth but we can all have perfectly kept teeth. A careful mother begins the attention to her children's teeth as soon as they push through the gums. She cleans them with a bit of absorbent cotton on the end of her scrubbed finger, and as the child grows older she brushes them. Nowadays all the teeth of all school children are inspected, which will result in better teeth, with no false teeth before the age of fifty, except under unusual conditions.

The teeth should be brushed after every meal and cleaned with a paste at least every other day. Do not use any of the powders that are gritty, however cleansing they may be. Teeth cannot be treated the same as a bathtub. Always after eating anything every particle of food should be removed from between the teeth with dental floss. This is really the only safe means of dislodging foodstuff. Brush up and down on the surface of the teeth, not across. Gritty powders in time destroy the enamel, and brushing across the grain has the same effect. Brush the inner side of the teeth as thoroughly as the outer, being careful to cleanse the mouth well. Now, the average woman is apt to feel she has done her duty when the teeth are brushed. This is not true. A mouth wash is just as necessary. Rinse the mouth daily with any good alkali wash.

Do you cover your own buttons? It means a saving and gives variety to a costume. It can be done by crochet stitches or by needlework as well as by bits of fancy silk, too insignificant for any other use. Objections have been heard on the score that the result is not as satisfactory as professional work, but the answer to that is the injunction to do all the work neatly. Slipshod methods are to be condemned everywhere although, to be sure, time is wasted in the inside finish of frocks. Even expensive dressmakers have taken a hint from Paris and concentrated on externals.

To get the greatest amount of heat from a gas range and not waste gas the gas should not be turned any higher than will give a perfect blue flame. When the flame becomes a yellowish red the gas is being wasted and giving a heat that smokes and smudges cooking utensils and shortens their period of usefulness about one half. In cooking have the flame about one-half inch of clear blue and after the article being cooked reaches the boiling point reduce the flame to only such a height as will keep it boiling. This also applies to oven jets.

How to Make Beauty Bags For Your Daily Bath.

Make the bags of cheesecloth about four inches square or a little larger and fill them loosely with the following mixture. Oatmeal (not rolled oats), a pound, powdered orris root, a quarter of a pound; almond meal, a quarter of a pound; powdered castile soap, four ounces. A few drops of oil of verbena may be added if liked.

Wash a pongee garment or material in a warm suds of white soap and hang it out until bone dry. Under no consideration ever sprinkle it. Iron it on the wrong side, and you will find it retains its luster and looks like new.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mollie Fancher is dead. The most remarkable invalid the world has ever known—the courageous little woman who was bedridden for fifty years, passed away in her sleep in the rosewood bed in which she lay for half a century. A complication of diseases, aggravated by a severe cold, which she contracted a few days ago, caused her death in her Brooklyn home today. Mollie Fancher was 66 years old. She was 16 when she was rendered a cripple as the result of a street car accident.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The repeal of the free sugar clause of the Underwood tariff law was decided upon today by Democratic members of the House ways and means committee. After a meeting of the Democrats, Chairman Kitchin announced that the repeal bill would be favorably reported by the committee within a week and would be laid before a Democratic house caucus as soon as possible.

Garrison is Through.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 11.—Ex-Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison announced today that he was through with public life forever and that he would take up private practice of law. He declined to discuss his resignation from the cabinet or any political questions.

Annapolis Cadets Dismissed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today approved the report of the academy board of the Annapolis Naval Academy which recommended the dismissal of 82 cadets because of poor work in their studies. This action closes the case. The cadets will be dismissed at once.

Independent to Succeed Garrison.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson wants an independent in politics, who has accurate knowledge of military affairs to succeed Secretary of War Garrison, resigned. If man of this type can be secured he will be appointed. If not then either Secretary of the Interior Lane or Secretary of Agriculture Houston probably will be transferred to the vacancy and the new cabinet member given that vacancy. The president has a man under consideration who he believes fits the bill.

The Important Thing.

They were speaking about looking on the practical side of things, and this incident was recalled.

One afternoon late in the fall Uncle Josh was driving slowly toward the town when an acquaintance excitedly rushed out to the road and hailed him.

Cutting Up Old Furs.

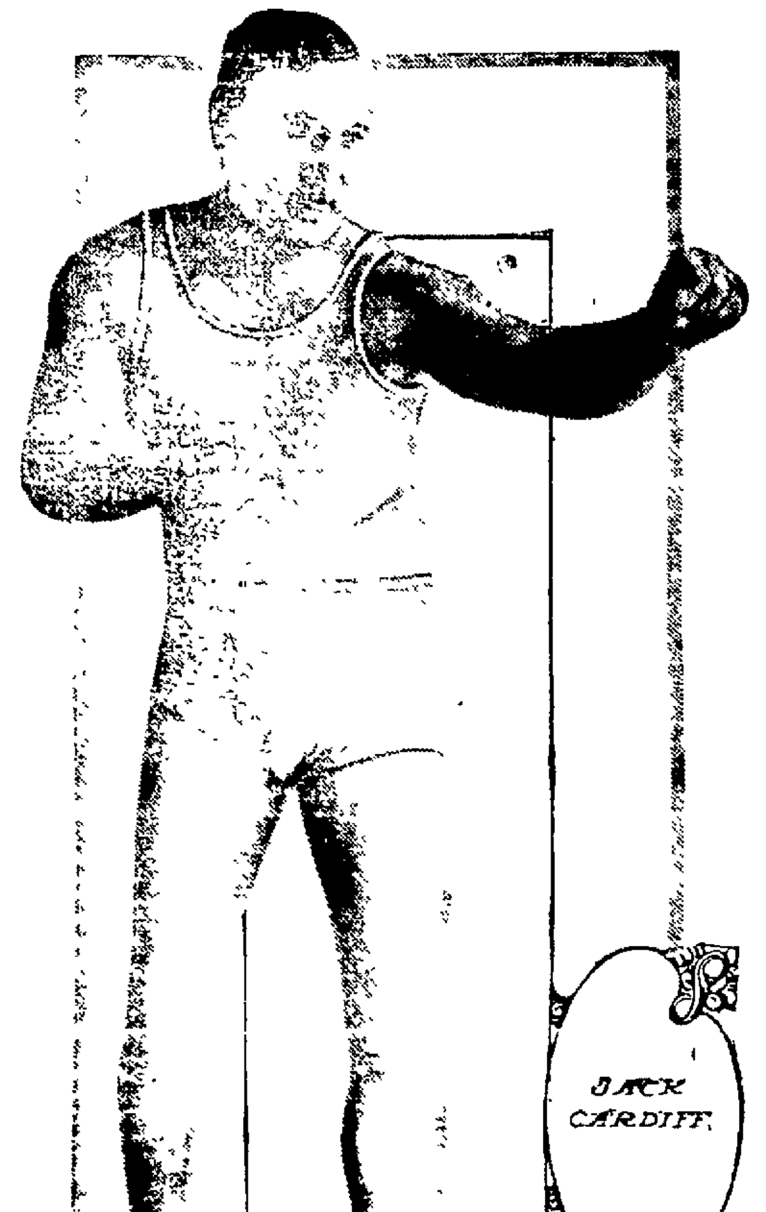
There is a knack of cutting up old furs with which all women are not familiar. The pelt should be turned wrong side up and the skin slowly and carefully cut with a sharp penknife the blade penetrating the skin only and not touching the long hairs. Cutting fur with scissors destroys the beauty of the hair and wastes much of the pelt that might be saved by the penknife process.

Not All For Love.

Little Florrie—Oh, aunty, dear, don't you go yet, please. Aunt—But I must, darling. I should like to stay longer, and it is sweet of you to love your aunty so. Florrie—Oh, please, aunty, don't go yet. Mamma said she'd whip me as soon as you went.

Meteors.

Swift meteors become visible at an average height of eighty-four miles and disappear at fifty-six miles, while the very slow meteors come in sight at about sixty-five miles and fade away at thirty-eight miles. Of the very slow meteors those that become visible at the greatest heights come twenty miles nearer the earth than those of very low radiant.



FROM PRIZE RING TO PULPIT.

Atlantic City, Feb 11.—Billy Sunday went from the baseball diamond to the evangelist's platform and his record is being duplicated by Jack Cardiff, who is one of Dr. Stough's assistants in the evangelical campaign in Atlantic City, where more than 3,000 persons have "hit the trail."

Jack Cardiff was a professional fighter and had 287 ring battles to his credit when he hit the trail in one of Billy Sunday's meetings at Canton, Ohio, in 1912. After his conversion he became trainer for the athletic evangelist and was with him for a couple of years. Cardiff says that during his prize ring career he never drank or smoked and has always kept in perfect physical condition.

The former pugilist announces that next year he will conduct his own campaign making a strong fight "against the devil and booze." His wife and two daughters are preparing to help him in this work and are now studying at the Moody Institute in Chicago.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED IN REPORTED SEA BATTLE.

According to an alleged private code message from Bermuda, the British armored cruiser Drake, after a three hour battle several hundred miles northeast of the Bermuda Islands, succeeded in capturing the German cruiser Roon, said to have been the "mother ship" of German commerce raiders which have been recently operating in the Atlantic. The report adds that two merchantmen, serving as a screen for the Roon were captured, also.

Frederick E. Pester, son of the late Ernest and Amelia Pester, died this morning at his home, No. 11 Foxhall avenue, aged 26 years. Beside his mother he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alva Bruce and Mrs. Almen Scott, both of this city. The funeral will be held from the late residence on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with interment in Montrepose cemetery. Mr. Pester was a member of the Loyal Order of Mose who will attend the funeral in a body.

SOCIETY NOTES.

On Monday evening a social was held at the home of Miss Mayme Kidney. The evening was enjoyed by many appropriate games and also a solo was rendered by Miss Margaret Scherer, accompanied by Miss Jeannette Grimes. Later refreshments were served and the company left at a late hour for their homes, voting Miss Kidney a royal entertainer. Those present were the Misses Frances Legg, Mary Dunn, Rose Mulbert, Florence Van Wagenen, Jeannette Grimes, Margaret Scherer, Mayme Kidney, Ethel Arnold, Pearl Smedes, Messrs. Earl Marshall, Charles Maines, Joseph Jordan, Gus Radel, Alvin Jones, Philip Gunther, Edward Kidney, George Roche.

The Thursday Evening Pinochle Club, who on other nights bowl at the local Y. M. C. A., held a regular session that evening at the home of Louis Beeres on West Chester street. In some manner the other members of the club became aware of the fact that it was also the date of their host's birthday and they presented him with a large humidor filled with cigars that were warranted not to make him ill. Those who attended say that they can vouch for that for by the time the pinochle session adjourned the humidor was filled mostly with air, but still one or two smokes were left for the host. Aside from the fact that it was the host's birthday the session was noteworthy from the standpoint of good pinochle playing. All of the members of the club are first class players and it would not be at all surprising if they decided to select a team from the club and challenged the winning championship team in the Odd Fellows' pinochle tournament now being held. First prize was won by Captain Frank Thompson, whose team won the championship in the recent Y. M. C. A. membership campaign, and the booby prize was won by Henry C. Connelly. The club entertained Henry C. Connelly and Coroner E. A. Kelly as guests, while the members of the club present were Charles R. O'Connor, Grove Webster, Charles DeForest, Theodore Wood, Frank Thompson, Addison D. Pardee, Archibald R. Pardee, Robert H. Payne and Willis Hills.

All in Black and White.

The tickets for the "Black and White" dance to be given on February 25, at St. Mary's Hall, by the members of the Monday Afternoon Sewing Club, are now on sale at Burgevin's Sons, corner Main and Fair streets, at the Connelly Drug Store on the Strand, and of any member of the club. This dance is being given to raise funds for the further maintenance of the Day Nursery, the particular philanthropy engaging the time, attention and personal supervision of these young ladies, and the object is certainly a worthy one. The price of the tickets is one dollar and a half. All persons attending the dance, whether expecting to dance or not, are asked to wear black and white costumes, exclusively. At nine o'clock, an exceedingly clever pantomime, also in black and white, will be presented by members of the club, and promises to offer a delightful surprise.

Griffin-Kirkpatrick.

Miss Ethel Kirkpatrick and Clarence Griffin, both of this city, were quietly united in marriage on Wednesday evening at St. John's rectory, on Green street by the Rev. Charles P. Kennedy, pastor of St. John's Church. The bride is one of Kingston's young ladies who has a charming personality and who had numberless friends. She was attired in a dark traveling suit trimmed with sable fur with hat to match. The groom is a popular member of Wiltwyck Hose Company and several other organizations. The couple were attended by Miss Adelaide Griffin, a sister of the groom who wore a blue traveling suit. The young Newlyweds left this city on Thursday morning on a southern trip with stop-overs at Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Va. Their many friends extend to them all of the joys of married life and wish them a bright and prosperous future.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 11.—The importance of the morning's news in connection with the changes in the cabinet and the announcement of Germany's submarine policy caused irregularities in the early trading on the stock exchange today with the majority of stocks reflecting hurried selling. Advances were made in a number of issues but in most cases initial gains were quickly lost and at the end of the first fifteen minutes prices generally ranged below yesterday's final figures. Steel common yielded ⅝ to 84⅝, Colorado Fuel a point to 47¼, and Studebaker and Crucible both lost a point, while a similar decline was noted in Mexican Petroleum. New York Central opened ⅝ higher at 107⅝ but quickly reacted to 107¼. Union Pacific yielded ⅝ to 134⅝. At the end of thirty minutes there was renewed buying of the copper issues and those stocks were again active and strong. Utah, which opened ¼ lower at 83¼, advanced to a new high record of 84⅜, and Anaconda, which opened ⅛ lower at 89⅝, advanced to 90¼. Shattuck Arizona rose ⅞ to 36⅝.

Irregularity was still in evidence in the late forenoon with some issues showing strength while others were in free supply at moderate concessions. The copper issues were again active and strong, Anaconda, American Smelting and Utah all making good gains. Shattuck Arizona held at an advance of a point to 36⅝ and Butte and Superior rose 3½ points to 87. American Zinc was in good demand, advancing 4 points to 74. Steel Comon sold at 84¾. Money lending at 1¾ per cent.

New Haven attracted most attention in the late afternoon, advancing 4 points to above 71. Reading advanced to 80 and Lehigh Valley to 79 on small transactions. Price movements in the rest of the list were irregular, Anaconda advancing slightly while Tennessee declined fractionally. Steel Common rallied from 84⅜ to 84⅞. Shattuck Arizona continued in good demand, selling at 37⅝, an upturn of over 2 points for the day.

Fat and Thin.

"How fat you've got to be!" the other cried, and they stood gazing at each other in some dismay.

"Before you come to blows," remarked a mutual friend who stood by, "let's take a vote as to which is worse, to get too fat or to get too thin."—Exchange.

There are many methods of mechanical painting, and some of the most extraordinary are described by Arthur Seymour Jennings in his book, "Painting by Immersion and by Compressed Air." One method, for such articles as hooks and eyes, eyelets and very small iron parts generally which cannot be successfully dipped or sprayed, is known as "tumbling." The articles are placed in a machine something like a churn, together with a number of steel balls, usually of very small diameter, and a given quantity of japan. The churn is then closed down and given a dozen or so rapid turns, during which the steel balls carry the japan to every part of the articles. The contents of the churn are then dumped out on to wire trays. These being agitated, the steel balls fall through the meshes, leaving the painted iron parts behind.

Economy Hints

GRIP is a serious disease, and persons affected with it suffer from cold in the head, fever, headache and marked backache. There are many cases with fever and prostration as the only symptoms.

Although serious, grip is not often fatal, though there may be fatal complications, of which pneumonia is the most frequent. Cold in the head alone is frequently called grip and, although usually only an annoyance to adults, may be serious in young children, causing diseases of the ear and mastoid. Tonsilitis and quinsy sore throat are also erroneously called grip. People catch these diseases by breathing into their noses and mouths the fine spray from the noses and mouths of persons who have the disease. This fine spray is produced by the act of coughing, sneezing and talking and may be carried from the affected person four or five feet through the air.

To avoid grip, colds and tonsilitis (1) keep in good physical condition, (2) get plenty of sleep with windows open, (3) avoid crowded and badly ventilated places, (4) do not get near people who have coughs and colds, (5) do not get close to people while talking, (6) keep your feet dry and (7) don't clothe too warmly and become overheated.

If you get a bad cold, sore throat or have fever (1) send for a reliable physician, (2) turn your head away from people when coughing and sneezing, (3) do not go near children, (4) do not take remedies without competent medical advice and (5) take care of a cold. Many colds develop into bronchitis or pneumonia.

FOR LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING.

There are a number of things which a housewife must keep carefully in mind if she is to have success with her fireless cooker and make it save her time later and expense. One is that if food is left indefinitely in the cooker it will sour. Soups, stews, vegetables and such things must be removed after twenty-four hours and less in hot weather.

Another thing is that some foods require a longer time on the fire before being put in the cooker than others do. Cereals may require only ten minutes and tough meat half an hour. It is best to find out something about the length of time the different things require before beginning to use the cooker. Generally speaking, all indigestible things require longer cooking than other things. Oatmeal, beef stew, corned beef and beans need more time than steamed puddings, rice and chicken.

A third thing that should never be forgotten is this: Everything that takes a long time to cook is improved and the process hastened if when the time is half up the pail is removed and reheated without opening it and put back again.

How to Make Cutwork, Which Is Coming In Again.

You must have at least one piece showing a cutwork design if you wish to be up to date in the needlework field. This type of fancy work is being revived very strongly and is used for cushions, runners, scarfs, etc. The work is very simply done, as it calls for nothing more than the buttonhole stitch.

Either side of the portion of material that is to be cut out is first outlined with a running stitch. It is then buttonholed, the purled edge facing inward. When you come to a place where a bar is indicated, stitch over to the other side and return on the same thread by wrapping it around and around your needle; then proceed with the over and over stitch until you come to the next bar, when you repeat. Instead of wrapping the thread around the needle many embroiderers make buttonhole stitches across each bridge so that the bridge will be firm.

How to Perfume Handkerchiefs and Lingerie Without Saturating Them.

A very clever way to perfume handkerchiefs and muslin underwear: Supply your washwoman with a good sized piece of orris root, which she is to throw into the water in which your handkerchiefs are boiling. When they come back to you from ironing they will be redolent of the orris root. Then you can slip them between the folds of a sachet filled with violet powder and they will not lose their fragrance. Violet and orris scent together make a real violet odor.

How to Remove Warts From Children's Hands.

Touch the warts with acetic acid, being very careful not to get the acid on the surrounding skin. Lunar caustic is also recommended as a sure cure for warts. Apply the caustic with a small orange stick. Several applications may be necessary.

How to Clean Leather, Especially a Soiled Handbag.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Feb. 11.—The intercollegiate regatta distance will not be reduced from four to three miles.

Morton H. Bogue, chairman of the committee which conducts the big Poughkeepsie boat race, said today that the efforts of those who seek to reduce the distance will not meet with success.

"It has been proven time and again that the four mile grind does no more harm to an athlete than would a three mile race," said Bogue. "In fact, there are some who are of the opinion that a three miles race would harm the oarsmen the more.

"In a four miles race the oarsmen take it easy until they get near the two and a half mile mork. In some instances they 'lack back' until well along in the third mile. Then they begin to sprint. That means, that the boys are exerting themselves to the utmost only for a mile or so.

"But in a three mile race it would be different. The distance being shorter, there would be a disposition on the part of some of the crews to sprint all the way. The other crews would have to follow. That would mean a race of three miles, each inch of the way rowed at top speed by each crew."

Seven Crews May Race.

There may be six and possibly seven entries in the big rowing classic this year. Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Leland Stanford are certainties. Stanford and Washington, which had an entry in the 1914 regatta, race in April for the Pacific Coast Championship. Should Washington win, it will be invited to enter the Poughkeepsie race, and the chances are that it will accept.

There is a slight chance that Princeton may compete this year. It all depends upon the Tiger rowing authorities. Heretofore, they have refused to enter a crew, claiming their men are not conditioned for a four mile water battle. All the Princeton races are over the Henley regatta distance—a mile and seven-eighths.

However, there is a demand from the undergraduates—and a large portion of the Princeton alumni—for representation in the 1916 blue ribbon aquatic event, and the officials are to make a decision within a month or so.

"If Princeton wants to come in we will be very glad to have them," said Bogue.

Difficulty Over Date.

The Regatta Committee is encountering extreme difficulty in naming a date for the big race. The first choice was Saturday, June 24, the day after the Yale-Harvard race in New London. But it was found that tidal conditions made that date impossible. Saturday, June 17, then was considered until the Pennsylvania authorities made a protest because the Pennsylvania examinations will be held on that day.

Friday, June 30, or Saturday, July 1st, were next considered by the committee, but those dates are objected to by the railroad and steamship officials. They claim that so many of their passenger coaches and steamers will be engaged in Fourth of July excursion service that they could not spare the trains and boats necessary to carry the crowds to Poughkeepsie.

The West Shore railroad further claims that even if it could spare passenger coaches it couldn't conveniently run the observation train because it needs all its tracks for running Fourth of July excursions which begin on June 30.

"Just now we are in a quandary as to the date," said Bogue. "We hope to get the problem solved very soon, but at this time it looks as if a Saturday date is impossible."

TO HOLD TRAIN AT KINGSTON.

Residents of Catskill are pleased at the outcome of correspondence between Former County Clerk George B. Van Valkenburgh and N. A. Sims, general freight and passenger agent of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad Company, by which connections are improved at Kingston. Passengers on U. & D. train No. 18, due in Kingston at 7:25 p. m., have been inconvenienced by the fact that the northbound West Shore train, due at 7:20, pulls out just a few moments before their arrival.

Greene county residents have thus been obliged to wait until the 8:55 train north. As a result of the inquiry, the New York Central railroad has agreed to hold Train 13 for ten minutes upon advices from the conductor of the U. & D. train that he is bringing passengers for points north of Kingston.

HIGH SCHOOL MIDGETS WIN

Those High School Midgets can't be beaten. It matters not how fast the team nor how hard their opponents play. There seems to be only one result and that is a victory for the dwarfs on the high school.

Yesterday afternoon the Miami Five entered the court firmly resolved to get sweet revenge for the last drubbing administered by the Midgets. They did worry the high school lads a little but the final score was 36 to 22 with the Midgets on the larger end of the tally. The Miami group of young tossers is a good bunch of players but they were outclassed by the superior team work of their antagonists.

A squint at the score shows that Diamond and Kirchner of the high school team were the best shots while McGrane and Ryan of the nether team starred for their side. The Midget regiment of athletes was reinforced during the encounter by six reserves while the Miamis had one substitute. This fresh supply of players nearly equal to the "varsity" team in calibre greatly aids the Midgets in winning their games. A bright outlook for future big basketball fives at the high school is due to the fast playing of these little 110 pound players. The score:

High School vs. Saugerties.

The big senior ball tonight at the high school cannot prevent the basketball team from taking a little trip to Saugerties tonight to do battle with the high school team of that village. The basketball floor seems to feel a lot better to their feet than waxed dancing boards.

Of course no one is worrying about the outcome of the game because the Saugertiesians were sadly outclassed the last time they bumped against the locals. The home laddies always are happy when their fair co-eds attend the Saugerties tonight because the feminine population of that pretty little village is much admired by athletic teams hailing from this city. The basketballers solemnly swear that they return no later than Saturday at midnight.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Feb. 11.—The Ever Ready Club enjoyed a delightful sleigh ride to the Red House, Saugerties, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 5, in Jonathan Van Aken's sleigh. The following composed the jolly party: Mrs. Grace Zimmerman, Mrs. Mabel Foote, Mrs. Nettie Zeak, Mrs. Mary Van Leuven, Mrs. Clara Tinnie, the Misses Florence Lapine, Ida Shaw, Wava Stephenson, May Lapine, Mary F. Bishop, Jennie Stephenson, Mary Neal and Lillian Fairbrother. This society is a jolly crowd of ladies and they always have glorious times together. The sleighing was fine and all declare the occasion the event of the season.

A special business meeting of the Dorcas Society will be held on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the Reformed Church. All the members are requested to be present as matters of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Mrs. George Proper and son Robert, who have spent a few days with Mrs. Proper's mother, Mrs. Sarah Schoonmaker in Tillson, have returned to their home on Salem street.

Burns Punched Him.

Hugh Burns of Saugerties was brought to jail Thursday afternoon from Saugerties, where he was found guilty of assault in the third degree by Justice of the Peace William M. Chidester, who committed him to jail for sixty days. Burns engaged in an argument with another man who was accompanying a young woman on the street. When the other man talked back, Burns punched him.

Cordial Invitation.

You are invited to hear and examine the wonderful Mathushek player piano whether you intend to purchase or not. It is different in construction from all others, holds tuning twice as long. Has many important patented features not found in any other instrument, making it the sweetest tone and most durable piano in the world. Sounding board cannot crack, the tuning pins cannot slip. Superfine parlor and baby grands. Invented by Frederick Mathushek in 1849. Piano furnished for the Conservatory of Music. A. E. Thomas, 23 Crown street, Kingston, N. Y. Send for catalogue. 'Phone 1282-M.—Advertisement.

By La Raconteuse.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, Feb. 11.—The entertainment given under the auspices of the social committee of the C. E. Society on Thursday night was well attended and enjoyed by all present. The Scotch songs by Mr. Tinnie of Port Ewen were especially enjoyed, and we hope we may have the pleasure of listening to Mr. Tinnie again. There was a solo by Mildred Olsen, and as it was a Lincoln entertainment Miss Elizabeth Cole gave an appropriate reading. The committee showed great skill in placing the cob webs through the room, and caused much merriment in the tracing of them. Cake and cream was for sale at the close. The proceeds amounted to $11.

At the close of the service on Sunday morning we were pleased to see one of our young men of the Sunday school unite with the church.

There will be a business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society after the prayer meeting on Friday evening.

The Christian Endeavor meeting on Sunday evening was led by Andrew Cockfair.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Haines it was decided to give a supper the first week in March. The date will be given later.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stout attended the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Huber at their home in Rondout on Sunday afternoon.

Frederick Fox and sister, Mrs. Frank Spinneweber, and two children, who were called here on account of the sickness and death of their mother, Mrs. Fox, returned to their home at Hoboken on Sunday.

Mrs. Wallace Boyce, who has been spending the past two weeks at Nyack, N. Y., and Briar Cliff, has returned to her home on Front street.

Frederick Becker, who has been spending a two weeks' vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker, on Second street, has returned to New York.

Margaret Genthner entertained a number of little friends last Saturday evening at her home on Third street in honor of her tenth birthday. The evening was spent playing games. Refreshments were served, after which the little guests left for their homes. She received many pretty presents.

Mrs. George Wolfe and son, Raymond, came from Briar Cliff on Tuesday to see Mrs. Wolfe's mother, Mrs. Stingle, who is critically ill at her home on Front street.

Miss Ruth Marchant was the guest of Mrs. George Shaler at Poughkeepsie on Saturday, and Sunday was the guest of Miss Magdeiena Hyde at Kingston.

THE VLY.

The Vly, Feb. 10.—Mrs. T. C. Olsen of the Spring Creek Valley House returned home from the city a few days ago.

Mrs. George Trowbridge has employment at the Olsen house of this place.

The surprise party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Terwilliger last Saturday night was attended by a large crowd of people, both young and old.

We were all shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Margaret Palen. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.
